FOREWORD TO THE COMBINED EDITIONS OF 1951 AND 1981

Thirty years ago Nellie Pickens Anderson had just completed THE JOHN PICKENS FAMILY history and this book was going to press for the first time. Years of gentle digging was about to be shared with the whole family. But, a family history has no beginning and no end, it doesn't even have a resting place, so no sooner did the record get published than enquiries came concerning the continuation of the record. What was the plan for future generations? This concern grew for twenty years, until at a Pickens' family reunion a committee was chosen to collect new data. Nellie Pickens Anderson was the natural one to turn to for help and she agreed to give general supervision. She felt that the new generations should be the primary movers this time. However, she wrote letters, attended committee meetings and became considerably involved. Data was slow in arriving, people were difficult to trace, the new generations were moving here and there and personal contact was limited. Then in 1977 the updated book was discussed again. There was a problem of how it should be done. Was it to be a rewritten book or a new book of later generations? The plan eventually adopted was to reprint the first book because of its contents and the continued demand for it and to add the updated material with an index to cover both parts of the book. For continuity the identification system (page 58) used in the first book has been applied.

New data is added as a continuation of the material originally presented. Generally we have not repeated data previously given, only enough to help tie the old with the new. Reference is made to the page where the old material is to be found and it is anticipated that there will be much shifting from back to front of the book.

No attempt is being made to add to the early history of the family. We have found that many family histories have been written in the past thirty years and suggest that those who desire more information try their historical libraries. At the McClung Library in Knoxville, Tennessee, a part of the Knoxville Library, there are numerous books of family history: Davis, DeArmond, Creswell, Huffaker, McCroskey, McCammon, to name a few.

Some advertising has been done and some fortunate enquiries have resulted in many family members being located. Two important finds have been made. Margaret Pickens, the fifth child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, had been lost to the family since the reading of her father's will in 1831. Sometime after the publication of THE JOHN PICKENS FAMILY letters began to arrive from her descendants. Included in the Supplement is a record of those descendants as recorded and published by Mrs. Lloyd J. Martin of West Covina, California. Mrs. Edna Hughes, daughter of Mrs. James Clover has also assisted in updating the record of Margaret Pickens. Another child of John and Letitia Pickens, the third, was also lost after the reading of the father's will. His record has not been found, but a double gravestone at Calhoun, Tennessee may be his and if it is adds a bit of information. The double headstone is to Father and Mother. The dates given for John Pickens are December 25, 1788 (the date of John, the son of John and Letitia Pickens, as found in the family Bible, see page 57). On the other side of this double stone is the inscription, Nancy, wife of John Pickens, born September 25, 1792 died June 16, 1860. These headstones were found by Remah Grayson Newman of Ducktown, Tennessee. We are looking forward to some family member coming forward with a complete history of this couple.

Those who are left out of the Supplement are left out because we couldn't find you, or maybe you failed to send in a data sheet. For the next several years we will welcome new material and if sufficient new data arrives will try to assemble another supplement and possibly issue a paper-back booklet.

The Committee for the updated material is:

PREFACE TO THE COMBINED EDITIONS OF 1951 AND 1981

As I reflect on the twenty-eight years since The John Pickens Family was first printed, I rejoice that the material in the book has been of value and interest to so many people. Through the book many new contacts have been established, and I feel there has been a strengthening of the ties of this far-flung group of relatives.

During the years I joined a garden club and the Daughters of the American Revolution, serving as Regent of the Mary Blount Chapter and District Director, as well as continuing to gather volumes of information on many lines of family history. In October of 1971 Bert and I celebrated our fiftieth wedding anniversary with an open house at our home in Rockford. Since Bert's death on May 1, 1975 I have continued to live on at this lovely place where I came as a bride.

For ten years there has been a great deal of interest in publishing an update of the John Pickens family. Much material has been gathered by the representatives of the various family lines and now with the coordinating and editing of Elizabeth Shue that time has come.

In my 90th year I am grateful to the committee for their diligence, and I am glad that I am able to see the printing of this volume, including a reprint of my original book and the connected updated section. It is my hope that some of you will be excited by the results and consequently inspired to record the facts and personalities of today and the future as you live out the years and generations of this family.

My love and good wishes to each one of you.

Thomas McMurry

Thomas McMurry was elected Historian of the Pickens Group in 1924. He held this position until 1941, when due to ill health he could no longer function in this capacity. He collected local history and had in his possession records from Monroe Pickens of South Carolina as well as the John Pickens Bible.

He made short talks at the Reunions, urging an interest in ancestry and reporting on anything he had been able to find in the previous year.

He had a dream of the published record and it is regretted that he could not live to see the completed history.

DEDICATION

Dedicated to the memory of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, who, by their courage in frontier living, left a rich heritage, worthy of emulation by the succeeding generations of their posterity.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

To Thomas McMurry (deceased) for his initial start of the Pickens history; to Monroe Pickens (deceased) for much general information of Pickens people; to Kate Pickens Day for permission to use excerpts from her book of Monroe Pickens family history; to Rev. E. M. Sharp for valuable old Pickens connections; to Judge Houston for Eusebia Cemetery records and other information; and to the host of others, who by their willingness to help in the finding of Pickens history, have greatly aided in the completion of it.

FOREWORD

A printed family history is a boon to the genealogist or to anyone in need of information of a time when records were not so available as now. It is of great value to those who long to know more about their ancestry and surely few can fail to to be interested when the record is down in black and white for their use.

Even in our period of time it was almost too late to write a Pickens history. Another generation would have been hopelessly lost in trying to figure it all out. A splendid Pickens history, collected by Monroe Pickens (deceased) of Greenville, South Carolina and compiled and published by Kate Pickens Day of Easley, South Carolina, is just off the press. It, together with our history furnish, as far as I can ascertain, the only printed collections of Pickens information. It is to be hoped that others of the name from various States of the Union will write their histories. A collection of such family records would be most interesting and valuable.

The object of this history has been to set down correct facts in as far as I have been able to obtain them and to put our record in concise form so that with some study, even the younger members of the Pickens line may become quite well acquainted with others of their kin.

In the history I have included not only matter concerning Pickens people with whom we are directly connected; but also brief histories of other families of special interest to the various lines which make up our group. Also articles and pictures that lend atmosphere and color to the given material.

In the preparation of this book I have sensed the nearness of the myriads who lived before us and have been stirred beyond expression by the wonderful letters and the individual contacts I have made. The work has been arduous and at times discouraging but it has also been a thrilling adventure and a worth while hobby. Your response to my exacting inquiries has been most heartening. Without the help of all of you this history would not have been possible.

It is with a sense of relief and a certain amount of satisfaction that I turn in this material for publication and yet wth some misgivings. There will be errors, I'm sure, for which none will be more regretful than I and there are some facts which so far have remained unobtainable. But much information has been ferreted out and I hope the book meets with your approval and that you will become so familiar with the descendants of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens that you will feel something of the intimate kinship with each one as I who am absolutely steeped with it, feel.

With awesome reverence for our departed ones and with a hearty greeting to all the living, I send in this completed history for your interest and pleasure.

Respectfully,

Nellie Pickens Anderson

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE COVENANTERS

Covenanter is a term used by some historians as synonomous in meaning with a person of Scotch-Irish Stock. Oliver P. Temple of Knoxville, Tennessee, published a history in 1899, entitled "East Tennessee and the Civil War." It includes some interesting and valuable information concerning the type of the Tennessee immigrant. He quotes from other authors and I shall give these references as found in his book.

"In the first place, it should be noticed that they were not socially poor peasants, such as Ireland has contributed to America in later days. Among them were wealthy yeomen, and in their ranks were the most intelligent of Irish manufacturers. Nor were they children of ignorance. Although their schools had been closed by law (in Ireland), they had all found means of private instruction in the common branches; while those desirous of a higher education — and they were numerous — had made their way to the Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow. When they came to America, these Scotch-Irishmen were not only among the most industrious and virtuous, but they were, like the early settlers of New England the best educated, of the English speaking race."[1]

Theodore Roosevelt says of these early settlers; "As in Western Virginia, the first settlers came, for the most part, from Pennsylvania; so, in turn, in what was then Western North Carolina and is now Eastern Tennessee, the first settlers came mainly from Virginia, and, indeed, in great part, from the same Pennsylvania stock."[2]

The pioneers "that had settled in Virginia, were a part of the Covenanter race which had immigrated from Ireland in such numbers between the years 1728 and 1775 and had landed in Philadelphia. Many of them passed over into Virginia, and found homes in the beautiful valley of Virginia, or the Shenandoah. Finally, many of them crossed the Blue Ridge and Alleghenies, and settled on the Holston and the Watauga. These formed a part, possibly the larger part, of the first settlers of Tennessee." (Temple).

Mr. Temple says we are not left in doubt as to "who they were, or as to their moral standing and intellectual attainments and quotes from a manuscript written by Hon. David Campbell, a son of "one of the Holston pioneers giving an account of the early settlers on the Holston, in Southwest Virginia." "The settlers on the Lower Holston, in Tennessee, were but an overflow of the same race of men from the Upper Holston." (Temple).

The following quotation from Campbell is of special significance to our history since our John and Letitia Hannah Pickens came from the Holston in Virginia to Tennessee. Mr. Campbell says: "The first settlers on the Holston River were a remarkable race of men for their intelligence, enterprise and hardy adventure. The greater portion of them had emigrated from the counties of Botetourt, Augusta and Frederick and other (counties) along the same valley, and from the upper counties of Maryland and Pennsylvania; were mostly descendents of Irish stock (Scotch-Irish), and generally, where they had religious opinions were Presbyterians. A very large proportion were religious and many were members of the church."[2]

THE MEANING OF A NAME

It is said that the hereditary surname as we know it dates back to a period of only about nine hundred years. Previous to that time persons were called by their given names. The origin of surnames stemmed from various beginnings as from personal characteristics as Roger Little from a person of small size or black-haired William who became William Black. Also the trades furnished names as Currier, who was a dresser of skins and Webster who was a weaver. About the time of Edward V a law was passed compelling certain Irish outlaws to adopt a surname and in the beginning of the nineteenth century a similar decree compelled Jews in Germany and Austria to add a German surname to their single names.

Thus a variety of ways and innumerable differences of spelling names developed. It is said that Shakespeare's name is found in twenty-seven different forms, and the majority of English and Anglo-American surnames have, in their history, appeared in four to a dozen or more variant spellings.

The Pickens name is no exception to this rule as from Media Research we have: "The name Pickens is believed by some authorities to have been a variant of the ancient Saxon name of Piggin or Piggins, which was probably derived from a nickname for Richard. Other authorities claim, however, that it was of Scotch origin and was first used wthout the final s. At any rate the name is found in the ancient British records in the various forms of Piggin, Piggins, Piggings, Pickyngs, Pickin, Pickins and Pickens," in the form as we now use it. Another writer thinks it is derived from the French "Picon."

However the name started or whatever changes it has undergone, the important thing is what it has come to mean to the bearer of the name. Again Media Research says: "Those Americans who possess old and honored names— who trace the history of their surnames back to sturdy immigrant ancestors, across the seas, and into the dim mists of antiquity — may be rightfully proud of their heritage. While the name in its origin, may seem ingenious, humble, surprising, or matter-of-fact, its significance today lies not in a literal interpretation of its original meaning but in the many things that have happened to it since it first came into use. In the beginning it was only a word, a convenient label to distinguish one John from his neighbor who lived across the field.

But soon it established itself as a part of the bearer's individuality; and as it passed to his children, his children's children, and their children, it became the symbol not of one man but of a family and all that that family stood for. Handed down from generation to generation, it grew inseparably associated with the achievement, the tradition and the prestige of the family. Like the coat of arms — that vivid symbolization of the name which warrior ancestors bore in battle — the name itself, borne through every event in a man's life and through the lives of scores of his progenitors, became the badge of family honor — the "good name" to be proud of, to protect, and to fight for if need be. As the worthy deeds of the marching generations have given it dignity and splendor, it has become an institution, a family rallying cry, and the most treasured possession of those who bear it.

OUR HERITAGE

Some people show scant interest in their ancestors. Others, grasping the significance of a line of descent, appreciate all possible knowledge of their forebears. Evan L. Reed says that "according to Sir Francis Galton, each parent contributes about one-fourth of a child's heritage, the grandparents one-sixteenth and so on." In the light of such definite connection between generations of people, a line of ancestry assumes a role of some importance.

In the Mormon faith all families are taught the religious necessity of "seeking after their dead." A part of their belief is said to be that the family will be a unit in the future paradise and living children "have a distinct obligation to seek the records of their progenitors."

In Volume 18 Virginia Magazine of History and Biography on page 240 a reference is made to such names as Washington, Lee, Reade, Lewis and Pickens as being of royal or noble ancestry. Media Research says that "Families of the Pickens name were for the most part of the landed gentry and yeomanry of Great Britain." Be that as it may, the fact that most of us, at least, have had to work with our hands and struggle for any success or attainment that have been ours, is the most noble thing that can be said about us.

Media Research also says: "Descendants of the Pickens family in America have spread to practically every State in the Union and have aided as much in the growth of the country as their ancestors aided in the founding of the Nation. They have been noted for their energy, industry, integrity, piety, perseverance, fortitude, resourcefulness, initiative, patience, loyalty and courage." The inheritance of only a few of these qualities would make for above average living.

We do not base our claim to a noble ancestry upon any ideas of a false or snobbish character. We do claim and rightfully so, as a perusal of the record will show that the various generations of the Pickens family have lived, for the most part, quite creditable lives. In the variety of the occupations represented in our record, we find ability, ingenuity, tenacity of purpose, leadership and withal a desire to be independent and to serve one's fellowman. One senses also that a great courage in meeting life's difficulties has prevailed through the succeeding generations.

In wars, throughout out Nation's history, our clan has done nobly. Many have served, some with their lives, and all with honor and loyalty, in the several wars with which we have been connected, including our present international difficulties.

In the church and community the country over, the influence of our family has been felt. Often the service has been quite unheralded but the faithfulness and desire have been there and the family imprint has been for good. Yes, we have a noble ancestry; one of courage, honesty, integrity and religious fidelity. With the inspiration of such a heritage we dare not live less nobly.

THE ERA OF THE PIONEER

No attempt is made to give an account of a strictly historical background, but feel that both from the interest of the material itself and from its connection with the days of our ancestors, some findings of the early life of our country might be helpful in a better understanding of the time in which they lived.

In view of the hardships endured by the pioneers of our Tennessee civilization, one has a natural curiosity as to why they ventured away from the seemingly likable locations of Virginia and the Carolinas to a new and unknown country.

Those who first blazed the trail were trappers, explorers and hunters. Soon, as early as 1785 or before, permanent settlers were coming to the Eusebia section. Many came of their own volition; others coming to visit relatives, remained to stay. Perhaps the lure of the unknown and a kindred Gypsy feeling of adventure, influenced all. Exiles from oppression, overjoyed with a chance to roam at will, they were in a state of unrest, easily influenced by the stories of opportunity on the other side of the mountain.

Their natural desires were further aroused by the fact that the newly opened territory in our section, made possible the claiming of land for a nominal sum of money, sometimes for twelve and one-half cents an acre. This was enough of an urge for a pastoral people. So the venturesome pioneers sallied forth and came to the present part of Blount County, commonly called the Eusebia section.

Their trek was not an easy one. At first there were only trails or traces made by the Indians, or by animals of the forest. It is said a single Indian trail was the only entrance to the eastern border of Tennessee for many years. It is said also that cattle, hogs, sheep, turkeys and even slaves were driven on foot along the trail to a market to be sold.

Increased usage of Indian trails by the early immigrants caused the Indians to object to such usage. At Monterey, Tennessee, a band of Indians demanded that the white people pay toll for the use of their trail. Accordingly a meeting of the Chiefs was called by Gov. Blount at which time the Indians were offered $1,000 per year for the use of their trails.

Trails were so often beset with danger that they were guarded by State militia, who met the band of immigrants and escorted them to their destination. Selden Nelson says that "the great Indian Warpath passes the southern section of the Eusebia settlement about one mile from the church and this community was evidently known twenty-five years before the birth of Knoxville. No doubt some of the whites who met their death at Fort Loudon passed along this trail in 1756."

Roads came into being gradually, but slowly. About 1777 Washington County, embracing what is now the State of Tennessee, was formed from Washington District by the general assembly of North Carolina. Shortly thereafter a road was marked out "from the court house of Washington County into the county of Burke." In 1784 immigrants could travel by a wagon road.

At the first meeting of the Court of Knox County, Tennessee, July 16, 1792 it was decided to open several roads. A Post road from Abingdon, Va., to Knoxville was established by an Act of Congress, May 8, 1794. The territorial Assembly made provisions to aid transportation between East Tennessee and the Cumberland settlements, by way of Knoxville. On July 31, 1795 the Gazette announced that this "waggon road" was now opened. Rev. E. M. Sharp spoke of the story of one John Pickens who, traveling the road in an early day, was frightened by the knowledge that Indians were near and jumped over a wagon. He wondered if it could have been our John. Well, maybe so, I think it was worth a try, don't you?

The river was much used in the early days of exploration. The Watauga settlers used the Tennessee and Holston Rivers in various dealings with the Indians. About 1798 or 1799, two boats carrying five tons each, from the South Fork of Holston, in Virginia, a distance estimated by water above three hundred miles, arrived at Knoxville, Tennessee. The cargo consisted of flour, salt and whiskey. The Gazette of January 23, 1795 announced by John McFarlan that his two boats of "twenty-five and fifteen tons burden respectively, would be ready to sail for New Orleans by the 1st of March next, (the waters answering)." One of the first acts of the first Knox County Court was to grant a franchise to Alexander Cunningham to operate a ferry across the river from Knoxville to what is now South Knoxville.

In 1786 settlers were around Eusebia in sufficient numbers to organize that church. Dr. Wilson in an address at the 1924 homecoming of Eusebia Church spoke of the contemporary history at the time of the founding of the church and said, "Only ten years had elapsed since the declaration of independence, and only three years since the close of the Revolutionary war; while ten more years were to go by before a State of Tennessee was to be organized. It was three years before the Constitution of the United States was inaugurated. It was three years before the new nation chose its first President, George Washington. It was while the Articles of Confederation were still in force, if we may use such a word of so feeble a method of government."

To this might be added that Sevier County was formed September 3, 1791, Knox County, June 11, 1792, and Blount County, July, 1795. The University of Tennessee (Blount College) was established September 10, 1794 and Maryville College in 1819. The Knoxville Gazette was printing its pages in 1792. The first post office was established at Knoxville in November, 1794 with George Roulstone as postmaster. The seal of Tennessee was engraved April 25, 1797.

The early settlers in our section must have experienced some difficulties in winters. Ramsey's Annals has this to say: "The winter of 1796-97 is chronicled as the coldest ever experienced by the oldest inhabitant. On the evening of th 22nd of December, the river was entirely free from ice. On the morning of the 23rd, the ice was moving down the river in great quantities; on the 24th the river was frozen over and was crossed by horsemen upon the ice. On the 25th, a Christmas dinner was given upon the ice, by the Federal officers at Tellico Block-house, to a large company of gentlemen and ladies." The location of the Block-house was in Monroe County, some twenty-five miles south of the Pickens habitation in Blount County, but judging from the cool air which comes from the mountains to the Eusebia section, I can feel certain that the winter there was also severe.

Many interesting facts are found about the use of money or substitutes for it, in the early history of our country. Money was scarce in colonial times and often unknown in business transactions. In 1631 in Massachusetts it was ordered that corn should pass for the payment of all debts at the usual rate for which it was sold. Also in 1656, "musket balls, full bore, were legal tender." In 1680 the town of Hilham paid its taxes in milk-pails. In Virginia, in the days of 1632, tobacco was the standard of value. In 1688 a stipend of sixteen thousand pounds of tobacco was given by law to each clergyman.

In North Carolina in 1722, debts and rents were generally made payable in hides, tallow, furs or other products of the country. The Franklin Legislature passed an act about 1785 concerning the payment of land and poll taxes with various articles such as, good flax, linen, linsey, beaver and otter skins, bacon, clean beeswax, good distilled rye whiskey, good peach or apple brandy, good country-made sugar, etc. About the same time Davidson County passed an act which read: "For the better furnishings of troops . . . that one-fourth of the tax of this county be paid in corn, two-fourths in beef, pork, etc., one-eighth in salt and one-eighth in money."

I found a notation that when Sam Houston taught school in Blount County, Tennessee, when eighteen years old, (the term was for one year, probably a three month school term), the pay was "eight dollars per year for tuition; one-third payable in cash, one-third in corn and one-third in domestic cotton cloth." It was a general custom of the early days to pay for labor with labor and often to swap the commodity one possessed for a different one owned by another. A certain portion of flour or meal paid for the grinding, a part of the timber was left in payment for the sawed lumber, produce was swapped in the few needs of the settlers for the scanty supplies in the store and so on indefinitely. Suffice it to say that the system of barter served a real need in the era of the early beginnings of our people.

Some interesting notations are found about the necessary commodity, salt. It appears that salt was brought in the earliest days on pack-horses from Augusta and Richmond and sold for the price of ten dollars a bushel. So scarce was this commodity that the "salt gourd in every cabin was considered a treasure." The General Assembly of Tennessee in 1789 authorized acts which enabled the courts to sell several salt "licks" at which salt could be manufactured. In the Gazette at Knoxville, November 12, 1824, "200 wagons are wanted to haul salt from Goose Creek Salt Works, for which the same price will be given in cash as is now paid for hauling from King's Salt Works." In this issue cheap salt was also advertised at one dollar per bushel.

I had access to an old store record of Nathaniel Cowan who had the first store in Knoxville around 1792. A perusal of the items sold was a revelation as compared to the wonder stores of the present age. There was an occasional sale of such items as 3 yards of home-made linen, ninety cents; 2 yards calico, 1 yard purple "ribband" and Corduroy at $1.76. Thread was sold in skeins and by ounces. A man named Christian bought a gallon of whiskey and two cloaks.

Mention is made of a few books; a hymn book, a Bible, a Testament, a Geography at nine dollars and three books of Essays on Old Maids. Other items include a case of pistols, a few close (clothes) brushes, a parlour looking glass, several wool hats, a powder horn, duck oven, candle snuffers, one large kettle and two pot-hooks; one oil-cloth carpet for ten cents, a sickle and scythe, a quire of paper, two sticks of sealing wax, six papers of ink powder, three lasts and twelve pounds of sole leather.

Of historical interest are the entries in this book to Capt. John Chisholm and his wife on August 15, 1799. They had opened the first tavern in Knoxville in 1792. Among their purchases were, a pen knife, some linen and calico, one-half pound of imperial tea, five pounds of sugar, four pounds of coffee, one coffee pot and one coffee mill.

Another entry lists purchases made from January 23 to February 10, 1801 to Governor William Blount. The items include, one floor brush, four window bolts, two cupboard locks and four bunches of nails; a desk and book case, oil cloth carpet, citching (kitchen) furniture and a tea-kettle. These items evidently were for use in his home, the Blount Mansion at Knoxville, which has been restored and now treasured as a museum. It is said to be the oldest frame house built west of the Allegheny Mountains. There is also mentioned an unsettled obligation of August 5, 1799 of a "wagoning" expense against William Blount for work done in hauling three loads of wood and flour to South Carolina.

Excerpts from the Knoxville Register November 14, 1823, give interesting glimpses into the early period. There were several notices of escaped slaves; one skinflint offers a reward of "6 cents to any person who will deliver to me a bound negro boy. The above reward will be given but no thanks."

Hats of 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 4th qualities could be purchased and notices were given that cash would be paid for musk-rat and good otter skins.

Boot and shoe manufacturing was in progress in 1825 and one advertisement on shoes is of special interest as: "Indian rubber shoes — lately imported in Philadelphia; shoes that are comfortable and useful; females are beginning to exhibit a little more prudence in their winter apparel and it is very likely that bills of mortality would be most happily lessened were there Gum Elastic shoes substituted for the fashionable sandals now in use."

A notice was given of a fulling mill — "as healthy as any in the State." And in regard to health the statement was made that there was an epidemic of influenza, which had affected 30,000 people. A treatment was suggested as "1 ounce of castor oil and the same quantity of turpentine mixed and swallowed at a draught gives most immediate relief." Closely connected with bodily relief is this proverb for success: "Go not to your doctor for every ill, not to your lawyer for every quarrel nor to your bottle for every thirst."

A teacher was wanted in August, 1824 in McMinn County and "any one who can come well recommended will meet with employment probably for 5 years." Notice of a private school operated by a Mrs. Anderson at Knoxville appeared in various copies of the Register and the curriculum was quite a staggering one. It included, Writing, the rudiments of the English Language, Arithmetic, Geography, History, Natural Philosophy, Drawing, Tambourining, Embroidery and all kinds of ornamental work." All boarding students were expected to board with the teacher. The tuition for 1823 was $100 and board $15. The term was from March to November.

Many other interesting facts about the early days could be mentioned; the foregoing is sufficient to give color to the time our ancestors lived. When John Pickens, our pioneer ancestor settled on his Blount County farm, it became his permanent home. He lived the rugged life of his frontier neighbors, meeting hardships with courage and building for a better day in his community and for the furtherance of our American way of life.

(Part of the material for the foregoing article was secured from "The Founding of Knoxville"—by Stanley J. Folmsbee Ph.D. and Lucile Deaderick, Ramsey's Annals, and various other periodicals, etc.)

MILITARY HISTORY

REVOLUTIONARY PERIOD

Background material for family history would not be complete without mention of some of the wars of earlier days. In the Revolutionary period the Pickens family was well represented. A complete list of participants is impossible both on account of the lack of proven participation and also because of the lack of knowledge of many names in our group who were early patriots.

Media Research lists names of Pickens men in the Revolution as: "John, George, Corporal James, Alexander, Samuel and William of Massachusetts; William and Corporal Samuel of Rhode Island; Brigadier-General Andrew Pickens of South Carolina and numerous others."

There were several Pickens men in wars in the early days of our country in Virginia and the Carolinas aside from the General Andrew above mentioned. Among them were: Captain Joseph Pickens, Captain John Pickens, Captain Robert Pickens, William Pickens, another Andrew Pickens, another William Pickens and Samuel Pickens.

Men of the early days were very courageous but also believed in fair play. An interesting example is found in the historic document of December, 1787, which was signed by James and John Pickens of upper East Tennessee and by citizens of Blount county as well as by a host from other sections. It is a request from the "inhabitants of the Western Country, to the Honorable Assembly of North Carolina now sitting" and concerned the desire of a "new government (Tennessee) which would greatly contribute to our welfare and convenience and that the same could not militate against your interest and future welfare as a government. We hope that having settled west of the Appalachian Mountains ought not to deprive us of the natural advantages designed by the bountiful hand of Providence for the convenience and comfort of all those who have spirit and sagacity enough to seek after them." There is a clause of reminder of how well the patriots in the new Tennessee had fought for our country with great loss of life and fortunes and the conclusion that, "we therefore humbly conceive you will liberally think that it will be nothing more than paying a debt in full to us for only to grant what God, Nature, and our locality entitles us to receive." (State Records of North Carolina by Clark.)

THE CIVIL WAR PERIOD

The Civil War of 1860-65 was one of stress, strain, hardship and division of family allegiance not easily imagined or understood by those of this era, removed by so many years from the time of the conflict. Family division in this war greatly affected the Pickens family. Those of the Carolinas were almost solid for the Confederacy, while those of the Pickens name and kindred names here were almost wholly in sympathy with the Union cause.

Major McTeer in his Autobiography wrote of this section in regard to the enlistment of Civil War soldiers in this manner: "From Little River to the Sevier County line and from Bays Mountain to Chilhowee, there is a territory of eight square miles. It was sparsely settled in those days but had sent 125 soldiers to the Union Army, of whom 45 never returned. Ten had joined the Confederacy and six of them were lost."

Major McTeer also wrote some interesting facts of his experiences in the service. He spoke of a courier line and said, it was established by placing a corporal or sergeant with four or five men at stations, some mile or two apart, between Nashville and Murfreesboro. They were required to have a man constantly in readiness with his horse saddled and ready to mount, while he was armed and equipped. The sender of a message to be sent from the end of the line, would have on the letter the address of the destination, and the urgency of the message was denoted by such words as run, gallop, trot, walk, etc. Major McTeer also wrote of an interesting invention. It was called Armstrong's Mill, and was made by punching holes in half of a canteen with the point of a bayonet to form a grater. The soldiers would put this grater in the haversack and as they marched along would gather ears of corn from a field and grate the kernels as they rode. He said the grating was done by so many and so vigorously that a din was created which could be easily heard. The corn was a little past the roasting stage and produced a coarse meal which was considered very good.

The 3rd Tennessee Calvary was begun in the Fall of 1862 and its roster contained among other East Tennesseans, several names found in our history and perhaps several that I do not know about. The calvary was started by William C. Pickens of Sevier County who later became Colonel. In Company A of this cavalry unit (mostly from Blount and Sevier counties), Samuel Wiley Pickens was Major and in this and other companies were: Major Ben Cunningham, Lt .Thomas M. Pickens, Samuel and William Pickens, 2nd Lt. William C. McCammon, Captain Oliver P. McCammon, Alexander McCammon and Thomas McCammon.

This third Tennessee Cavalry had a reunion at Maryville, Tennessee, Oct. 30, 1899. From a clipping, I find that the meeting was held at the Blount County Court House and that it was well-filled. Rev. Caleb Rule, who was chaplain of the Sultana Survivors Association for a number of years, opened the meeting with prayer. Addresses were given by several men who were well known in this section, part of them members of our Pickens group namely, Col. John B. Minnis, Major Will A. McTeer, Major Ben Cunningham, Rev. Caleb Rule and O. P. McCammon.

Col. Minnis spoke of the trials of reaching the Union lines at the time of enlistment; Major McTeer gave some personal experiences of the siege of Cumberland Gap; Major Cunningham told of the fall of Sulphur Trestle; Rev. Rule told the story of the Sultana disaster and O. P. McCammon told of the retreat from Cumberland Gap, the short rations, the perils of travel and "drinking from the same washpan" and the arrival on the Ohio river.

Resolutions were read by the Com. Col. John B. Minnis, Captain S. T. Harris and Samuel Pickens. Officers elected were Will A. McTeer, President and Ben Cunningham, Secretary. It was decided to meet September 25, 1890 on the anniversary of the fall of Sulphur Trestle and the place was to be "South America," Knox County, Tennessee.

THE SULTANA DISASTER

Pertinent to mention of the Civil War period is the incident of the Sultana disaster. I can perhaps be pardoned for a very deep interest in this explosion, since my father, Samuel Pickens was aboard and his brother William Pickens lost his life at the time of this fateful occurrence. But others of our history are closely connected by ties of kinship or friendship to the comrades of the Sultana. For this reason and because it was a marine disaster of such magnitude and yet of little record, a short history of the occurrence is included in these brief references to War Periods.

On April 27, 1865 occurred one of the greatest marine disasters of history. The loss of life is officially listed as 1,400, while it was the general belief of the survivors that owing to incomplete records 1700 perished. However, the 1400 loss places the Sultana fatalities as 250 above those of the Lusitania and only 117 short of the number lost on the Titanic.

The Sultana was a regular St. Louis and New Orleans packet. At Vicksburg, Miss., "1,965 federal soldiers and 35 officers just released from the rebel prisons at Cahaba, Ala., Macon and Andersonville, Ga., were taken on board. These soldiers belonged to the States of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia and were on their way to Camp Chase, near Columbus, Ohio, to be discharged from the army." Besides these there were some 200 passengers and members of the crew and two companies of infantry under arms, making a grand total of 2,300 souls on board.

About two o'clock in the morning of the 27th of April, when the boat was near Tagleman's Landing, about eight miles above Memphis, there was a terrible explosion. The cabin and hurricane deck was divided and many passengers hurled to their death. Others were killed outright or injured by escaping steam. The cabins burst into flame and in a short while the boat sank. The water was then filled with struggling men.

The natural width of the Mississippi had been increased by flood and there was small chance of escape. Many could not swim; others who might have saved themselves were lost by the frenzied excitement of their comrades. The dense darkness of the night, the icy waters, the weak condition of the soldiers, the wide expanse of water all contributed to the almost futile escape of the passengers. Many who survived received grave injuries and all carried with them the indelible memory of the anguish and torture of that night.

Many and varied were the stories of escape. Some swam long distances, others managed to reach bushes where they clung until rescued; many floated upon anything within reach, a candle box, barrel, bale of hay, trough, ladder or driftwood or pieces of wreckage from the boat.

No reason has been found for the omission of this tragedy in historical textbooks. At least it is not in books of general usage. It is listed in Marine disasters and in 1892 a book about the Sultana and containing reminiscences of the survivors was published by Rev. C. D. Berry, himself a survivor. The record is most valuable but its distribution was limited to the survivors, hence knowledge of this disaster is confined mostly to relatives of Sultana survivors and to others who through the years have had close contact with the event through the medium of the survivor's meetings. Material for this article has been taken from the Rev. C. D. Berry book and gleaned from personal stories of the survivors.

For many years, almost from the time of the disaster, the Sultana survivors of East Tennessee maintained a memorial organization which met annually upon the 27th of April, the date of the disaster. Patriotic addresses were made, personal experiences retold, and tribute paid to the memory of dead comrades. This observance ceased only with the death of the last member of the organization in 1931. Similar organizations existed in Ohio and perhaps elsewhere.

An editorial of a Knoxville newspaper about the time of the last Survivor's meeting commented thus: "A strange faithfulness, this seems, a lifelong cherishing of tragic escape, with battle and prison as background to the picture, and the passing of one survivor after another from the yearly group by way of marking the years. A distinction futilly clung to, it would seem, thus to be able to stamp a lifetime with such memories, yet picturesque, and by some indefinable essence, admirable."

At Mount Olive Cemetery, near Knoxville, Tennessee a monument was erected to the memory of 365 Tennessee soldiers who were aboard the Sultana. This monument was made possible through the efforts of Mr. J. H. Simpson, himself a survivor. On one side of the monument is engraved a replica of the Sultana made from a picture taken some hours before the explosion of the boat. On both sides of the monument the names of the Tennessee soldiers are engraved.

This monument was dedicated July 4, 1916. It was unveiled by two widows of Sultana survivors, Mrs. Samuel Pickens and Mrs. J. M. Phelps. Greetings were given by a member of the Ohio Sultana Survivors Association and other addresses were made. The monument is unique as the sole one of its kind in the south and perhaps elsewhere. It is a silent tribute to the sacrifice of those soldiers who by accident gave still more of service to their country. It is a visible means of record to those who often see it and to those who, hearing about it, make a special effort to see this monument to the Sultana veterans.

EUSEBIA CHURCH

Eusebia Church came into being in the very early days of pioneer settlement. It was the religious center for a large radius of people. As the church home of our earliest ancestors it has been of great interest since its founding. Major Will A. McTeer has written of the early history of the Eusebia Church which was organized by Rev. Archibald Scott in 1786. It appears that the first services were held under the shade of a large Beech tree that stood near the spring. Traveling ministers conducted the services until 1792. Rev. Gideon Blackburn was the first minister who is known to have been in charge and he was pastor from 1794 to 1810.

There is no record as to when the first church was built. It is said to have been of logs. With an increased congregation an addition of a shed was made which was framed and weather-boarded. This shed was much in use in the days of camp meetings. About thirty feet from this shed there were cottages arranged in regular order, then called "camps", in which the families of the worshippers would live during the camp meetings. Families would provide bunks with straw or hay, so there would be plenty of sleeping room for the family and for strangers and invited guests. Plenty of provisions were brought; a week or more would be given to worship, both day and night.

A second house of worship was erected after some years which is said to have had frame weather-boarding. Some years later a frame church more commodious and of pleasing appearance was built. It stood until the year 1935 when it was replaced by the present modern brick edifice.

It is hard to estimate the good which has been done through the medium of this church. From the early days when a watchful eye had to be kept for Indians until the present time of ease of worship it has been a monument of piety to those who loved God and His House.

Dr. Samuel Tyndale Wilson, long time President of Maryville College made an address at the 1924 Homecoming at Eusebia Church. He said that "Eusebia" means reverence toward God, piety, religion. He spoke of the fight against King James and Roman Catholocism by Scotch-Irishmen and said that in no community of the United States is the Scotch-Irish origin of the citizenship more evident in names, traditions, religion, and even features than in the Eusebia neighborhood.

Throughout the years of its establishment Eusebia Church has served well the generations of those who have worshipped within its doors. Today it still stands as a monument to the efforts of those devotees of other days and to the loyalty and determination of the present supporters, many of whom are descendants of the pioneer founders.

EUSEBIA CEMETERY

From some records of Major Will A. McTeer, former resident and prominent lawyer of Maryville, Tennessee, and a descendant of a pioneer of Eusebia Church, I found some information concerning the beginning of the Eusebia Cemetery.

It seems that an unidentified woman of the earliest settlers was among the first to be buried in the Cemetery. The first definite date of the establishment of the cemetery was gained from the date on the stone of Joseph Bogle who died in 1790. An inscription also shows that Andrew Bogle was the first owner of the lands. Various members of the Bogle family have lived at or near the church site. Land for both the church and cemetery was given by a Bogle. It may be that persons whose identity are now unknown were buried in the Eusebia cemetery shortly after the founding of the church in 1786.

From the earliest decade to the present day Eusebia Cemetery has been a hallowed place to the people of a large area. In 1930 an Association was formed and the cemetery was rearranged, beautified and arrangements made for perpetual upkeep so that it became known as one of the best country cemeteries in the region.

In 1937 through the instrumentality of Judge S. O. Houston of Knoxville, the graves of Eusebia Cemetery were numbered by means of the W.P.A. The count showed a total of 893 marked with field stones, 302 unmarked graves and grave stones with 500 inscriptions.

In one corner of this cemetery lie 26 known Pickens dead. This number with some unmarked graves and scores of others, related by ties of kinship and intermarriage, make the Eusebia cemetery along with the Eusebia Church, a place of great pull for a host of people. Descendants of the Eusebia section, though far removed from the vicinity, revere the combined places of church and cemetery with a tender solemnity not easily expressed but poignantly felt.

PRE-AMERICAN PICKENS PEOPLE

An Andrew Pickens was a tailor in Edinburgh in 1621 and Archibald Picken was heir of Andrew Picken, merchant of Burgess of Edinburgh 1624. Also John Pikkan was a merchant in Kirktown in 1682 (Corsehill) and Thomas Picken, a rebel in Keblain paroch Kentyre 1685. (Commons pl.) (Surnames of Scotland—Black).

In Scotland, Andrew Picken, a Scottish writer of fiction was born at Parsley in 1788 and died in 1883. One of his best known and most popular books was "The Dominies Legacy." Joanna Belfrage Picken, daughter of Ebenezer Picken was born at Edinburgh, Scotland, May 1798. She was called the "Poet of Parsley." Andrew Belfrage Picken, son of Ebenezer Picken, was born November, 1808. He was a poet of note. (Kate Pickens Day History.)

Among the earlier records of the name of Pickens in England were those of Roger Pickyn of County Norfolk in 1386, Anthony Pickens of Worchestershire about 1574 and Anthony Piggin or Pickin of London, who married Sarah Ireland in 1614. (Media Research). Roger Pickyn was a rector in 1386 of Billingsford, England and Anthony Picken, in Oxford University as early as 1575. (Kate Pickens Day History).

There is also a record in the Abridged Compendium of American Genealogy of Andre (Pickon) Pickens, a Hugenot, who escaped from France, thence to Scotland, then went to Ireland, from whence his sons, Andrew and Robert Pike Pickens, came to Paxton, Pa.

GENERAL INFORMATION OF PICKENS PEOPLE

References to various older Pickens people are found in the records of Augusta and other Virginia County histories. In 1768 Abraham Pickens had a wife whose maiden name was Ann Oliver; land was granted to a James Pickens on a Marsh and Creek of Ashley River; a Robert Pickens lived in Augusta County about 1745. In the taxes of 1782 there was a John Pickens in Cumberland County, Virginia with a wife and five children under sixteen years of age. A Sam Pickens with two in the family in Frederick County, Thomas Pickings in Montgomery County and John Pickens in Rockbridge county.

THOMAS PICKENS was a witness to a deed November 10, 1757, a juror in Augusta County in 1767 and on page 911 of the Annals of Southwest Virginia there is a record of a land sale on Sept. 2, 1799 from THOMAS PICKENS, and wife, SARAH PICKENS to Wm. Preston. There were 900 acres, the cost 560 pounds and the location at Thorn Spring on New River. In Montgomery County, Virginia there is a record of a THOMAS PICKENS who lived there in 1799 and as late as 1794; his wife was SARAH PICKENS; THOMAS PICKENS and wife SARAH PICKENS sold 320 acres of land on White Glade, Montgomery County, Virginia.

On page 764 of the same Annals, Thomas Pickens presented to the Montgomery County Court a bill for two blankets for the use of the Militia of that country, which were never returned.

On page 784, March 23, 1785, Thomas Pickens was on the jury of this county as well as being appointed overseer of a road "from Little W. Creek Mountain to the crossing at John Scott's land."

In Marriage Licenses by Clemens of North and South Carolina I found that in Orangeburg, South Carolina, Martha Pickings married Jonathan Brimstone in 1748; Ann Pickings married Joseph Markis July 19, 1750; N. P. Pickings married George Flutt in 1748 and Samuel Pickings married N. Patton in 1748.

ALEXANDER PICKENS lived in Highland County, South Carolina. His wife's name was Sarah. His home was at the foot of a mountain, one mile south of McD., and his spring is still called by his name. At this place an Alexander (married Margaret Wiley 1809); Rachel (married John Given, 1811) and Mary (married William Callahan 1812 and then married John Given). (History of Highland County, Va.)

It appears that one or more Pickens men left the early settlement of Pickens people in Virginia or the Carolinas and went west. One of them is said to have been a Tory. At any rate there are quite a few Indian descendents of the Pickens family.

Rev. Sharp writes about some part Indian Pickens of Leake Co., Miss., of about 1840. When that land was purchased from the Choctaw Indians in 1830 and they were given pick and choice of some of the finest land of the county, they took up four or five sections of rich land, and later about 1845, sold it out for a handsome price and moved to Oklahoma with the rest of the Indians. He says that to all intents and purposes they are whites and the fact is that some of the finest people of Oklahoma are of such Indian Stock. He speaks also of an Edmund Pickens, oldest son of a John Pickens and his Chickasaw wife of Pontotoc County, Mississippi who moved to Oklahoma, became a Chief and was once a Senator or representative from the Indian Territory.

According to Mr. B. C. Clarke, in the Kate Pickens Day History, the 1908 census report shows there were in Oklahoma 32 members of the Chickasaw and 20 members of the Choctaw tribes of Indians by the name of Pickens. The given names repeat some of those used in our Pickens genealogy here, as: Aaron, George, William, Jane and Margaret.

From Mr. John Bruce Neeld, Columbia, Tennessee I have some information of a WILLIAM PICKENS, his ancestor, who was a Revolutionary soldier. From the Pension Bureau, in war pension claim 53699, it appears that WILLIAM PICKENS was born in 1749 in Augusta County, Virginia, and when about 15 years of age moved with his father (name not given) to Abbeville District, S. C.

While a resident of said Abbeville District he enlisted August 1, 1776, served four months as a private in Captain Thomas Langdon's Company, Col. Drayton's South Carolina Regiment and was at the battle of Ninety Six and Reedy River.

He enlisted July 1, 1777 and served as Indian Spy for four months in CAPTAIN JOHN PICKENS' South Carolina Company and was in a battle on the Savannah River.

He enlisted in February 1779, served one month as a private in Capt. Robert Anderson's Company, Col. Andrew Pickens' South Regiment and was in the battle of Kettle Creek.

He enlisted in the Spring or Summer of 1781 as a private in Captain Robert Anderson's Company, was transferred to Captain Robert Caruther's Company of Rangers, was at the Siege of Ninety Six; length of service five months.

About 1807 he moved from Abbeville District to Maury County, Tennessee, where he was allowed a pension on his application executed September 16, 1833. There is no date on file as to his family except the reference to his father.

This WILLIAM PICKENS had a son WILLIAM G. PICKENS, born February 20, 1794 in Abbeville District, S. C., and died in Mountain Home, Alabama, February 9, 1871. He moved with his parents to Maury County, Tennessee in 1806. He married Charlotte Bruce in 1816. Their children were: Thomas Jefferson, John, William, Charlotte Elizabeth, James Madison, Josephine Sarah Frances and Anderson Oliver Perry Pickens.

Of the above children, THOMAS JEFFERSON PICKENS born 1820, died 1903 and married Elizabeth Nelson, born 1820, died 1860. Their children are Naomi, Dell, Emma and Bruce Pickens.

NAOMI PICKENS born July 30, 1850, died September 16, 1922. She married Ernest Yoest. She had a daughter Nellie Yoest, born April 26, 1878, died August 19, 1945 and married James Harvey Neeld, April 26, 1899. who was born December 22, 1878. Their child John Bruce Neeld, Jr. was born December 25, 1910 and married Brownie Walters December 23, 1937. Their child, John Bruce Neeld, Jr., was born 1940. It was this John Bruce Neeld, Sr., who sent the older history and his lineage down to the present.

ANDERSON OLIVER PERRY PICKENS, youngest child of William G. Pickens, had children listed as, Monte, Ole, (Osceola), Gertrude, Desdemona and Tulitha Pickens. Of these MONTE PICKENS had a son MONTE PICKENS, JR., whose home was in Atlanta, Georgia. He was the father of JANE, HELEN, and PATTI PICKENS, the famous PICKENS sisters who sang over the radio some years ago, (around 1930 to 1936).

In the issue of Collier's for September 17, 1949 there is an interesting article about JANE PICKENS of the Pickens trio and something about her family and I quote. "Pickens family gatherings have had a musical overtone for three generations. The tradition started with grandfather MONTE PICKENS, who was a music professor at Bessie Tift College, a Baptist Institution for girls, 70 miles from Atlanta. It continued with father MONTE PICKENS, who was an Atlanta cotton broker and a fine pianist, and Mother Pickens who was christened Adelina Patti after the most famous opera singer of the day."

The article was primarily about the rise of JANE PICKENS in her desire to attain a leading place as a singer, and tells of her forthcoming part as Regina in "The Little Foxes" and of other musical successes. Mention is made of her sisters who were to be present for the opening of The Little Foxes play. Of the sisters; "Patti, the youngest is now Mrs. Robert Simmons; she will bring her husband and three children from their farm in Bucks County, Pa. Helen, who used to play the drums, will fly from Hollywood, where she works in an advertising agency. She is happily married to Thomas Acheson, a distant kinsman of the Secretary of State. Grace will bring her husband, John Cahill, a lawyer who is now on the board of directors of the Radio Corporation of America. Finally there will be Marcella, now in her teens and a talented art student in the Ringling Brothers Art School at Sarasota, Florida."

In Blount County there was a Timothy Pickens who worked roads in the southeast end of the county in 1815 and a Rebecca Pickens who married R. Hicks, August, 1842. (Parham record.)

In Knox County there were a few Pickens people in the early days but none were listed there in the 1850 census of that county.

Charles Pickens, druggist at Knoxville, Tennessee, has given some history of his family. According to tradition they are descended from an old Israel Pickens, who had a son, David Pickens, who settled in Sullivan County, Tennessee between 1815 and 1818. His descendents were David Jr., Jacob, George Washington, Samuel, John and William Pickens and two daughters, Peggy Pickens Fulkerson and Hannah Pickens Shanks.

David had a son, Abe Pickens who settled in Washington County at the forks of the Holston and Watauga Rivers and descendents still live there. The bridge across the river is known as the Pickens Bridge.

Jacob Pickens went to Colorado and settled. He had one son and two daughters.

George Washington Pickens took 29 acres from the old home place and lived there until his death.

Samuel Pickens went to Kentucky and settled there. They don't know what became of John Pickens.

William Pickens lived at the home place of his father. He has sons, William and Jay Pickens who are still at the old home.

George Washington Pickens of the above list was born August 6, 1824. He married Mary Elizabeth Ferguson from Virginia in 1866. Their children were: Richard (1867), David (1868), Amelia (1869, d-infancy), William M. (1870), Thomas J., Jennie, James B., Abraham G., Johnnie (d-infancy), Lillie and George Harrison Pickens. George W. Pickens, taught school in the early days as a tutor in the homes of the wealthy.

William M. Pickens of the above list died in 1947. He married Orlie Moody who survives him. On December 30, 1946 this couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Knoxville. Their daughter Miss Mae Pickens died about two years ago. Their sons are George Dewey and Charles Pickens at Knoxville, and Ralph Pickens, who was in New York at the time of his father's death. Charles served in World War II and has been a druggist for several years. He operates his own drug store, is single, and lives at home.

SOME PICKENS PEOPLE OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE

Short sketches of the following persons are of interest on account of the ties of kinship and because of their connection with governmental affairs. It would seem that Gen. Andrew Pickens, his son, Governor Andrew Pickens, and his grandson, Ambassador Francis Pickens had some sort of a line of "lineal descent" in the important positions which they held, with each in his own right rendering creditable service.

GENERAL ANDREW PICKENS

General Andrew Pickens was born at Paxton, Pa. September 13, 1739, died at the "Red House", at Tamassee, Oconee County, South Carolina, Aug. 11, 1817, and is buried at the old Stone Church near Pendleton, S. C. He was the son of Andrew and Nancy Ann Davis Pickens, who, born in Ireland came to Pennsylvania, then Virginia and to the Waxhaws in South Carolina before General Pickens had reached manhood. Sometime after 1761 General Pickens left the Long Cane Settlement in Abbeville, subsequently living at Hopewell and later at the beautiful and valuable farm at Tamassee, where he died.

General Pickens married Rebecca Calhoun March 19, 1765, who died in 1814. She was the daughter of Ezekiel Calhoun, brother of Patrick Calhoun, and was also a sister of John Ewing Calhoun, member of Congress. Tradition says of the wedding of General Pickens and his bride that it was "the largest wedding party ever then assembled in upper Carolina and the festivities lasted for three days without intermission. The beauty of the bride was the theme of all tongues, and the wedding was long talked of as the important event of the neighborhood in that decade." Mrs. Pickens was very patriotic and of great aid to her husband.

General Pickens is said to have been of "medium height, lean and hearty, with strongly marked features." It is said that he was guarded in his speech, weighing carefully his words before uttering them. I saw a newspaper picture of him in the library at Columbia, South Carolina. He looked smart and rather austere and with a military bearing. Character and strength could be seen in his face. At the South Carolina State School Library at Columbia, I encountered a fine Scotty dog, which I was told bore the name of "General Pickens." A fitting name I think for "man's best friend." I also traveled on Pickens Street in that city.

As a Military man, General Pickens appears to have been somewhat of a genius and in great demand in the active years of his life. It is said that "he was a foremost representative of the early settlers. His high character and patriotic achievements are incorporated with the history of his country." In expeditions against the Indians as well as an agent in peaceful settlements with them he was skillful and quite successful. In treaty attempts he represented not only the States nearest him but served as a United States representative as well. In 1797 and for six years he was engaged in marking boundary treaties. At the beginning of the war with Great Britain he was appointed captain of militia and rose to Major, Colonel and Brigadier General. He was in many important engagements including the battle of King's Mountain.

Much honor has been shown to General Andrew Pickens. The South Carolina Legislature voted him thanks and a gold medal in 1783 for his services in the Revolution. He was presented a sword by the United States Government for his action at the Battle of Cowpens, together with a letter written by Major General Knox, Secretary of War. A new District was formed in South Carolina bearing his name and when this Pickens District was divided his name was and still is perpetuated in Pickens County, South Carolina, with Pickens as the County Seat of said county.

In peaceful pursuits he was still much sought after. He was a Justice of the Peace, Judge of Pendleton District, South Carolina, and held the first court at that place. He served in the State Convention, the Legislature and in Congress. He was urged to become Governor of South Carolina in his older years but preferred to leave that office to a younger person.

General Pickens was an ardent farmer and his plantation must have been very representative of the abundant life and hospitable southern hospitality. He is said also to have had a store at Oconee and a business in Charleston under the firm name of Andrew Pickens and Co.

In all his endeavors he seems to have kept the "even tenor of his way." He was a very religious man. He was one of the founders of the old Stone Church and an elder there. Later when he moved to Tamassee he was one of the founders of Bethel Presbyterian church in that community. It is said that "he carried the spirit of piety with him, both in his private life and in his public service." He was reputed to be strict in family devotions and church observance. A man who can remain an active Christian gentleman in the service of his home, community and nation, especially in a life-long service involving so much of obligation and honor deserves our sincerest acclaim.

GOVERNOR ANDREW PICKENS

Governor Andrew Pickens was born in South Carolina, November 13, 1779 and died June 24, 1838. He is buried in the old Stone Church burial place near Pendleton, South Carolina. He was the son of Gen. Andrew Pickens.

He married (1) Susannah Smith Wilkinson in April, 1804 and after her death he married (2) Mary Nelson of Virginia.

During the war of 1812, Governor Pickens served as a colonel in the United States army. He was elected governor of the State of South Carolina in December, 1816 and served for one term of two years. He appears to have been a man of integrity and a well liked and respected citizen of his community and State.

In his will dated September 9, 1834, page 85 Vol. 1, Edgefield Wills in the South Carolina State school library at Columbia, South Carolina, the estate of Governor Pickens was called "Oatlands." Among the items willed to his son, Francis W. Pickens were: "the portrait of my father, General Andrew Pickens, his sword, my gold watch with the name on the dial plate; my sleeve buttons, my small wardrobe, books, maps and papers."

AMBASSADOR FRANCIS W. PICKENS

Francis Wilkinson Pickens was born April 7, 1805, in St. Paul's Parish, Colleton District, South Carolina. He died January 25, 1869 at Edgefield, South Carolina. He was the son of Governor Andrew Pickens and grand-son of General Andrew Pickens. He married (1) Eliza Simkins; after her death in 1842 he married (2) Antoinette Dearing of Georgia. After her death he married (3) Lucy Petway Holcombe, daughter of Beverly L. Holcombe.

Lucy Holcombe Pickens is said to have been a beautiful and accomplished person who greatly influenced her husband. At the time of the Civil War, a Regiment of rebel South Carolina troops was named the "Holcombe Legion" in her honor; her picture was also engraved on Confederate currency. She died August 8, 1899 and is buried near Edgefield.

Francis W. Pickens studied at South Carolina State College. He is said to have heired a great deal of wealth and at his home at "Edgewood" to have entertained lavishly. Said to have had a great many slaves, but due to war reverses and other causes he is said to have been in debt at the time of his death.

He was elected to the State Legislature in 1832 and served as a member of Congress from 1834 until 1844. He was offered the mission to England by President Polk, and the mission to France by President Tyler. He declined these offers but persuaded by his wife, accepted the mission of ambassador to Russia, from President Buchanan, in 1857. He returned to America in 1860 and became Governor of South Carolina. He died about nine years later.

The Pickens family were well received in Russia. It is said that Lucy Holcombe Pickens made a splendid appearance in official circles.

The Royal family invited her and the Ambassador to be guests at the Imperial Palace for the birth of their child. The child, a girl, was christened Frances Eugenia Olga Neva and the Czar of the Russians called her "Douschka," which in Russian means "darling."

[1]Douschka Pickens kept up the family tradition in important connections in South Carolina. She was remembered by the Tsar Alexander II and by succeeding Tsars of Russia upon her birthdays in America as long as she lived.

As the daughter of the Governor of South Carolina she enjoyed the privileges of an honored child to such an extent that the South Carolina State Legislature by special order named her "the child of South Carolina." She is credited with the beginning of the Civil War, when in the arms of General Beauregard she placed a lighted match to the fuse of a cannon. "Thus the child, at the tender age of three, born in the Russian Palace, the pet of nobility of all the nations and the daughter of the war governor, fired the first shot of the Civil War."

In the days of reconstruction, Douschka Pickens managed the plantation, after her father's death and became such a leader among the people that she became the "Joan of Arc" of South Carolina. [1](Information from Kate Pickens Day History.)

An interesting story, too, is that concerning a faithful slave to the family. His name was Tom and he went to Russia where he was a "dignified head man at the door on State occasions and was a courier for his master to Germany and every duty was discharged with promptness, correctness and fidelity to his master."

ISRAEL PICKENS

Israel Pickens was born January 30, 1780, near Concord, North Carolina. He died April 23, 1827 in Cuba. Later his remains were brought back and buried in the family cemetery at Greensboro. He was the son of Samuel and Jane Carrigan Pickens. This Samuel was a first cousin of General Andrew Pickens and a son of Israel Pickens.

The Israel Pickens of this sketch practiced law at Morganton, S. C., represented Burke County in the State Legislature 1808 to 1810. In 1811 he was elected to Congress and served as Congressman until 1817. In this year he moved to the territory of Alabama, practiced law at St. Stephen, was Register of the Land Office and represented Washington County in the convention which framed the constitution for the would-be-State of Alabama.

In 1821 he was elected the third governor of Alabama and was re-elected two years later. In the spring of 1826 he was appointed to a seat in the Federal Senate, made vacant by the death of Dr. Chambers. In November of this year he was forced to resign from this position because of ill health. In all of his positions of trust he appears to have been a man of integrity and ability, gentle but firm in the discharge of his duties.

(Material for the foregoing articles was gained from personal research at the State library at Nashville, Tennessee; from articles in the City Library at Columbia, South Carolina and wills at the Library of the South Carolina University as well as from The History of Pendleton District, by R. W. Simpson and other articles.)

EAST TENNESSEE LAND GRANTS

Land grants were given to Pickens people in various East Tennessee Counties. From Blountville, Tennessee, the oldest record we have of a Pickens deed is a land grant from the State of North Carolina to JAMES PICKENS for 100 acres on Kindricks Creek in Sullivan County, Tennessee. This is Land Grant No. 649 and is dated December 5, 1794.

From the Department of State, Raleigh, North Carolina, May 18, 1951, we have this record: "JOHN PICKENS received the following grants in Washington County, Tennessee: No. 128, 250 acres, October 23, 1782, on Big Limestone Creek; No. 394, 200 acres, October 13, 1783, on the waters of Lick Creek; No. 469, 100 acres, October 13, 1783, on the waters of Lick Creek.

JAMES PICKENS received the following grants in Washington County, Tenn: No. 413, 42 acres, October 13, 1783, adjoining Chedd Morris' upper survey; No. 425, 275 acres, October 13, 1783, on waters of Lick Creek; No. 439, 100 acres, October 13, 1783, on waters of Lick Creek. In Greene County, Tennessee, he received the following: No. 1363, 200 acres, December 2, 1795, on waters of Lick Creek; No. 1370, 200 acres, December 9, 1795, on the waters of Lick Creek. (The JOHN PICKENS of these grants has not been absolutely determined. From these grants it would seem that John and James Pickens are brothers. They are probably ancestors or close relatives of the Pickens people, some of whom are still in Sullivan County.)

From the State Department of Land Grants at Nashville, Tennessee comes a record of these Sevier County land grants.

From the same department comes a record of Blount County land grants to Pickens people. ROBERT PICKENS received a Grant in 1836 and THOMAS PICKENS in 1855.

JOHN PICKENS, who is our pioneer, received a land grant from the State of Tennessee and a record of this grant follows. If he received any grants previous to this date in Blount County, no record has been found of them. It appears that the first land he owned in Blount County was that of the private purchase from Samuel Lindsey Januar· 8, 1796.

HANNAH HISTORY

GENERAL REFERENCES

A meager research into Hannah History has been made but no definite connection has been found between our Letitia Hannah Pickens and those of the States of Virginia, the Carolinas or Blount County. However the Hannahs were very plentiful in the original colonies of the States mentioned and some general information of them will be given.

In Botetourt Co., Virginia October 8, 1799 Alexander Hannah was one of the two persons given as security for the behavior of a couple. In a list of Virginia Tax Payers 1782-87 Alexander Hannah lived in Botetourt Co., and there were five in the family. October 8, 1799 in the same county Alexander Hannah was security on a bond. Alexander Hannah had property at Buffalo, Rockbridge County in 1784, and in 1782 paid tax on 6 horses and 9 cows.

Also in a list of the same Virginia Tax Payers there was a George Hannah and Aaron Hannah in Botetourt County; Robert Hannah in Augusta County; James Hannah with three in the family, a John with four, and a John Hannah with seven members of a family in Berkely County; an Alexander Hannah in both Lincoln and Rockingham Counties and Charles Hannah in Henry County Virginia.

In Chalkley's History of Virginia there is an account of a suit involving some heirs of Thomas Hannah. From it various facts of Hannah history are obtained. Joseph Hannah bought 300 acres of land from Henry Downs, Oct. 5, 1758. This land was on South River; there was a cave which was called Hannah's Cave and the "Hannah's got Ocher out of the cave and there was a school house near the entrance to the cave."

In this suit an Alexander Hannah made deposition in Augusta 1814, "that he is 70 years of age; he was 14 years old when his parents moved to the plantation where heirs of Thomas Hannah now live; Alexander was the son of Joseph Hannah."

Joseph Hannah made a will July 27, 1789 in Rockingham County, Virginia. In it children were mentioned as: Thomas, Alexander, Joseph, David, Rosana, Mary Boon, and Jane Olden. The name of his wife was Anna.

In the Musters of Augusta County, Virginia 1742, Joseph Hannah was listed. There is a record of the marriage of Joseph Hannah and Mary Davis of Rowan County, North Carolina January 5, 1789, and of Polly Hannah and James Riggs of Orange County, North Carolina January 22, 1788.

James Hannah owned 81 acres on Greenbrier, Botetourt County, February 3, 1774.

BLOUNT COUNTY HANNAH HISTORY

Through the courtesy of Mr. Edward Lyle who is collecting Hannah information, I have some notations of Hannah history of Blount County.

He had found from the Parham records, information from an old book which was on exhibit at the 1934 Fair of Blount County. This book had been printed for use of the Church of England. The owner of the book appeared to have been a John Hannah, miller, Rockbridge County, Virginia, July 12, 1704 "as his name is in the book often." Other facts are: "John Hanna, his book, Rockbridge County, State of Virginia, March 20, 1790; Anna Hanna b—April 23, 1774; John Sr. John Hanna. In the front is Robert Campbell, his book-hand November 1701; John Hanna, James Wilson. Later, Alexander Hannah.

On the first fly leaf is "Mary Hanna would be pleased to beg the favor of the owner to keep at home, as the doctrine is not liked by many people in the neighborhood — by order of the commonwealth of Virginia, July 12, 1704."

Joshua Hannah had the first survey made for a part of the land which is now the H. F. Anderson farm, and our home. The plot shows that it was on Little River in Blount County and is bounded by Thomas Caldwell, John Wheeler and James Hannah. The survey was for 170 and three-fourth acres and the date was March 1, 1808. The land grant was dated June 14, 1807.

Margaret Miriam Hannah married William Anderson, pioneer of Blount County, and she was living February 20, 1854 when a settlement was made among the heirs of William Anderson, deceased.

Franklin Hannah owned land on Pistol Creek in the eighth district of Blount County in 1854 and several families of Hannahs have lived in the region of Forest Hill where the William and Margaret Miriam Hannah Anderson also lived.

John Hannah of Blount County, made a will January 20, 1813. His second wife was Jane Trimble whom he married February 15, 1796 in Blount County. He had a son, John Jr., who married Martha Miller in 1796. John Hannah Sr., was a signer of the petition to North Carolina asking for independence of this region. He was also a charter member and elder in the New Providence Presbyterian Church and is the ancestor of Mr. Lyle.

JOHN HANNAH REFERENCES

Various references are given in Chalkley's record of Augusta County, Virginia in regard to John Hannah. By inference this John is either the father or a very close relative to Letitia Hannah Pickens and as such is pertinent to our record.

In a letter written to Col. Stuart September 17, 1786 John Pickens spoke of John Hannah as his father-in-law. Since the letter was written from Holston, Virginia, the home at that time of John Pickens and his wife, the inference is that the older Hannah family probably also lived in Virginia, and especially is this thought to be true since the census record of 1880 showed by the record of a son, Robert Pickens, that his mother was born in Virginia.

In the will of John Matthews November 27, 1761, his wife was given two gold rings made by John Hanna. Elizabeth Hannah was teste to a will of James Buchanan October 3, 1870. John Hannah was appraiser March 20, 1754 and to aid in the division of tracts of land in the will of Joseph Long September 11, 1757; also on a jury 1771. A John Hannah was a tithable November 22, 1775 and a John Hannah married Sally Webster in Amelia County, Virginia, January, 1797. John Hanna teste to a deed of land sold by Richard Stanton and Charity to William Herbert on a Branch of Woods River, March 28, 1767. Alexander Hannah, John Hannah Sr., and John Hannah Jr., were tithables of 1788 in Rockbridge County, Virginia and John Hannah had a mill license on Collier, 1784.

Several property transactions are noted in regard to John Hanna or Hannah. A John Hannah had a mill on Colliers Creek August 18, 1768. John Hannah was "processioned" by Collier and McCampbell 1765. John Hannah patented 95 acres August 3, 1771 at a place called Flat Gap. John Hannah and wife Elizabeth sold land in Washington County, Pennsylvania April 17, 1789.

From the Annals of Southwest Virginia by Summers, there are records of land sales in Botetourt County, Virginia, January 29, 1770 John Hannah of the forks of the James River to John Paxton in the Rich Hills fork of the James River. Witnesses were John Hannah Jr., Alexander Hannah, William McKee and John Boyer. On January 13, 1773 John Hannah and Margaret his wife sold to Moses Kelso 70 Hd. of Dry Run in the forks of the James River. On January 14, 1773, John Hannah Sr., and Margaret, his wife, sold to John Hannah Jr., 100 acres on the forks of the James River in Botetourt County. John Hannah bought 230 acres at Buffalo in 1756 and 45 acres in 1763 adjoining homesteads in the forks of the James River. John Hannah was on the jury of this county in 1770 and 1771.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Lyle, I have obtained photostatic copies made from records at Raleigh, N. C., of receipts to a John Hannah. On July 14, 1771 John Hannah was allowed nine pounds species for service in the Militia. The receipt was from Salisbury District, State of North Carolina, Wake County. Another receipt is to a John Hannah, State of North Carolina, given by the auditors of Washington and Sullivan counties and is for sixteen shillings and sixpence specie, apparently for service rendered in some sort of work. The date was August 16, 1782.

THE PICKENS REUNION

On August 21, 1921, members of families descended from Alexander and Robert Pickens met at Wildwood Springs, Blount County, Tennessee. The day was spent in reunion and in the enjoyment of a picnic lunch. From this beginning the annual Pickens reunion resulted, which has continued through thirty years to the present time. A great many have been regular attendants. I have missed only one reunion and on that day I was entertaining a three-day-old daughter. Mrs. Homer Goddard (Belle Pickens) also has missed only one reunion occasion.

It might be of interest to quote the minutes of the first meeting, which included a list of the guests. Officers chosen were: President, Ollie Pickens; Vice President, Frank Pickens; Secretary, Nellie C. Pickens. The Program Committee was composed of Belle Pickens, Roy Pickens and Mrs. Roy H. Beeler. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Hinds, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Beeler and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy and children, Robert, Elizabeth and Juanita; Mrs. E. A. Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jeffries and daughter Mary; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pickens and F. C. Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Thurman and children, Roy, James and Fred; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pickens and children, William and Helen; Floyd Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Thurman and daughter, Miss Anna; Carl Rudder, H. F. Anderson; Mr. Ingle, Miss Nettie McCammon and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Houston.

At this reunion some kodak pictures were made which have later been enlarged and show the group pretty well.

In the years which have followed, descendents from other Pickens lines joined the group, especially when it met at Eusebia church, where the reunion was held for a number of years. Other meetings were held at the homes of members of the group. For some years we have been meeting at the Goddard cabin in Miller's Cove, near Maryville.

Several benefits have resulted from these reunions. The chance of association with each other not only is most enjoyable but gives the newcomers and younger members of the group a chance to know and keep in touch with their relatives.

Records kept by the Secretary and Vital Statistics Committee have kept tab on births, deaths, marriages, etc., and furnish an easy way of reference to past programs, etc.

Then there is the historical aspect of no little importance. Thomas McMurry became interested in Pickens lineage and served as historian from 1924 until some ten or more years ago. He told of any findings of a previous year and read some information sent by Monroe Pickens concerning John and Eleanor Pickens and other Pickens people. When he was no longer able to attend I fell heir to the historian's task, and as I already had a mass of Pickens history of my own it all formed a basis upon which to add more history.

All of this grew into a desire on the part of the reunion attendants to have the Pickens history published. A collection has been taken for some years which aids in entertainment but mostly has been used in the expense of correspondence, searches in the Census Deptartment, employment of a Genealogist, purchase of necessary genealogical material, etc. Some of it is being used in the work of photostats, the preparation of pictures for printing, etc., so that all who purchase a history will benefit from this material effort of the attendants at the Pickens Reunions.

Adding to the interest and pleasure of the Reunions has been the attendance upon various occasions of Pickens kin of other sections of the State and of other states; among these have been: F. T. Pickens, Hugh Pickens and Clemma Pickens from Weaverville, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Day and daughters of Easley, S. C.; Rev C. N. Pickens of Waynesville, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Pickens and daughter of Greenville, S. C.; R. M. and C. A. Pickens of Athens, Tennessee; Miss Lily Henderson (Mrs. Williams) of Chattanooga, Tennessee; Ralph McKinley Pickens from South Carolina; and Mrs. E. R. Zemp of Knoxville. Mrs. Bonham of Knoxville, an elderly descendent in the Minnis line attended on occasion and others of the various lines were infrequent attendants.

Present officers of the organization are: President, John A. Kerr; Vice-President, Fred Thurman; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Carter and Historian, Mrs. H. F. Anderson. A committee composed of Mrs. Homer Goddard, Mr. Paul Costner and Mr. Roy S. Pickens will be responsible for some of the decisions in printing the Pickens History and aid in the disposition of the books when printed.

EARLY AMERICAN PICKENS IMMIGRANTS

Many Pickens people came to America from the days of 1717, and perhaps earlier, and including the period just previous to the Revolutionary War. The 1790 census reveals that there were thirty-one heads of families, one hundred and sixty other members of families, making one hundred and ninety-six members of Pickens families, besides the female members who had married and changed their names. The list according to States is:

State	No. of families	No. in family
South Carolina	11	79
North Carolina	4	25
New York	3	22
Pennsylvania	10	53
Maryland	2	7
Virginia	1	10

(Monroe Pickens Record)

The following information has been gleaned by personal research and from various other sources, among them records from Rev. E. M. Sharp, Missouri, and from the Monroe Pickens (deceased) history, published by Kate Pickens Day.

The early ones of whom we have record are:

THOMAS PICKENS
WILLIAM PICKENS

THOMAS PICKENS is said to have come from Ireland to America about 1719 and to have settled first at Plymouth, Mass., from whence he later moved to Middleborough, in the same colony. He is thought to have married Margaret Steel and that their children were: Jane, Andrew and James who were born in Ireland and Martha, John, Margaret and Thomas who were born in Massachusetts. Of these children JAMES PICKENS married Margaret Strawbridge or Strowbridge in 1753, and their children were: James, Alexander, Martha, Samuel, William, Margaret, David, John, George, Mary and Rebecca. Descendents of this family appear to have been numerous and to have lived in New Hampshire and New York in plentiful numbers. (Record from Media Research.)

ISRAEL PICKENS appears also to have come to America about the year 1717. A correspondent in Pennsylvania giving the names of the Pickens pioneers, says that the names of "William Peckens eyn hausfrau" and "Israel Pecken- eyn Hausfrau" appear on a list of "New Comers from Eerlandt", received by certificate at the Presbyterian church of Bensalem and Neshaminy in 1720. This church was located in Buck's County, Pennsylvania.

Quoting Bolton's Scotch Irish Pioneers we find: in 1722 the Neshamy (Neshaminy) (Church) records (Penne) give the names of people from Eerlandt (Ireland) who were admitted by certificate as:

"WILLIAM PICKENS and wife, MARGARET"
"Several other Pickenses"
"ISRAEL PICKENS"

(Monroe Pickens Record in the Day history)

ISRAEL PICKENS, the above pioneer appears to have come to Virginia. There is a notation I have seen but do not have the authority for it, that Israel Pickens came to Pittsylvania County, Virginia in 1745 and that he patented 400 acres of land on Chestnut Creek. Augusta County records show that Israel Pickens died in 1749.

WILLIAM PICKENS

WILLIAM PICKENS, the last named of the three pioneer Pickens men came to America, as stated, about 1719. From the record of Rev. E. M. Sharp, William Pickens and his wife, Margaret, who came to Bucks County, Pennsylvania are thought to be the parents of a set of boys and tradition says some girls who later moved to Lancaster, Pennsylvania and then down into Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. From his record, the Monroe Pickens record and from research of various places the names of the children of WILLIAM and MARGARET PICKENS all born in Ireland are:

1	ANDREW	M	NANCY DAVIS
2	WILLIAM PICKENS	M	WIDOW SCOTT in Augusta County, Virginia
3	GABRIEL	M	ZERUBIAH
4	ISRAEL	M	MARTHA
5	ROBERT	M	MIRIAM
6	JOHN	M	ELEANOR

1. ANDREW PICKENS who married Nancy Davis came to Augusta County, Virginia from Bucks County, Pennsylvania about 1839. On October 1, 1751 he was allowed a grant of 800 acres of land in South Carolina. He was Captain of a Militia in Mecklenberg District in 1755 and 1756. He was a member of the first Court of Augusta County, Virginia. He was interested in the work of the Presbyterian Church. His will on file at Raleigh, N. C., in 1756 bears the name of JOHN PICKENS as a witness. An inventory of the ANDREW PICKENS estate was made and presented to the Anson County Court in 1757. The widow and Maj. William Davis presented the inventory.

The children of ANDREW (Col.) and (Nancy) Ann Davis PICKENS are given as:

A	Katherine	D	James
B	John	E	Joseph
C	Jane	F	Andrew (Gen.)

A. KATHERINE PICKENS, daughter of Col. Andrew and Nancy Ann Davis Pickens, married Maj. William Davis. Their children were:

(1)	Robin	(3)	Thomas
(2)	James	(4)	Martha

(1). ROBIN DAVIS married Nancy Pickens, daughter of Israel Pickens. Their children were Rufus and Maggie Davis.

(2) JAMES DAVIS married Elizabeth Walkup, whose will dated April 22, 1815 gives children as: William, James, John, Robert and Henry Davis. NOTE: This marriage into the Davis family is of especial interest to our John Pickens genealogy, since there is a kinship in a marriage of a couple in our line who were told that they were seventh cousins. It appears that the old Davis connection is the only one it could be and if so that is one more proof that our John Pickens was a son of John and Eleanor Pickens, hence a cousin of Katherine Pickens Davis.

B. JOHN PICKENS, son of Col. Andrew and Nancy Ann Davis Pickens appears to have been older than his brother Gen. Andrew Pickens. Not much is known about this son of the family. From Monroe Pickens record, it is known that Captain John Pickens, brother of General Andrew Pickens, after being taken prisoner by the British was delivered to the Indians to be tortured at the stake. (Historical Collections of South Carolina, Vol. 1, page 252).

I have noticed in various records that John and Joseph Pickens, brothers, were killed at the siege of Fort Ninety Six, during the Revolution. From the Monroe Pickens record concerning some claims of South Carolina Revolutionary soldiers No. 193. Book S. page 136. "Issued the 10 of June 1785 to_____. For estate of Mr. John Pickens for Forty one Pounds Eight Shillings and Six Pence three farthings Sterling for duty done in the Militia and a mare lost pr. Account credited." In all probability he left a widow and several children but no record of them has been found by the various people who have been seeking Pickens lore.

C. JANE PICKENS, daughter of Col. Andrew and Nancy Ann Davis Pickens married Rev. Robert Miller some time prior to 1758, while the family was living at the Waxhaw Settlement, and when the Pickens family moved to the Long Cane settlement, Rev. Robert Miller and his family moved there also. He was a Scotch minister from Scotland and served in various churches in South Carolina and as Chaplain in the Army in the Revolutionary War. The children of Rev. Robert and Jane Pickens Miller were: Robert, Annie, Andrew, Ebenezer, Jane, Margaret, Joseph and John Henry Miller, who married Jane Pickens, daughter of General Andrew Pickens and moved to Mississippi. (Monroe Pickens record). Further history of John Henry Miller who was a physician will be given in the General Andrew Pickens record.

D. JAMES PICKENS, son of Col. Andrew and Nancy Ann Davis Pickens is supposed to have lost his life about the time of the Revolutionary war or in it but Monroe Pickens was unable to find out anything definite about him or any descendents.

E. JOSEPH PICKENS, son of Col. Andrew and Nancy Ann Davis Pickens married Eleanor Pickens, daughter of his Uncle John and Eleanor Pickens. I have some very interesting information concerning Joseph Pickens and his wife, from Rev. E. M. Sharp, whose ancestry in this line will be shown.

He says that Col. Joseph Pickens, Captain in the Revolutionary War "was killed during the siege of Fort Ninety Six in May 1781. He was shot from within the fort by a Tory neighbor who bore him a grudge. The wound he received was not at first thought to be serious, but he died several days later from internal bleeding."

He says that in an old platt book in Abbeville he found that Eleanor Pickens, widow of Captain Joseph Pickens was given "300 acres of land on Bradaway Creek above the ancient boundary line. In the settlement of the estate she left some money to the pastor of the Bradaway church. Eleanor Pickens did not leave a will but the estate was administered by Israel Pickens and it was in the name of the late Joseph Pickens."

Rev. Sharp lists the children of Captain Joseph and Eleanor Pickens as:

(1) William
(2) Andrew
(3) John
(4) Israel
(5) Joseph
(6) Ann
(7) Jane

(1) WILLIAM PICKENS married Martha Anderson and moved to Livingston County, Ky., later to Lawrence County, Miss., and in 1830 to Carrol County Miss. His descendents still live in that part of Mississippi and the town of Pickens, Miss., was located on the land of a grandson.

(2) ANDREW PICKENS married Margaret Dowdle and died in 1795 leaving his widow with five small children, the oldest being my Jane who married John Henry, the next a son Joseph who married and settled in Madison County, Ala., near Huntsville, and left a family of some twelve children who populated Alabama generously. Three other daughters married in Madison County, Alabama.

In August, 1942, I had a letter from Rev. E. M. Sharp of Mississippi, in which he asked if I might know something of the line in which his ancestor Jane Pickens who married Rev. John M. Henry, might be found. I was of very little help, but he, together with some other people seeking Pickens history, did find their Jane Pickens lineage and in doing so unearthed a lot of other facts of Pickens kin and their related families. I have quoted from his material in several places in the book and will now give something of the ancestry of his Jane Pickens and her husband.

Jane Pickens was the daughter of Andrew Pickens and his wife, Margaret Dowdle Pickens of Anderson County, S. C. Andrew Pickens was the oldest son of Captain and Mrs. Joseph Pickens (mentioned above). Margaret Dowdle was the daughter of Robert Dowdle who was an elder in Bradaway Presbyterian Church on Bradaway Creek in Anderson County, near the present town of Belton, S. C.

Margaret Dowdle Pickens as a widow moved to Livingston County, Ky., and in 1810 was living as a neighbor to Samuel Henry who had moved from Pendleton Dist. S. C., to near Marion, Livingston County, Ky. Tradition says that Margaret Dowdle Pickens later went to Madison County, Ala., with her son and died there.

Jane Pickens married John Madison Henry in Livingston County, Ky., in 1810. He was born in South Carolina. He was in Madison County, Ala., very early and enlisted in Perkins County to fight the Creek Indians. He was present at the organization of the first Baptist State Convention in Alabama.

Jane Pickens Henry was a sister of Joseph Pickens who lived in Madison County, Alabama. There is a tradition that this Joseph Pickens volunteered to serve during the Creek War in Alabama under Andrew Jackson and that he enlisted at Strawberry Springs, Tenn. In the war, while they camped at Huntsville, Alabama, he met a girl by the name of Selina Brazleton and when he returned he married her.

I have a record here which came in some information from Thomas McMurry which evidently is the lineage of this Joseph Pickens. Quoting: Joseph Andrew Pickens was born August 30, 1794 and died 1870. He married Selina Brazleton who was born May 30, 1804. Their children and marriages are given as:

Hypasia	m Rev. W. G. Milligan
Andrew G.	m Rebecca Wright-Emily Conley
Henry Wilson	m Lucy W. Nolan
Catherine	m Leonard Lamberson
Elizabeth	m Preston Hills
Jane	m John H. Haden
Margaret	m Robert Walton-Mr. Trice
Lydia	m Pat Barnard
Joseph W. Israel	m Elizabeth Hayden
James C.	m Emma Draper
John M.	m Mollie Lamberson

(3) JOHN PICKENS, son of Capt. Joseph and Eleanor Pickens — went to Livingston County, Ky. There are some records of him there but he didn't remain there long.

(4) ISRAEL PICKENS—lost sight of.

(5) JOSEPH PICKENS—lost sight of unless he is the Joseph Pickens who appears in Carrol County, Mississippi, along with William Pickens. This Joseph had no children.

(6) ANN PICKENS married James Dowdle and lived in Grainger County, Tennessee, and Livingston County, Kentucky. In 1944 I received a request for information concerning Pickens connections from Mr. Nolan P. Olsen, Logan, Utah. Through later contacts with Mr. Monroe Pickens and

Rev. E. M. Sharp, he was able to find his record which is in the same line as you see, with Rev. Sharp and sent some information of his family.

He says that his second great grandfather Robert Dowdle was a son of James and Ann Pickens Dowdle, and a grandson of Joseph and Eleanor Pickens.

(7) JANE PICKENS married Robert Dowdle Jr., and had six daughters. She died in Anderson County, S. C. He married second, Jane Bennett and moved to Pickens County, Alabama and lived part of the time in Lowndes County, Mississippi.

F. GENERAL ANDREW PICKENS, son of the pioneer Col. Andrew and Nancy Ann Davis Pickens, was born in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, September 13, 1739 and died August 11, 1817 at his home in Oconee County, South Carolina. A sketch of his life has been given. The children of Col. Andrew and his wife Rebecca Calhoun Pickens are:

(1) Mary
(2) Ezekiel
(3) Ann
(4) Jane
(5) Margaret
(6) Andrew (Gov.)
(7) Rebecca
(8) Catherine
(9) Joseph

(1). MARY PICKENS (1766-1845) married John Harris (1766-1845). Their children were Andrew, John, Rebecca, Mary, Ezekiel, Nathaniel, Thomas, Joseph, Eliza and Benjamin Harris.

(2). EZEKIEL PICKENS (1768-1813) was born and reared in South Carolina. He is said to have been a good citizen of the community. I saw a statement in some historical data at the State Library at Nashville that Ezekiel Pickens bought part of a large tract of land called Silk Hope, near Charleston, S. C. His part was called the Brick-yard. The purchase was for 3500 acres and was purchased after 1805. At Ezekiel's death it was conveyed to Isaac Ball. He married (1) Elizabeth Bonneau, February 6, 1793. Their children were: Ezekiel Jr., Samuel, Andrew and Elizabeth Pickens. The second wife of Ezekiel Pickens was Eliza Barksdale (1782-1859). Their children were Thomas J., Andrew and Mary Barksdale Pickens.

(3). ANN PICKENS (1770-1846) married John Simpson of Pensacola, Florida. Their children were: Leah, Rebecca, Andrew, John, Ezekiel and Jane Simpson.

(4). JANE PICKENS (1774-1848) married Dr. John Henry Miller, son of Rev. Robert and Jane Pickens Miller. They moved to Mississippi. Their children were Robert, John and Eliza Miller. Francis Pickens Miller is a descendent in this line. In "Presbyterian Life" of some months ago there was this comment about him. "Francis Pickens Miller, whose home is at Pickens Hill, near Charlottesville, Virginia, a contributing editor of Presbyterian Life is one of America's outstandng Presbyterians. A graduate of Washington and Lee University, Mr. Miller was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford in 1921. He succeeded John R. Mott as Chairman of the World's Student Christian Federation and from 1928 to 1938 traveled all over the world. As a colonel in the intelligence section of General Eisenhower's staff, he won decorations from Great Britain, France, and Belgium.

"Francis Pickens Miller's unusual record in politics, literature, military affairs, and education recalls the versatility of Thomas Jefferson, whose residence, Monticello, is near Pickens Hill. He and his wife, who writes under the name, Helen Hill, have two sons."

I had a feeling that he was a descendant of Jane Pickens Miller and in answer to a query had this reply September 17, 1948. "I am descended from General Andrew Pickens through his daughter Jean, who married John Henry Miller, who subsequently settled at Pontotoc, Mississippi, where my grandfather and father were born.

"You will be interested to know that I have the sword which the Continental Congress gave Andrew Pickens for his action at the Battle of Cowpens, together with the letter written by Major General Knox, Secretary of War, which accompanied the sword. I also have the dining room tables which Andrew Pickens gave Jean at the time of her marriage."

(5). MARGARET PICKENS (1776-1830) was born in what is now Abbeville County, South Carolina. When a child she moved with her parents to near Pendleton, South Carolina. She married Major George Bowie, a lawyer of Abbeville, South Carolina. Margaret Pickens Bowie was buried at Valley Creek Church, Dallas County, near Selma, Alabama. The only child was Louisa Augusta Bowie, who married Captain William S. Smith of Charleston, South Carolina. She was also buried near Selma, Alabama.

(6). ANDREW PICKENS (Gov.) was born in what is now Abbeville County, South Carolina, November 13, 1779 and died June 24, 1838. He was buried in the Old Stone Church Cemetery, near Pendleton, South Carolina. A short sketch of him is given in this book. He married (1) Susan Smith Wilkinson, who was born January 9, 1788 and died January 28, 1810. Their children were FRANCIS WILKINSON PICKENS, born April 7, 1805 and SUSAN PICKENS born June 24, 1808.

Governor Andrew Pickens married (2) Mary Harrison, daughter of Benjamin Harrison of Berkley, Virginia.

FRANCIS WILKINSON PICKENS became ambassador to Russia, was governor of South Carolina, and was a public leader in various other ways. A short sketch of him is also given in the book. He married (1) Margaret Eliza Simpkins of Edgefield, S. C. Their children were: Maria, Anna, Eliza, Rebecca, Francis, Susan and Eldred Pickens. Francis Pickens married (2) Marion Dearing of Georgia. Their only child was Jeannie Pickens who married Mitchell Whaley, Francis W. Pickens married (3) Lucy Holcombe who was born June 11, 1832 at La Grange, Fayette County, Tennessee. She also lived in Texas and a glimpse into her brilliant career is given in the article concerning her husband. The child of this marriage was Douschka Pickens who, born in the Russian Palace, received wide acclaim there and later from the people of her home-land. A glimpse of her life is also given in that of her father and mother. Douschka Pickens married Dr. George Dugas of Augusta, Georgia. Their children were: Lucy and Adrienne Dorothea (Dolly) Dugas.

SUSAN PICKENS, daughter of Governor Andrew and Susan Wilkinson Pickens, was born in South Carolina, June 24, 1808 and died in Alabama Sept. 7, 1878. She married Judge James Martin Calhoun May 26, 1830. He was a judge, senator, a large farm owner in Alabama, and in the city of Cahaba was a law partner of his cousin Ezekiel Pickens. Their children were: Rebecca Pickens, Susan Wilkinson, Andrew Pickens, Sallie Louisa, James Francis, and John Caldwell Calhoun.

(7). REBECCA PICKENS (1784-1831) married William Noble of S. C. Their children were William, Andrew, Ezekiel, Samuel and Joseph Noble.

(8). CATHERINE PICKENS (1786-1871) was born in Abbeville District, South Carolina and died at Selma, Alabama. She married Dr. John Hunter. Their children were: Maria Rebecca, Margaret Ann, John Andrew, Eliza Barksdale, Ezekiel, Joseph, and John Thomas Pickens Hunter.

(9.) JOSEPH PICKENS (1791-1870) (Col.) was born near Pendleton, South Carolina. He married Caroline Henderson and their home was in Alabama. Their children were: Sarah, Rebecca, Joseph, Henderson, and Andrew Pickens.

2. WILLIAM PICKENS, son of William and Margaret Pickens married a widow Scott in Augusta County, Virginia. There were a number of William Pickens in the older period of Virginia history and it is a hard task to decide a correct lineage for them. Several Williams of incompleted ancestry are given in the Kate Pickens Day Book. I give here only a little information which I have collected. There are several references in old Virginia records to Pickens people in connection with the Scott family. William Pickens, whose wife was Ann, made a will in Montgomery County, Virginia, November 19, 1783. He had a son named Thomas and the witnesses to the will were Joseph Hone and John Cecill. A William Pickens was a member of the legislature from Faquer County, Virginia in 1781. A William Pickens served in South Carolina troops who was born in 1742 in Virginia and is said to have married Rebecca Caldwell and to have had a daughter Eleanor (1785-1843) who married Patrick Calhoun.

3. GABRIEL PICKENS, son of William and Margaret Pickens, married Zerubiah. — From the records of Augusta County, Virginia, we find that Gabriel Pickens was a member of the militia of this county in 1742; he bought 100 acres of land on Howell Branch March 18, 1751 and he was witness to a deed November 10, 1757.

4. ISRAEL PICKENS, son of William and Margaret Pickens had a wife named Martha.—In the Monroe Pickens record it is shown that an Inventory was made of the estate of Israel Pickens, Anson County Court House, North Carolina, with 1758 as the nearest date. It was signed by Martha and William Pickens.

A record from county histories of Virginia at the State Library at Nashville, stated that the Israel Pickens who owned land in Augusta County, Virginia, in 1749 was in Luxemburg in 1751, and was connected with the Cub Creek Presbyterian congregation. In 1751 he with others bought an acre of ground from William Caldwell on April 2 "for a burial place, with timber for paling the said ground, reserving to himself and heirs a burial place there." He was later in Charlotte. Rev. E. M. Sharp said the widow of Israel Pickens who had died in the Cub Creek neighborhood in Charlotte County, Virginia, with her children moved to Mecklenburg, North Carolina.

From the Monroe Pickens Record the children of ISRAEL AND MARTHA PICKENS are:

(1) William	m—Elizabeth—
(2) Mary
(3) Nancy	m—Robin Davis
(4) Rebecca	m—James Davis
(5) Margaret	m—James Walkup
(6) Hannah	m—James Montgomery
(7) Samuel	m—Jane Carrigan

(7.) The SAMUEL PICKENS who married Jane Carrigan, was an officer in the Revolutionary war. He is thought to have had sons — James, Samuel, Israel and maybe Joseph. The son Israel is the one who was Governor of Alabama and a short sketch of him is included in this book.

5. ROBERT PIKE PICKENS, son of the pioneer William and Margaret Pickens, is the ancestor of Monroe Pickens, who collected the history of the Carolina Pickens people, and also the ancestor of Kate Pickens Day who has just published the Monroe Pickens record. A brief summary of this family will be taken from that book.

It appears that Robert Pickens was born in Ireland, coming to America sometime between 1720 and 1737. It seems that he settled in Maryland, afterward going South about 1754 to the Waxhaw settlement near the Catawba River on the line between North and South Carolina. After about eight years there he moved in 1763 to the Long Cane settlement in Abbeville County, S. C. After the close of the Revolutionary War, his son Captain Pickens moved in 1783 to the head waters of Three and Twenty Creek in Anderson District and took his father with him and he took care of him until his death in 1793 at the age of 96. Robert Pike Pickens was the first person to be buried in the Pickens graveyard and shows his record as (1697-1793). The children of Robert Pike Pickens and his wife, Miriam are:

(1) Israel	(5) Andrew
(2) Robert Capt.	(6) Samuel
(3) Annie	(7) Margaret
(4) David	(8) Elizabeth

(1). ISRAEL PICKENS was probably born in Maryland, married a Miss Bole or Boyd and settled in Abbeville District, S. C., and then went to Rocky River in Anderson County. He died in 1829 and his children are listed as: John, William, Israel, Dilly, Rebecca, Ellender, Mary, Elizabeth, Melinda, Sally and Ezekiel Andrew Pickens.

(2). CAPTAIN ROBERT PICKENS, son of Robert Pike Pickens, was born in Maryland, November 26, 1747. His moves have been mentioned in the paragraphs about his father. He was a member of the personal staff of General Andrew Pickens in the Revolutionary War and became Captain. He was an elder and assisted in the organization of the Three and Twenty Presbyterian church. He died July 19, 1830 and was buried in the family graveyard which was located on his place.

He married Dorcas Hallum in Abbeville County, South Carolina, December 25, 1773. She was born February 1, 1760 and died February 5, 1828 and is buried beside her husband. This couple stand before their descendents as worthy examples of Christian living. Their children are:

(1) John
(2) Martha
(3) Margaret
(4) Elizabeth
(5) Mary
(6) Andrew
(7) Dorcas
(8) Annie
(9) Robert

(1). JOHN PICKENS of the above list was born in Abbeville, S. C., May 21, 1775, and died November 18, 1827 and is buried in the old Pickens Cemetery in the southern part of McMinn County. He married Nancy Bowen December 19, 1799, who was born in South Carolina, May 25, 1799. The children of this John and Nancy Bowen Pickens were all born in South Carolina except the last one or two of them. The family came to McMinn County, Tennessee and lived about twelve miles southeast of Athens. I heard from Spence Pickens, a great great grandson of the John Pickens who first came to Athens. Some of the descendents of this line have attended our reunions from Athens and Etowah. In the list of some former attendants of the Reunion at Eusebia Church, I find the names of C. A. Pickens and R. M. Pickens from Athens, Tennessee and Hugh and James F. Carlock of Etowah. There have also been some Davis people from this line and perhaps others.

I have a complete record of this family in my possession and it is also given in the Kate Pickens Day record. The children of John and Nancy Bowen Pickens are given as:

a Mary B.	m—John Smith-d-near Athens, Tenn., 1839
b Robert	m—Mary Smith and Nancy Purdy
c Dorcas	m—Israel Smith—moved to Texas
d Reece	m—Elizabeth Neal
e Andrew	m—Rebecca Stanton-Jane Ann Ragon and Mrs. Myers
f Rebecca	m—Abraham B. Neal-d-Greenbush, Ga.
g William Kennedy	m—Mary White-d-Cleveland, Tenn.
h Charles Asbury	m—Malinda Smith and Mrs. Cassie Lane
i Nancy	m—Henry B. Davis-d-Cleveland, Tenn.
j Martha

h. CHARLES ASBURY PICKENS of the above list was born November 4, 1814 in Anderson County, S. C., coming to Tennessee with his parents when six years old. He died February 18, 1875 at the old John Pickens home of his father, where he made his home during his lifetime. The children of Charles Asbury and Malinda Smith Pickens are: David C., Sarah J., Mary E., Susie L., John A., Julias K., Robert Mason, Henry B., and Lillie U. Pickens. C. A. Pickens who attended the Reunion is a grandson of this Charles Asbury Pickens and the Carlocks are descended from Lillie U. Pickens (last named) who married John C. Carlock.

An interesting fact is that the Andrew of the above list had a son, Captain James Pickens who lived at Knoxville, Tennessee, where he died in 1892.

(2). MARTHA PICKENS, daughter of Captain Robert and Dorcas Hallum Pickens, was born June 15, 1776 in Abbeville County, S. C. She married John Smith about 1800 and the family lived in S. C. Children were: Lucinda, Talitha, Sidney, Miranda, Mary, A., John C., James D., and Andrew M. Smith.

(3). MARGARET PICKENS, daughter of Captain Robert and Dorcas Hallum Pickens, was born Aug. 4, 1778 in Abbeville County, S. C. She has a son William Pickens.

(4). ELIZABETH PICKENS, daughter of Captain Robert Pickens and wife was born April 16, 1780 in Abbeville County, S. C. She remained single, lived a very helpful life and is buried in the Pickens graveyard.

(5). MARY PICKENS daughter of Captain Robert Pickens and wife was born Jan. 30, 1782 in Abbeville County, S. C. She married George Bowman, a Methodist minister and moved to Indiana.

(6). ANDREW PICKENS son of Capt. Robert and Dorcas Hallum Pickens was born in Abbeville County, S. C. Dec. 24, 1783 and died in Weaverville, N. C. March 9, 1860. In 1809 he became a minister of the Methodist Church. He had large land holdings near Weaverville, was a faithful pastor and active in the "political and social affairs of the community." He married Catherine Weaver Sept. 4, 1815. She was born June 21, 1796 and died in 1836. He married second, D. A. Edwards Oct. 2, 1844. They had a daughter Amelia Tabitha Pickens. Rev. Andrew Pickens is the one in whose honor the Pickens organization in North Carolina is named and which has had meetings for many years. The children of Rev. Andrew and Catherine Weaver Pickens are:

a James Tarpley	d Christley Andrew
c Robert Wesley	f Margaret Susanna

a. JAMES TARPLEY PICKENS, son of Rev. Andrew and Catherine Weaver Pickens, was born Aug. 17, 1816 in Anderson County, South Carolina, and died December 29, 1885 at Swannanoa, N. C. He married Matilda Patton Jan. 20, 1842, who was born Feb. 18, 1821. Their children were: Elizabeth Ann, George, Mary Jane, Robert C., James M., William C., Margaret Eliza, Martha and Francis Tarpley Pickens.

The last named, FRANCIS TARPLEY PICKENS is the father of Kate Pickens Day and a little history of her immediate family is given. Francis Tarpley Pickens was born April 14, 1860 and was reared near Asheville, N. C. He was a teacher and postmaster. He married Clemma Penland Dec. 26, 1889 who was born Jan. 20, 1868. She taught for a period before her marriage in the public schools of Buncombe county. The home of this family was at "Sleepy Hollow," just outside of Weaverville, N. C. Here there was always a hospitable atmosphere, and friends and kin in small numbers up to those of the "Andrew Pickens Reunion" members were often recipients of their hospitality. It was the privilege of the girls and me to visit in their home and attend one of their reunions, held at a nearby home. Their cordiality and friendly spirit made the visit a very happy and well remembered one. Occasional later contacts with members of the family have increased this devotion.

FRANCIS T. PICKENS and wife celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1938. He died in December, 1939 and his wife in February, 1950. Their children are: Nell, Glenn, Esther Katherine (Kate), Edith, Carrie, Francis T. Jr., Margaret, Ethel Lassaphine, Hugh and Samuel Penland Pickens.

Of these, NELL PICKENS has an M.A. from Teachers College, Columbia University and has been in various phases of Home Economics work for several years, including a teaching position at Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, Alabama.

GLENN PICKENS (Dick) was born Oct. 25, 1891. He has been a teacher for a number of years.

ESTHER KATHERINE PICKENS (Kate) was born Feb. 20, 1894. She graduated from Weaver College and taught school for four years. She married Benjamin T. Day, June 15, 1918. He was a successful business man of Easley, S. C. and from an obituary concerning his death Feb. 13, 1949, several facts are quoted. "Mr. Day was born in Easley, March 30, 1897, a son of the late Alonzo E. and Ann Bolt Day. For 22 years he was president of the Easley Lumber Co. and at the time of his death was operating the Day Hardware Co. at Easley and was co-owner of the Seneca Hardware Co. at Seneca."

He served as a member of the State General Assembly from Pickens County 1942-1944. He was past president of the Easley Rotary Club, a Mason and a member of the Hejax Temple of the Shrine. He was also a member of Elks and Moose Lodges.

He was a director of the Easley Chamber of Commerce, the Bank of Easley and the Loan Association. He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Easley.

The children of Ben and Kate Pickens Day are: Margaret Penland Day who married Victor Ball and has two children Ann Katherine (Kathy) Ball, born Jan. 2, 1945 and Esther Caroline Ball, born May 9, 1948, and live in Indiana, I believe. Esther Day who married Don L. Moore, lives at Easley, S. C., and has a child, Benjamin, born in the summer of 1950, named for his grandfather Day.

It has been my privilege to visit in the Day home and to have members of their family in our home. They have also been welcome visitors at our Pickens Reunion on more than one occasion. Kate Pickens Day is a likable, talented person, vitally connected with various undertakings in her home town. She has been connected in an editorial capacity with an Easley newspaper and has a flair for writing. She was well fitted to take up the task of compiling the "Cousin Monroe Pickens History," which he had collected but died before being able to publish it. It is a well done work and much credit is due to her as well as to the collector of the record. She lives at her home in Easley, S. C.

EDITH PICKENS was born Feb. 15, 1896. She attended College and graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1916. She was a talented musician. She married John C. Joyner in 1929, who is a lawyer at Asheville, N. C. They had three children. Edith Pickens Joyner died in August, 1942. Her daughter Nancy Joyner is being raised by her Aunt Kate Pickens Day.

HUGH CURRY PICKENS made a good record as a student and in athletics at Weaver College. He was employed in Easley, S C., and was at the home of his sister, Kate Pickens Day when he died suddenly in Feb. 1939.

PEARL AND SAMUEL PICKENS of this family died in infancy.

b. ELIZA ANN PICKENS, daughter of Rev. Andrew and Catherine Weaver Pickens was born Aug. 17, 1820. She married Andrew J. Gill, lived at Weaverville, N. C. and died Aug. 14, 1912. They reared a family.

By the first wife there were, Francis C., Flora, Ella and Mary C. Pickens. By the second, James F., J. Wiley, Mary E., and Cornelius Miller Pickens. The latter, known as Rev. C. M. Pickens attended our Reunion. He was born at Weaverville, N. C. Jan. 20, 1867. He became a minister of the Methodist church in 1892. He served various churches in N. C., and has had many positions of honor and trust in the general work of the Methodist church. He has also been a trustee and long time worker in the interest of Weaver College. The former was a lawyer and held positions of honor including that of Representative in the legislature. He married and had a family.

e. MARTHA CATHERINE PICKENS, daughter of Rev. Andrew Pickens and wife was born May 27, 1831 and died Dec. 1, 1890. She married William Henry Carter Jan. 26, 1848. They had seven children.

f. MARGARET SUSANNA PICKENS, daughter of Rev. Andrew Pickens and wife was born July 22, 1835 and died Sept. 2, 1929 at Grouse, Oregon. She married James Bachus Ray and after his death married Nathan Ray. There were several children.

(7). DORCAS PICKENS, daughter of Captain Robert and Dorcas Hallum Pickens, was born July 24, 1785 in Anderson County, S. C. She married William Paris and moved to McMinn County, Tennessee. There were several children.

(8). ANNIE PICKENS, daughter of Captain Robert and Dorcas Hallum Pickens was born May 22, 1787. She is thought to have married James Bowling and to have gone west.

(9). ROBERT PICKENS, youngest son of Captain Robert and Dorcas Hallum Pickens, was born in Anderson County, S. C. May 14, 1795 and died in the same house Nov. 1, 1871. He was buried in the Pickens graveyard. He married (1) Martha Smith Nov. 17, 1814 and their children were: Margaret, Sarah, John, William S., Robert Mason, Martha Ann, James Madison, Charles Franklin, and Israel Wesley Pickens. He married (2) Nancy Pegg, April 11, 1837. Their children were: Elizabeth C., Andrew Monroe, Thomas Jefferson, Sidney Asbury, Virginia Angeline, Dorcas Emeline, Mary M., Adison G., and Savina Jane Pickens.

Much data and many interesting stories are given of this family as well as of many other persons in the Monroe Pickens record but I shall only give the lineage from here of Monroe Pickens.

The father of Monroe Pickens was the fifth child of (9) Robert Pickens and his first wife, Martha Smith Pickens. He was born in the old Pickens homestead in Anderson Co., S. C., March 14, 1899. He served in the Confederate army and at the close of the war became a Minister of the Methodist Church. He served many churches and was a Mason. He married Martha Ann Burdine Jan. 17, 1850. Their children were; Julia, Zealy Ann, James Robert. Theodore Franklin, William Asbury, Thomas Mason Monroe and Wesley Burdine Pickens.

MONROE PICKENS, next to the last in the list of children, was born in Anderson County, S. C., Sept. 30, 1866. He died February 7, 1945 at his home in Greenville, S. C. He became an accountant and entered the service of the Southern Railway Company Feb. 12, 1896 in Charlotte, N. C. He transferred the next year to Greenville, S. C. where he remained in service until his retirement April 1, 1938.

He married Emma Medlock Nov. 4, 1891 who lives at Greenville, S. C. Their child was born May 5, 1903. She married Warren Wells Hunt, March 27, 1937.

Monroe Pickens was a member of the Board of Directors of several Loan Companies. He was a member of the Woodmen of the World and an officer in the Odd Fellows organization.

He was truly an ardent lay member of the church. On the date of his first birthday following his death, Buncombe St. Methodist Church dedicated the Church Bulletin to his memory. A good likeness of him was pictured on the front. From a copy sent to me by his daughter, I copy these words from his pastor, Rev. J. W. Shackford. "In the Church School, at one time or another, he served as Supt., as Treasurer of its funds, as Chairman of its Board of Education, Superintendent of Literature and Classification, and as host to the school. All of these positions except the first were held by him at the time of his death. Perhaps, however, the picture of him that will be remembered longest, is that of his tall, impressive figure, standing in the hall of the Church School Building on Sunday morning. There he always stood, as the personification of Buncombe Street Church School, to welcome all who entered, early or late, and to direct little children and strangers to the proper class rooms.

For many years he served as Steward, as Trustee and as Chairman of the Board of Trustees . . . . . and as Church Historian, lovingly compiling and recording the facts and events that belonged to the history of Buncombe Street . . . . . It was fitting that such a man, who though a layman, had so fully invested his life in the service of God and his church, should by unanimous consent, stand on each communion Sunday by the Table of the Lord to assist with the Holy Communion."

A banquet was given in the church in honor of Monroe Pickens and his wife on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. He was a kindly, courteous man surely revered by those who knew him more intimately but remembered kindly by those others of us who were privileged to know him in only the few times he was present among us at our Reunions.

And that brings us to the thought of his great work in collecting Pickens history. For a great many years he had been spending much time at this task. In a letter, he said that he made it a rule to write a letter or add something each night to his family record. He was interested in any Pickens by the name and most obliging in giving out facts or suggestions to others in the same search. He leaves a wonderful record, a lasting memorial in the marvelous history he prepared with all its facts and interesting stories of the Pickens people about whom he wrote. As the generations glide by, making that much harder the collection of ancestral history, the value of his work will be even more enhanced.

JOHN AND ELEANOR PICKENS

(According to quite positive proof the above couple are the parents of our John Pickens.)

6. JOHN PICKENS, last in the list of the children of WILLIAM and MARGARET PICKENS was probably born in Ireland, coming to America with his parents when a small child. From the Monroe Pickens record he, with other brothers, lived first in Bucks County, Pennsylvania and then Lancaster, moving to Virginia about 1740. Miss Owen, Genealogist said that from Chalkey's Records of Augusta County, Va., he came to Washington County, Virginia in 1745 and left here in 1754 or 1756 for South Carolina. The name of his wife was Eleanor.

He was quite a business man and there are entries of various sources in Chalkley's History of Augusta County Court Records, concerning him. John Pickens and Eleanor his wife, living in Augusta, while a part of Orange received a deed in 1740. Feb. 27, 1740, "John Pickens "Gent" sold to William Baskins 10-L, current money of Virginia 212 acres—acknowledged and dower released by Eleanor, his wife." Feb. 27, 1740 John Pickens and Eleanor his wife sold to Anthony Strother of King George from Beverly. Feb. 27, 1740, John Pickens sold to Wm. Baskins 552 acres, part of 764 acres conveyed by Beverly to John Pickens. June 1, 1748, John Pickens bought 400 acres on southside of river, near Samuel Davidson, and 400 acres near land he bought from Dotty. Aug. 16, 1749, John Pickens bought 400 acres—Hamilton's old place and 400 acres between John Kerr and John Carr. He and wife Eleanor sold 300 acres of land on Christians Creek to Wm. Bell, Oct. 9, 1754.

He was a farmer and "a trader and cattle dealer and had been for several years before 1747." In July 1746 he had a mill. In a suit of Sept., 1746, he was called "Major." He was a member of the first court of Augusta County in 1745. He was chosen by Elizabeth and Catherine King, November 27, 1751, to be their Guardian. He sued a man for slander who said he had run away from Paxton township, where he had formerly lived.

He left Augusta County in 1754 and from then on his whereabouts are rather vague. He is said by some to have settled in Craven County and in 1767 was in Granville County. He is thought by some to have drowned in 1760 at Grindle Shoals Bridge, S. C. There is record of a deed of sale of property sold by John Pickens, Sr. of Prince William Parish, 1769, "on both sides of Great Rocky Creek in Granville County, bordered by Gabriel Pickens on the north-east, transferred to John Middleton with John Pickens, Jr. as a witness to the transaction. (This deed is recorded at Charleston in 1769.) (Rev. Sharp.) If this deed is for the John in question it was of course another John who drowned in 1760.

I shall quote now from the record of Rev. E. M. Sharp. "There are some published records of the pastorate of Rev. John Craig, when he was pastor of the Old Stone Church in Augusta County, Va. and from them and several other sources we have a partial list of the children of Old John Pickens as follows:

1. Elizabeth
2. William
3. Israel
4. Helenor (Eleanor)
5. Robert

(These are all listed as baptized children of John and Eleanor Pickens at the old Stone Church by Rev. John Craig.)

6. Capt John
7. William Gabriel

(The last two mentioned in pension application of Wm. Gabriel Pickens who was living in Livingston County, Ky. in 1833.)

This is a copy of the pension application, which proves the above relationship. "WILLIAM GABRIEL PICKENS, File S-1244, National Archives, Washington, February 3, 1833 . . . . . age 72 the 18th of October last. Applicant for pension while living in Livingston County, Kentucky. Born October 18, 1760. About 1775 he first entered service as a private in the District of Abbeville, and as a volunteer under Captain Robert Anderson stationed himself at Fort Independence in Georgia against the Indians in 1777. In that year, General Williamson made a campaign into the Indian country and defeated them . . . "I was not in the campaign, having been left with others under CAPT. JOHN PICKENS, my BROTHER, to guard the Fort."

The applicant volunteered with many others about April, 1781, under Capt. Carruthers, Maj. Alexander Noble and Col. Robert Anderson and joined Gen. Greene during the siege of Ninety Six. "In the siege my brother-in-law, Capt. Joseph Pickens, was killed. On the retreat of Greene, most of the militia dispersed for a few days and reassembled about fifteen miles above Ninety Six and there joined GENERAL PICKENS, an own cousin of myself, we being brothers' children, with whom I was raised."

"Under General Pickens I served as a spy. I came to the determination of quitting the service for awhile as the support of an aged mother and a widowed sister (wife of Capt. Joseph Pickens) devolved upon me. I was dissuaded from this by Capt. Norwood whose company I joined October, 1781, and continued till April or May 1872. In consequence of over-exertion in my younger days, exposure, etc., I became blind at an early age and can scarcely distinguish any object."

Of the children of John and Eleanor Pickens Rev. Sharp has this to say:

1. ELIZABETH PICKENS born around Jan., 1741 in Augusta County, Va. Nothing more known.

2. WILLIAM PICKENS born Ca. March, 1742—nothing definite known —may have been in Livingston County, Ky. with descendents in Indiana and Illinois.

3. ISRAEL PICKENS born Ca. August, 1744. Moved to South Carolina.

4. ELEANOR PICKENS born Ca. November, 1746—married her first cousin, Capt. Joseph Pickens, son of Andrew and Anne Davis Pickens.

5. ROBERT PICKENS born Ca. April, 1749—thought to be the Robert who died in Fayette County, Tennessee.

6. JOHN PICKENS—date of birth unknown unless he is our JOHN PICKENS, born May 27, 1751, who, according to his brother William Gabriel Pickens, was a Captain in the Revolutionary War and at one time was in charge of a fort in Georgia during the Indian troubles.

Rev. Sharp has this to say concerning the proof of lineage in the application for a pension by WILLIAM GABRIEL PICKENS given above: "It is a key to all I claim on my Pickens lineage, and I think you will see it is a sort of key to many facts on Pickens history as well as Revolutionary history. In this you will be easily able to deduce that Eleanor Pickens was his sister, and Captain Joseph was his first cousin as well as his brother-in-law and that he was a first cousin of General Andrew Pickens and they were raised together. He couldn't have been son of anyone but old John Pickens and his wife Eleanor." It does seem positive proof for William Gabriel Pickens and for one Captain John Pickens.

JOHN AND LETITIA HANNAH PICKENS

We have now come to the history and lineage of our pioneer ancestors, John and Letitia Hannah Pickens to whom this book is dedicated and for whom, with their descendents, the book was primarily written. The foregoing material of interest, fact and kinship has led into this very pertinent part of our record.

From Virginia and Carolina history of our Pickens kin and farther back to Pennsylvania and across the seas, our interest is now centered on early Tennessee connections and their sister states into which the many descendents of our progenitors have gone.

We consider first John and Letitia Hannah Pickens as to birth and ancestry, life in Virginia and Tennessee and then take up the history of their children, including first the four without lineage and then the other children who form in alphabetical order the eight lines of descent as given.

BIRTH AND ANCESTRY

JOHN PICKENS, our pioneer ancestor, was born May 27, 1751. There is a conflict in tradition and fact as to the place of his birth. Tradition has it that he was born in Ireland, coming to America when a young man and that he left behind a widowed mother and sister. Also from Robert Pickens in the 1880 Census we have the record that his father was born in Ireland. There is always the chance of an error and often it was the grand-father instead of the father who was born across the seas.

The proof as already given in regard to Gabriel Pickens makes it certain that a John Pickens was his brother, hence a son of John and Eleanor Pickens. A genealogist, Miss Owen, Bristol, Va., sent this from Chalkley's Records of Augusta County, Virginia: "JOHN PICKENS from Bucks County, Pennsylvania came to Washington County, Virginia in 1745; left here in 1754 or 1755 and migrated to South Carolina. He had a son (1751-1835) who married Letitia Hannah (1767-1841.) She was the daughter of John Hannah. John Pickens Sr.'s wife was Eleanor." I don't see any way that this historian could have known the correct dates for both John and Letitia Pickens unless he had contacted a member of the family who could tell him or had gotten the dates from a printed record somewhere.

There is no desire to claim a false relationship for we know we are closely related to the Pickens people of the Carolinas and if this is not correct then there must be a similar relationship just as close in its kinship. The name Eleanor, might also have a bearing, since it is repeated in our line, but is not a positive clue.

John Pickens was Scotch-Irish and shares in the legends and facts already given of older Pickens people. Tradition has it that our Pickens clan came from Belfast, Ireland. In case you are interested in remote history, Dr. Bonham of Knoxville, says that we are descended from the tribe of Manasseh who lived in northern Ireland.

LIFE IN VIRGINIA

After the marriage of John Pickens and Letitia Hannah about 1783, they lived in Virginia. I found a record on page 1300 of the Annals of Southwest Virginia which says: "Aaron Lewis by John Jamison, his attorney in fact to John Pickens for 160 pounds, 315 acres on the Middle Fork of Holston River." The date given was 1793, but apparently was an error for they sold the property in 1792.

According to the 1850 Census record of Knox County, Tennessee, their oldest daughter Sarah Pickens (McCammon) was born in Virginia December 11, 1784. The letter to Col. Stuart from John Pickens was written in 1786 from Holston, Virginia. (Vol. 11 P 194 Records of the County Court of Augusta County, Virginia.) In Will Book No. 1, page 194 in the Clerk's Office at Abingdon, Washington County, Virginia, there is a record of a "Power of Attorney" given to John Pickens and I quote:

"Know all men by these presents that I, William Collie of the County Pittsylvania and the State of Virginia do by these precents, writing, constitute and appoint John Pickens of Washington County, for me and in my stead and room my lawful attorney to sell for and recover all my just debts due me in any of the Thirteen States of America and generally to do all my business as if myself was personally present and further to constitute attorney for him and his will to revoke as he my paid attorney may think proper and generally to do in all matters of Law as generally as I myself was personally present, and giving my paid attorney my full power in all matters touching the premises. See witness whereof I have set my hand and seal, this the 5th day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

Signed, sealed and delivered in presence of us—Signed—Michael Montgomery, Levi Jones, Arthur Bowen and Charles Bowen, and signed and sealed by William Collie."

At a court meeting for Washington County, Virginia on Nov. 10, 1789. "this power of attorney from William Collie to John Pickens was exhibited in court and proven by the oath of Michael Montgomery and Arthur Bowen, subscribing witnesses thereto and ordered to be recorded. Signed—Andrew Russell—D. C.—W. C."

In the Washington County Court records P. 1277 (Annals of Southwest Virginia), February 20, 1786, William Collie sold 152 acres of land on a branch of the Middle Fork of Holston River. This is evidently the same man above referred to and there appears to be a definite relationship between the Pickens or Hannahs and Collie (Collins) people as in a letter to Letitia Pickens Ford (later quoted), Elizabeth Collins signed her name as "your cousin."

On page 1299 of the Annals of Southwest Virginia we find that in 1792 John Pickens and wife Lettice Pickens, sold to James Todd 315 acres of land located on a branch of the Middle Fork of Holston River. The consideration was for the sum of 210 pounds. The description of the land makes it the same as that bought earlier and the sale price shows an increase to the amount of fifty pounds. So from the dates above, we infer that John and Letitia Pickens lived in Washington County, Virginia from 1784 or before, until the year 1792.

LIFE IN TENNESSEE

After selling their land in Virginia, John and Letitia Pickens turned toward Tennessee. John Pickens was first of all a farmer and stockman. He had horses and cattle and sheep and hogs and implements with which to cultivate the soil, as shown by his will. He sought grazing land for his animals, so settled on the waters of a creek. He must have loved mountains both for the timber thereon and for their beauty as compared to the monotony of the plains which many farmers dislike. Then, too, this was a frontier section, shortly opened up, and with kinsmen and friends he dared to put his future in this venture. Water was needed for men and animals and with also pasture fields and hills the location was to his liking and Nail's Creek became his home.

Here is a copy of the deed of their purchase of land in Blount County, Tennessee. "Know all men by these presents that Samuel Linsey of Blount County in the Teretory south of the Ohio heath bargned and sold unto John Pickens a certain tract or parcel of land leying and being in the above mensioned County on the waters of Neals (Nails) Creek, suposed to contain three hundred acres of land be the moor or less, for the considersion of one hundred and seven pound, the recet thereof I do hereby acknowledg. Sdland beginning at the foot of Bays Mountain, thene running along Andrew Richeys line, suposed to be near a south corner to John Keans line, thene along his line to John Finleys line thene to the mountain. Sd land I the above named Samuel Linsey maek over all my right claim and title of sd land unto the said Pickens, and do warrant and defend the same from me, my heairs or assins or aney other person leying aney just claim to sd land, unto the sd John Pickens his heairs ex'trs ad'mrs or assins allways, provided the sd Pickens shall pay such sums as the Congress or Assembly shall ley on pr hundred. For the true performanc hereof, I do bind me my heairs ex'trs, ad'mrs unto the sd John Pickens in the penal sume of two hundred and fourteen pound good & lawful money . . . . . dollars at six shillings. As witness I have hereunto set my hand and seal, this eight day of January, 1796. Test: John Kennedy and Nthanael Dunlap. Samuel Linsey name and seal." (Deed in the papers from Tom McMurry and do not know where found.)

John Pickens, Sr. made other land purchases in Blount County. He received a grant of land from the State in 1810. In a transfer of land from Robert Pickens to his brother Thomas Pickens, October 17, 1850, he speaks of one of the three tracts as being the "tract conveyed by the State to John Pickens, Sr., and containing by estimation 287 acres" and partly bounded by William McClurg's line—to a post at the foot of Bay's Mountain—also at the head of a small spring—to the "Lusy" Davice corner—to Nail's Creek—to a stake at Samuel McMurry's place. (P-106—Deed Book—J-Maryville).

William Williams sold land to John Pickens March 16, 1814. Both parties were of Blount County and the land contained 66 and three-fourths acres for the price of 140 dollars. There is this notation, "$1.00 per acre and the interest that is due thereon and may thereafter accrue". The land was on Holston River; signed by William Williams, Francis Jones and Aaron Hackney. (P 332 Deed Book I Maryville). Mr. Parham said that this land was near Lowe's Ferry or Stoney Point or Farragut Ferry toward the lower part of Blount County. It was probably bought in connection with his daughter Jean Pickens Henderson who had married in 1810 and by inference lived in that region.

June 28, 1819, Joel Tucker sold " a tract of land I now live on containing 135 and one-half acres of land for $525 cash." Land was on Nail's Creek, "from a white oak to foot of Bay's Mountain and bounded by James McClurg—sold to John Pickens of Blount County and James Kennedy of Knox County. The land was to be paid for by John Pickens 'as the State demands.' " (Deed Book 2, p 24—Registered August 7, 1819.)

Just where John Pickens and family lived between the dates of 1792 and 1796 is a matter of conjecture. That they lived here before the purchase of land in 1796 is proved by the fact that John Pickens was a juror in Blount County, 1795 as well as serving in the same capacity in 1796, 1807 and 1815.

From the records of Mr. Parham, John Pickens was surety for John Pickens, Jr., in 1817. Also that he was guardian for his grand-son, John Pickens Henderson, a minor. He is mentioned in various transactions of the Henderson estate from the years 1823-1826. He was executor in this same connection in land sales of September 20, 1823 and October 10, 1826. He remained guardian for his grandson until a few months prior to his death when he was succeeded by his son Robert Pickens.

In tradition he was a Revolutionary soldier with some rank, perhaps Captain. Part of the war records were burned or lost and no record has been found of any entrance into a patriotic organization through his service record, hence proof of his military career is lacking. A check by a genealogist at Washington, D. C., also failed to find his name in the War Records department and she suggested intensive search of the counties where he lived. Lists from Washington County, Virginia and nearby counties of the region do not include his name but they are fragmentary lists and not at all conclusive proof that he was not a Revolutionary soldier.

There is an interesting story about the buttons from a coat which descendents in more than one line say were from the coat of John Pickens. A coat described as a broadcloth coat was willed by John Pickens to his son John in his will of July 25, 1831. The son John was 43 years old at the time of the will and no record has been found of his marriage. If he died as a single man the natural inference is that he would intrust the coat to the keeping of a sister and it is through the descendents of two of his sisters that we have the story of the buttons. Jean Pickens, wife of Frank Henderson, had a son John Pickens Henderson and it seems that some buttons were given to him, for a son of his, Charles Joseph Henderson, now deceased, but formerly of Cohutta, Georgia, wrote to me in a letter dated February 6, 1944, about further dispositions of the buttons. The mother of Charles Joseph Henderson and widow of John Pickens Henderson had four buttons which were to be given to the John in the family. "Mother had the buttons made into cuff links and gave them to my brother named John. Then after he died my sister gave them to my son John Owen and he has them now. The buttons as I remember were oval or a little bit oblong with an anchor on them."

A great grand-son of Mary Pickens Minnis, Dr. Lloyd Clay Bonham of Knoxville, Tennessee, recently told me that there were some buttons of the same description in his own family, and that they were from the coat of his old ancestor, John Pickens. He said the buttons were solid silver with an anchor carved on them. Evidently the coat which the oldest John possessed was one of some value or at least it was important enough to be an object of bequeathal. And the fact that it was first willed to a John makes it a plausable idea that the buttons given in turn to a John of the succeeding generations are the same ones originally fastened to the coat of the first John.

LETITIA HANNAH PICKENS was born in Virginia according to the 1880 Census record of her son Robert Pickens. From proof already given she was the daughter of John Hannah and from the John Pickens family Bible she was born October 15, 1767.

Nothing is known about the family life and characteristics of Letitia Hannah Pickens, but judging from fragments of stories about her children it is fair to assume that she was an exemplary mother. Certainly she had courage to leave the known region of her home in Virginia and come with her husband and five small children to a wilderness section to establish a new home.

Ability to manage, a sense of responsibility, a desire to be a good help-mate, an enthusiasm for living, contentment with simple things, capabilities of ingenuity and utilization of the things at hand must have been among the qualities of such a wife and mother. Added to these would be an intense love of home, country, and her Master. In retrospect we can visualize these and other fine qualities in Letitia Hannah Pickens. She must have been greatly revered by her descendents for into the second and third generations and even later, her name either as Letitia or Hannah or Letitia Hannah has been transferred to many of her progeny, as the record shows.

Together John and Letitia Hannah Pickens established a new home meeting the dangers and hardships of frontier life with the hardy spirit of those of the early days. Certainly this family had a vital connection wth the neighborhood. Various references to the use of the Bible as a guide in daily living in the lives of their children, have been heard through the generations and we do feel that without question the old Pickens home had a Godly atmosphere.

The Bible was an object of bequeathal from John to his son Thomas, thus holding at least an esteem on par with the material things willed. Judging from the known faithfulness to Eusebia Church of descendents of John Pickens from days of old to the present time, we cannot but feel an assurance unto belief that John and his family joined others of their neighbors in devotion to and support of Eusebia Church.

Simple markers in the Eusebia Church Cemetery bearing these inscriptions mark the last resting places for John and Letitia Pickens. "Sacred to the memory of John Pickens who died May 2, 1835, aged 83 years 11 months and 6 days and "In memory of Lettes Pickens who died August 25, 1851 aged 73 years 10 months and 10 days." Descendents pausing there among the many other Pickens dead cannot help but feel a true regard for and a high sense of loyalty to these pioneers of the Pickens people of our history.

THE WILL OF JOHN PICKENS, SR.

The following is the will of John Pickens, 1751-1835:
State of Tennessee, Blount County.

I, John Pickens, being in health and sound in memory but calling to mind the immortality of my body do make this my last will and testament. First, I commend my soul to Almighty God, who gave it and my body to be laid in the grave, my worldly estate to be distributed as follows:

I allow all my just debts to be paid according to law. I allow my wife Lettes to have a reasonable maintainance of bread and meat out of the benefits of my land, during her remaining my widow. Also the kitchen furniture and bedding and the benefit of her choice of the cows and hoars creter (horse creature) to ride when necessary.

I leave and bequeath to my daughter, Sarah, one dollar, also to her son John McCammon one cow. Also to her daughters, Lettes and Susannah, each a heifer or yearling.

I leave to my daughter Jean's children—to her son William, one dollar and her son John a hoars (horse) or mair (mare) colt. Also to her daughters Lettes and Nancy each a heifer.

I leave to my son John a sorrel mair (mare)—the oldest sorrel.

I leave to my daughter, Margaret Finley, ten dollars in money.

I leave to my son, Samuel, a note of thirty-eight dollars of a note signed by him to me for a mair (mare) and cow.

I leave to my daughter Eleanor one cow.

I leave to my son Alexander one part of the land where he lives with my part of the saw mill (inus or irus).

I leave to my son Robert all the land with the improvements on the south side of the creek, belonging to the place I live on.

I leave to my son Thomas all the land on the north side of the same place with improvements. I also leave Thomas the black mare and sorrel filley with the one-half of the articles, the other half to Robert.

The articles are as follows—to wit. All the cows young and old except those above mentioned and all the sheep and hogs with the wagon and all the farming utensils, to be equally divided between Robert and Thomas, the land not to be sold until their Mother dies or marries. And she is to have her choice as to whom to live with—Alexander or Robert or Thomas. But the two she does live with to be equal parts supporting her.

I leave to Robert the brown mare, my son John to have my broadcloth coat, Thomas the big Bible and cupboard at his Mother's death and Robert the chest of drawers.

I allow my son Thomas to have the full possession, use and benefit of the mensioned (mentioned) property and land. But not to be at liberty to dispose of it till he is of age.

I leave and bequeathe to daughter, Mary, one dollar.

Signed, sealed and acknowledged this 25th day of July, one thousand, eight hundred and thirty-one, by me.

JOHN PICKENS (Seal)

I do hereby constitute my son Robert to execute this my will.

The four children without progeny are given below. The others with their lines of descent follow in order of their ages.

JOHN PICKENS

C. JOHN PICKENS, third child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born December 25, 1788, presumably in Virginia. No record or him has been found since 1831 when he is mentioned in his father's will, in which he was given "his broadcloth coat and a sorrel mare." No mention is made of any land bequeathed to him. He was forty-three years old at this time. The inference is that he remained single and is buried at Eusebia and no marker.

MARGARET PICKENS

E. MARGARET PICKENS, fifth child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born September 12, 1792, presumably in Virginia. She married James Finley, February 15, 1816. She was twenty-four years old at the time of her marriage and may have lived in the Ellijoy Section with others of the Finley name. She was 39 years old at the time of her father's will in which she was willed some money. No mention is made of any children of hers and other grandchildren were included in the will. I have found no further record of her.

JAMES PICKENS

F. JAMES PICKENS, sixth child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born September 8, 1797 in Blount County ,Tennessee. He died December 28, 1818 and is buried at Big Springs Presbyterian churchyard. Since he is buried away from the Eusebia neighborhood and died as a single young man, the inference is that he may have been visiting in the home of his sister Jean Pickens Henderson who had died the year before and was also buried at Big Springs.

ISSABEL PICKENS

H. ISSABEL PICKENS, eighth child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born October 19, 1801 in Blount County, Tennessee. She died March 9, 1831, and is buried at Eusebia.

SARAH PICKENS McCAMMON

A. SARAH PICKENS, oldest child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born December 11, 1784 in Virginia. (1850 Census record). She died in February, 1877 and is buried at the old Dunn burial place near Valley Grove Baptist Church, on the old Knoxville and Sevierville Highway. From "Tombstones in Tennessee," this old cemetery is located where there used to be a church called "Old Salem," which "seceded" from the Presbyterian.

Sarah Pickens married Thomas McCammon about 1805. He was born in Ireland June 12, 1768, died January 16, 1845, and is buried beside his wife.

Thomas McCammon and wife lived on the farm near Neubert's Springs. All their children were born and reared there. They had only four, but there were large families in the next generation and numerous descendents trace their lineage to Thomas and Sarah McCammon.

Little is know of the life of this couple. There were many acres of productive land: they lived the contented lives of farm people, raising stock and tending the land to the satisfaction of their hearts and compensation for their needs. It is conclusive from the lives of their descendents that the home had a religious atmosphere. Sarah McCammon is said to have been a neighborly person, aiding any in need. The children of Thomas and Sarah Pickens McCammon are:

I	John	b June 24, 1806
II	Samuel	b May 9, 1808
III	Letitia	b About 1818
IV	Susannah	b April 19, 1821

I. JOHN McCAMMON, oldest child of Thomas and Sarah Pickens McCammon, was born June 24, 1806 and died October 5, 1893 at his home not far from his birth place. He lived on a part of the Thomas McCammon estate and operated this farm. He is buried at the Zion Lutheran Church Cemetery in Knox County.

He married Margaret Spangler about 1839. She was born in North Carolina, from the 1850 Census Microfilm record. She died February 15, 1900 and is buried beside her husband. The record of this family was copied from the John McCammon Bible, then in the hands of T. E. McCammon of near the Neubert's section. The children of John and Margaret Spangler McCammon are:

He married Catherine Lauretta Keyhill January 31, 1867, daughter of John and Nancy Tarwater Keyhill. She was born May 4, 1847, and died June 8, 1922. She is buried beside her husband.

Thomas McCammon was a veteran of the Civil War of the Union Army, 3rd. Tennessee Cavalry. Major McTeer said that Thomas McCammon was an orderly at Brigade Headquarters and on a scouting expedition near Florence, Alabama went near the enemy line; the horse became frightened and determined to go into the enemy line. Finally in a barrage of bullets, the horse turned and Major McTeer says, "McCammon stuck right with me, loading and shooting with all the speed he could command, and we came back to the infantry line."

Thomas McCammon was kindly, jovial and well liked by his soldier friends and all who knew him. He lived on the Martin Mill Pike, two miles from Stock Creek Church, on a farm not far from the place where he was born. The home had a Christian atmosphere and all were loyal in their support of the Salem Methodist Church. Their record is from a daughter, Mrs. James Houser. Their children were all born and reared at home and are:

III. LETITIA McCAMMON, third child of Thomas and Sarah Pickens McCammon, was born about 1818. She was reared in the Neubert Springs community of Knox County. She is thought to be buried in the Sweetwater section of Loudon County. She married Allen Anderson Dec. 22, 1835. He was born about 1809.

He was evidently from Knox or Sevier County, perhaps living not so very far from the Eusebia section. The first record of business transactions for Allen and Letitia Anderson was when they sold a piece of property in Knox County which had been heired from Thomas McCammon, father of Letitia. The land was described as their part in the estate and was sold Feb. 10, 1845 to Samuel McCammon Jr. This record was found in a deed at the home of T. C. McCammon at Maryville. There is a notation in an old Eusebia record book which says that Letty Anderson led in prayer at Eusebia Church May 12, 1845.

Probably soon afterward the family moved to Blount County. From the records at the Trustee's office in Blount County I found several land transactions made by him. On March 7, 1855, "Allen Anderson of the County of Blount bought land in the 1st District, Blount County, Tenn." There were 145 acres of land. On March 4, 1857 he had sold land in Blount County. In 1859 he was security on a marriage bond in Blount County. In transactions of Aug. 13, 1860 and of Feb. 11, 1862 he was a resident of Monroe County. He was listed as a resident of McMinn County when on Feb. 4, 1862 he bought land from heirs of Samuel McCammon who owned land on Nile Mile Creek in 1st District of Blount County, Tenn. The heirs were Margaret McCammon McMurry (wife of Boyd McMurry) of Knox County and Susannah McCammon Pickens (wife of Col. William C. Pickens) and were the daughters of Samuel McCammon a brother of Thomas and uncle of Letitia McCammon Anderson. A record gives the death of the above Samuel as in 1841 and that he left minor daughters. A descendent of Margaret McCammon McMurry says that Letitia McCammon Anderson partly raised Margaret McCammon McMurry so the Allen Andersons probably moved to the McCammon farm and made a home for the orphan Margaret until her marriage, afterward buying the property she and her sister inherited.

I had some first hand news about the family from Mr. E. P. Lee at Big Springs, Blount County. He said that Allen Anderson bought land at Sweetwater. Said he died there and his widow Letty McCammon Anderson lived with her son, John, of that community and that Allen and Letty Anderson are evidently buried in the Sweetwater section. He said that Letty Anderson was a large, heavy-set woman.

From the microfilm at the Knoxville library I found this record of Allen and Letitia Anderson, which had been made, Nov. 29, 1850: Allen 41, Letitia 32, Thomas 13, John 11, Sarah 7, Samuel 5, and Lewis 1, which would make the approximate birth dates as given below, except for Thomas, whose record I was able to trace.

a Thomas	b January	6,	1837
b John	b		1839
c Sarah	b		1843
d Samuel	b		1845
e Lewis	b		1849

JEAN PICKENS HENDERSON

B. JEAN PICKENS, second child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born Oct. 30, 1786 in Virginia and came to Tennessee with her parents when nine or ten years of age. She died Dec. 28, 1817 and is buried at the Big Springs Church Cemetery in Blount County. She married Frank Henderson about 1810, who was born in 1776, died March 17, 1823, and is buried beside his wife.

The descendents of this line speak of the husband of Jean Pickens as Frank, instead of Francis, but the record from the tombstone is this: "In memory of Francis Henderson who died March 17, 1823, age 47 years." I think the Francis may have been changed to Frank to save confusion with the Francis Henderson who married Eleanor Pickens, a sister to Jean. For the sake of clarity and because the relatives use the name Frank, it will be thus used in this record.

Jean Pickens is called Jean in the family record of her birth, but the tombstone record has it thus: "In memory of Jane Henderson who died Dec. 28, 1817, aged 31 years." Since the names are essentially the same, I am using the form of Jean.

From Mr. Parham's record, "the land that John Pickens Henderson inherited from his parents, Frank and Jean Pickens Henderson was on Gallaher Creek, within one mile, and some including Big Springs." John Pickens, as executor of his grand-son, John Pickens Henderson sold land to Joseph Johnston Dec. 9, 1823. This land was part of a grant No. 181, containing 136 acres and bargained for during the life-time of said Francis Henderson.

John Pickens as executor, also sold land to James McColmon on Gallaher Creek Oct. 10, 1826. Robert Pickens succeeded his father as executor of John

P. Henderson and was functioning as such March 24, 1834. Robert Pickens says he received $358 from former guardian John Pickens, that belonged to John P. Henderson. This was a report to the Blount County Court Aug. 25, 1842.

John P. Henderson receipted Robert Pickens Jan. 26, 1843, as "he is of age," and said that the money was from "the estate of my father."

The children of Frank and Jean Pickens Henderson are:

I	William	b November	2, 1811

Later he discontinued obstetrical work and is now diagnostician of injuries and lesions of the body. People come from all over the state. He is still very busy."

I had a very interesting letter of general Henderson information from Dr. Lida Betts. A sister, Mrs. Hanner, writes that Dr. Lida Betts was married at Kirkville, Missouri where she was in Osteopathic training. Also that later the dual physicians practiced in Chattanooga and Knoxville, Tenn., and then went to Salem, South Dakota for several years before going to their present location at Huron, South Dakota.

Dr. Lida Betts has not only been a help-mate for her husband but a co-worker in his medical profession. Their letterhead bears this inscription—Dr. C. S. Betts, Dr. Lida Betts—Osteopathic Physicians, Huron, South Dakota. Dr. Lida graduated from the same school as her husband and says of herself. "I practiced Pediatrics and Women's Diseases. Had a good practice for forty years. I have been crippled and helpless for several years from Rheumatoid Arthritis and use a wheel chair." f. JOHN HENDERSON, son of William and Elizabeth Bogle Henderson, born about 1857 in Dalton, Georgia, died at Fort Worth, Texas in 1936. From Dr. Lida Betts, Huron, South Dakota, I have this about him: "John Henderson left his home at Dalton when a young man about 17 or 18 years old and went to Forth Worth, Texas, where he lived until his death. He remained single and was a friend to everyone." Several of his nieces and nephews were at his bedside shortly before his death. He was Superintendent of the Cotton Belt Railway Shops in Fort Worth, Texas. He was generous with his family, aiding his sisters, nieces, and nephews.

II. LETITIA HANNAH HENDERSON, second child of Frank and Jane Pickens Henderson, was born in Blount County, Tennessee, July 7, 1813. She died March 10, 1898 and is buried at the Eusebia Cemetery. She married James Campbell Sheddan Dec. 14, 1848. He was born July 15, 1815 and died June 19, 1879. He is buried beside his wife. He was the son of James Campbell, Sheddan, Sr., who settled on Nail's Creek not far from the old John Pickens homestead and where the succeeding generations of Sheddans lived and some still make their home. All of them have been staunch supporters of the Eusebia Church. Letty Henderson Sheddan was probably reared in the Eusebia section by relatives, since she was only four years of age when her mother died and lost her father six years later. Those who knew her in her mature years speak of her as a very sweet person. The children of Campbell and Letty Henderson Sheddan are:

a Jane Ann	b January	22, 1850
b Emely	b September	14, 1851
c Nancy Malinda	b December	27, 1852
d James Henderson	b May	21, 1855
b Emely	d January	9, 1852

a. JANE ANN SHEDDAN, oldest child of Campbell and Letty Henderson Sheddan, was born Jan. 22, 1850. She died Aug. 31, 1914 at Maryville, Tennessee, and is buried in Magnolia Cemetery. She married Maj. Ben Cunningham Sept. 12, 1867. He was born Dec. 10, 1840 in the vicinity of upper Nail's Creek in Blount County, Tennessee and died at Maryville, Tenn. Jan. 8, 1914. He is buried beside his wife. He was the son of Ben, Sr., and Sarah Kirkpatrick Cunningham. More of this record will be given later.

Maj. Ben Cunningham was left an orphan at an early age. His mother died when he was only five years of age and his father died when he was only nine years old. He was reared at the home of his sister, Mrs. Nancy Davis at Maryville. This home was about where the Anderson Lumber Company is now located. He also lived in his younger days in the vicinity of the present Wilkinson Store about two miles from Maryville, on the Wilkinson road.

He was educated in the county schools and was attending Maryville College at the outbreak of the Civil War. In this conflict (1860-65) he made a distinguished record. Major McTeer mentioned in his autobiography that Major Ben Cunningham with Samuel W. Pickens and Levator Weir were authorized to raise Company A of the 3rd Tennessee Cavalry and that Major Ben (then a private) returned home to gather recruits for this new unit. From the War Department record these facts were gleaned concerning him. He was enrolled March 8, 1862 and mustered into service April 24, 1862 as a private of Co. A, 6th Tennessee Infantry to serve three years. He left this company Sept. 1, 1862 to accept a commission as 1st Lt. of Co. A, 3rd Tennessee Cavalry and was mustered into this service Nov. 15, 1862. He became Capt. of this Company on July 19, 1864, was mustered into service as Major, Field and Staff, 3rd Tennessee Cavalry. He received a severe shoulder wound in the battle of Sulphur Trestle, Alabama in the Fall of 1861. Major McTeer said that at this battle, Col. Lathrop was killed, Col. John B. Minnis who took his place was wounded and that Maj. Cunningham as the next ranking officer assumed command, when he also was wounded. He resigned from the service June 21, 1865. This separation from the service was honorable.

At the close of the war he returned to Blount County, married and purchased the Cunningham place of his father at Nail's Creek. This was in Dec. 1867. Here the family lived until 1882 when they moved to Maryville. Their children except Ben were born while they lived on the farm. Major Ben continued the operation of the farm some years after coming to Maryville.

He was a public-spirited citizen and served the public well. He was elected to serve as County Court Clerk of Blount County from January, 1881 to August, 1902, a period of twenty-one years. He resigned to accept the position as Treasurer of Maryville College in 1900, which position he filled with much honor and credit until his death in 1914.

He was a member of the originators of the Bank of Maryville and his name was on its charter. This Bank grew out of a need chiefly for a bank closer than Knoxville for Maryville College to do its banking. Rev. P. M. Bartlett was the first President and Major McTeer was the Vice-President.

Major Cunningham was a valuable member and deacon of the New Providence Presbyterian Church in Maryville. He was chairman of the Building Committee, which erected the present church. As a Christian gentlemen, a dependable citizen of good judgment, a man of character and integrity, he had a wide influence and his memory is greatly revered.

The Cunningham home was noted for its congenial atmosphere. Young people were welcomed and treasured alike the memory of a special invitation or the enjoyment of an unexpected call. In her quiet way, Mrs. Cunningham not only was a good Christian mother and homemaker but served well in her influence with those outside her home whose lives she touched.

The children of Major Ben and Jane Sheddan Cunningham are:

Upon the retirement of Consul-general Cunningham a Knoxville paper gave this tribute. "He distinguished himself in the Shanghai crisis of 1932, when the Japanese army invaded the city" . . . From a Chinese paper sent to a friend, Charles T. Cates of Knoxville, this excerpt was included in the article. "Ever since he was transferred to China 22 years ago, he has consistently worked for co-operation, not only between the Chinese and Americans alone, but among all people of all nationalities of this cosmopolitan city." The paper also quoted Mayor Wil Te-chen as calling Mr. Cunningham, "my real friend, a friend in need."

Mr. Cunningham married Elizabeth Rhoda Israel in London, England, Nov. 14, 1911. She died at Hangchow, China, March, 1934.

Mr. Cunningham lives the quiet life of retirement in the old Cunningham home of his boyhood in Maryville, Tennessee. His opinions are valued, especially in regard to questions of international importance. He is an interesting conversationalist and it is a profitable pastime to engage in conversation with him.

He has many trophies and relics of his life abroad.

He died Dec. 8, 1897 and is buried in West View Cemetery at Dalton, Georgia. Left as a two weeks old orphan, he was raised by relatives, and partly raised by his Aunt Mary Pickens Minnis. He in all probability grew up in Blount County as the Minnis family lived here for a long while and certain business relations with relatives while he was a minor would indicate that he was then living in Blount County.

He is described by his children as being about five feet and eight inches tall and to have had brown eyes, called "eagle eyes" by some. He taught school and lived on a farm near Dalton, Georgia, where all the children were born. He married Varissa Jane Ault Feb. 10, 1848. She was born Aug. 14, 1831 and died Dec. 8, 1922, exactly 25 years from the date of her husband's death. She is buried beside her husband. She was the daughter of Henry and Sarah Jones Ault. b. MARY ELIZABETH HENDERSON, second child of John P. and Jane Ault Henderson was born Dec. 29, 1850. She died Jan. 31, 1897 at Chattanooga, Tenn. She is buried near Dalton, Georgia. Her daughter writes of her. "She was a midwife besides being a mother to a daughter. She was a great humanitarian, helped a great many destitute families, giving to the poor and doing without herself."

Mary Elizabeth Henderson married L. W. Brown June 6, 1882. He was born Jan. 30, 1824 at Lorraine, New York. He died Jan. 18, 1908 in Waring, Georgia. He is buried in Blue Earth City, Minn. His daughter wrote of him. "He worked many years for Thurber Bros., a confectionary concern in Syracuse, N. Y. He then went to Minnesota and was a wheat farmer, then came south and bought a farm in a Georgia. He was president of the Agricultural Society of Prescott. In a Patrons of Husbandry meeting at Blue Earth City, Minnesota, he was honored as 'Master'." I presume that is a title similar to that of "Master Farmer" given in Tennessee to outstanding farmers.

The only child of L. W. and Mary E. Henderson Brown is:

1 Florence May b December 19, 1894

1. FLORENCE MAY BROWN married Albert C. Steward Oct. 26, 1902. He died October 24, 1925, and was buried on the 23rd anniversary of their marriage. Facts of his life as sent by the family are that he was 1st Sgt. of 8th Cavalry in the Spanish American War, spent three years in service, serving in Cuba, he was a policeman for 15 years and was killed while on duty.

Left with six boys and a girl, Florence May Steward met the situation with courage and devotion to her family. She writes that she survived it and kept her children together. She took a job "in the Police Station May 4, 1927 and held that position as a cleaner until January, 1950, having kept busy far beyond the necessary period of her children's need." At this time she resigned at sixty-five years of age. So many times in the search for family records I have been greatly moved by the courage shown in the midst of much hardship and surely there can be no greater love and loyalty than that shown by such pluck and determination. The daughter wrote of her mother's sacrifices and said that she surely did deserve much credit "for a beautiful job raising a large family without a father or a helper." She lives now in Philadelphia, Penn., from where the record of her parents and her own family was sent. The children of A. C. and Florence May Steward are:

f. JANE (Jennie) HENDERSON, sixth child of John P. and Jane Ault Henderson was born March 9, 1860. She is living in Chattanooga at the age of ninety years. (1950). I had the privilege of a few hours with her family in the summer. I am still marvelling how any one could possibly have such poise, alertness and physical characteristics at such an advanced age. I got some valuable background history there and leads to some much desired and hitherto unknown records of the William Henderson family. Jane Henderson married James Madison Murray Feb. 17, 1890. Lily Henderson Williams attended a Pickens Reunion at Eusebia Church one time and many of us remember seeing her then. She lives now with her sister, Mrs. Murry and I enjoyed seeing her again. She has been ill but was so jolly and interested in the history. I am greatly indebted to her for records of the Jean Pickens Henderson history. She has been a big help through the years. She and others of the household are church members and workers in the church that is nearest to them.

i. CHARLES JOSEPH HENDERSON, ninth child of John P. and Jane Ault Henderson, was born July 4, 1868. He died Nov. 1, 1949. He is buried in the Varnell Station Cemetery. He lived near Cohutta on a farm and raised thousands of chickens on a cooperative basis. I had the privilege of meeting him and his family a few years ago, at their home. He reminded me of cousin Ollie Pickens, son of Robert Pickens. A singular thing is that his sister, Mrs. Murray reminded me very much of Cousin Belle Pickens Hines, a sister to Cousin Ollie.

Charles Henderson also aided in Henderson information and wrote about what he knew or could find out. He was a charter member of the Cohutta Presbyterian Church and an official for many years. He married Clara B. Hamilton Nov. 18, 1896. She was born Dec. 2, 1865 and died May 8, 1947. She is buried beside her husband. The couple celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Nov. 18, 1946.

MARY PICKENS MINNIS

D. MARY PICKENS, fourth child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born November 25, 1790. Since her sister Sarah was born in Virginia in 1784, it is presumed that Mary was also born in Virginia and probably at Holston, from where the family came to Tennessee in 1795 or 1796. Mary Pickens Minnis died June 16, 1875 in Whitfield County, near Cohutta, Georgia. She is buried in the Harkness Cemetery near there.

She married Samuel Minnis April 8, 1817, in Blount County, Tennessee. He was born January 9, 1790 and was the son of John and Nancy McCammon Minnis, who were from Tyrone, Ireland and came to Blount County, probably, around 1790. Samuel Minnis died in Whitfield County, Georgia, September 2, 1866 and is buried beside his wife.

From Mr. Parham's record the old John Minnis home was first on Pistol Creek near Maryville. From a notation of Tom McMurry, evidently gained from an interview with Mrs. Bonham, (Amanda Minnis), a grand-daughter of Samuel Minnis; "The old Minnis farm was located six miles south of Maryville on Nine Mile Creek, which ran through the center of the farm: the turnpike or road to Tellico Plains being west of the farm: the Henly Terry road was also west of the farm."

It is not known just when the Minnis family left Tennessee and went to Georgia to live. Samuel Minnis and other heirs of John and Nancy McCammon Minnis sold the old Minnis farm in Blount County in 1837. The Samuel Minnis family purchased 160 acres of land on Cohutta Creek in Whitfield County, Georgia. The above land record was furnished to me by Letitia Pickens, granddaughter of Samuel Minnis.

Not much is known of Samuel Minnis. He appears to have been a farmer throughout his life. From stories of the family we infer that he was honest, industrious and God-fearing. No doubt he was an asset to the communities where he lived.

The life of Mary Pickens Minnis is also one of conjecture but there is one clear picture of her character as well as a portrait of herself. I saw a photograph of her and upon her knee was a large open Bible. A grand-daughter who had the photo remarked that she surely lived by the Bible, too. Those words from one who had known of her life through her mother, express just about all one needs to know about Mary Pickens Minnis. Such a person would have to be honest, industrious, capable and faithful to her household, her community and her church. That she was deeply religious is very apparent and she was undoubtedly a very zealous member of the Eusebia Presbyterian Church and other churches in the neighborhoods where she lived.

As all the children of Samuel and Mary Pickens Minnis were born by 1837, except the youngest one, it is apparent that all with the possible exception of the youngest child was born in Blount County, Tennessee.

The children of Samuel and Mary Pickens Minnis are:

I	John	b March 2, 1818
II	James Pickens	b Oct. 26, 1819
III	Susan	b April 30, 1821
IV	Elizabeth Jane	b March 1, 1824
V	Robert Anderson, Dr.	b Feb. 2, 1826
VI	Samuel Alexander	b March 31, 1828
VII	William	b March 20, 1830
VIII	Thomas	b March 18, 1832
IX	Letitia Isabella	b June 5, 1834
X	Mary J.	b Nov. 11, 1839

I. JOHN MINNIS, oldest child of Samuel and Mary Pickens Minnis was born March 2, 1818. He died July 19, 1878 and is buried at the Cemetery in Madisonville, Tennessee. He lived on a farm near Madisonville, on the road to Hiwasse College and on a Branch which is still called the "Minnis Branch," and from scarce fragments of news about him he must have been kind-hearted and considerate.

He was married three times. The first wife was Elizabeth J. Debusk whom he married October 11, 1838. She died March 5, 1840. He married second, Margaret R. Cheyne. She was born May 31, 1822 and died July 19, 1853. He married third, Mrs. Sarah A. McTeer Everett, from Morganton. She was born May 23, 1822 and died September 12, 1894. All are buried in the cemetery at Madisonville, Tennessee.

The child of John and Elizabeth J. DeBusk Minnis was:

a Mary J. b Nov. 13, 1839

a. Mary Minnis was left an orphan at the age of 4 months. She is said to have lived with a grandmother a great deal of the time. I am indebted to

Mrs. C. N. Walker, now deceased, for some vivid pictures of this family. She appears in the record later, and is a grand-daughter of John Minnis.

She says that Mary married a Mr. Taylor. He had a daughter by a previous marriage named Elizabeth. The Taylors had two children — named Quincy and Fanny Taylor. Mr. Taylor was killed by accident. Her life "as a dear little grey haired lady is a most pathetic, and a most interesting one with a beautiful ending." Mary Minnis Taylor died September 12, 1915 and is buried with her husband in the old Sweetwater Cemetery.

Children of John and Margaret Cheyne Minnis are:

b. Susan b May 31, 1849 c. Tennie b Sept. 4, 1857

c. Tennie Minnis died December 25, 1910. She too, is buried at Madisonville. She married a Mr. Faulkner. There were no children. From Mrs. Walker, "Tennie's life could all be wrapped up in a prayer, a song, and psalms."

d. ELLEN MINNIS, oldest child of John and Mrs. Sarah Everett Minnis, died May 30, 1920. She married William Dixon and lived on the farm of her father. She and her husband are buried in the Madisonville Cemetery. Her daughter, Mrs. C. N. Walker said of her. "She was a beautiful woman. My father was always proud of her. She was a regular little mother." Mrs. Walker remembered "the fall flowers she gathered, the two hundred songs she could sing through from beginning to end, many of them of love and romance; her jolly laugh, the Easter eggs she colored; the pretty aprons she made. She did not seem to be doing things for us but with us. She was a great narrator; a good housekeeper." She says her father too had a great influence upon the lives of the children. He was self sacrificing, bearing the burdens of the family in every way he could.

The children of William and Ellen Minnis Dixon are:

1 Margaret Ann	b November	18, 1887

e. HUGH MINNIS, second child of John and Mrs. Sarah Everett Minnis was born at the Minnis home a few miles from Madisonville, May 2, 1861. He married a lady from Chattanooga a few years before his death. He died in 1917 and is buried at Madisonville, Tennessee.

Mrs. Walker wrote of an incident concerning him. "I remember how once when he was at work in Chattanooga as a young man Small Pox had broken out there. They placed his boarding house under quarantine. He and his second cousin, Oscar Minnis escaped from the house. The deputy at Madisonville was advised that the boys were gone. All night they guarded the Minnis home. At dawn the boys were heard whistling in the grove. They had gotten off the train at Sweetwater and walked the 10 miles through the knobs until they reached home. The boys were placed in a tent and guarded by a man who had had Small Pox. Then they were moved to a tenant house as snow was on the ground. The house was to be burned in the event the boys had Small Pox but fortunately they didn't."

The third wife of John Minnis, Mrs. Everett, had two little girls of her own at the time of the Minnis marriage. Their names were Elvira and Minerva Everett. In the light of their relationship to the Minnis family something should be said of them. Elvira was born July 20, 1842 and died April 23, 1928, at the age of 86. She is buried at the Madisonville Cemetery. Mrs. Walker said of her. "I could tell how she taught 61 years — how she lived to be 86, how three-fourths of the people at her funeral had been her pupils. She taught first grade in the same school for 35 years. She lived a life of love and sacrifice, never thinking of herself. I could tell of how three little orphans were her charge — how she had her invalid mother to care for."

Minerva Everett, from Mrs. Walker's sketch was a great beauty and used to take beauty prizes at the Fair. She married Theonda Smith. They had three girls, Vallie, Bertie, and Nellie. The mother died early and then the father. It was these girls whom their Aunt Elvira took to herself raising and finding suitable places for them.

Mrs. Walker said of the Minnis household: "Let me say that my grandfather was a wise and a good man. So was my grandmother a good woman. She gave what money she had to my grandfather. He took her two little girls as his own. Mary the oldest child 11 years old, Tennie and Susan, his little girls and Elvira and Minerva her little girls were all put together. Often I have heard them speak so fondly of pa and ma. They did not seem to know the difference. Two old step-sisters Susan Minnis and Elvira Everett lived together most devotedly for years." She said the older ones also welcomed the coming of the later children, Hugh and Ellen, to the Minnis home and made pets of them.

To my mind John Minnis and his family deserve some sort of a medal in family relationship. That a family of seven children with two different fathers and three mothers in the varying relationships of brother-sister, step-sisters and step-brother and half-brother and sisters, could live together amicably and happily is a wondrous thing and speaks much for the heredity and training of the home to say nothing of the character of those involved.

In some history from Monroe County at the Library at Knoxville, Tennessee, I found that Samuel Young said that he was of Irish descent and that at one time he was a blacksmith. Said his father died when he was very young and he supported his mother and four children — his brothers and sisters. He was in the Civil War as a Union soldier and was an attorney at Madisonville. A fragmentary record of the several children of Samuel Young and Martha Calfie Minnis was sent to me by Mr. George F. Minnis of Madisonville. Later they moved to Whitfield County, Georgia. There were 13 of the Norton children, all of them dying in infancy except A. B., James H., Dorcas D., Margaret, W. J. D., and Ingabo Norton. After moving to Knoxville in 1883 he continued with the railroad as engineer between Knoxville and Bristol for many years.

From the obituary notice of Amanda Minnis I find that after coming to Knoxville she moved her membership to the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church. "She was active in church work until advancing years prevented it. She also had been honored by the presentation of a life membership card in May Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star." She was a much loved person to her eight boys and others of relatives and friends who knew her. She was called "Mother Bonham" by many. 1. From the son TERRY MINNIS, I received the record of his father and his own family record. The letterhead of March, 1942 gives his business as the Minnis Coal Company of Winston-Salem, N. C. He wrote that he was sorry that he could not give fuller information as he was only a little boy at the time of his father's death and the breaking up of his home. At the time of Mrs. Bonham's death at Knoxville, mention is made of the fact that Terry Minnis, a nephew was present at the funeral and that he had been reared in Mrs. Bonham's home. He relates that he had left home when about 16 years of age and had then been away from his people about twenty-eight years. SAMUEL PICKENS

G. SAMUEL PICKENS, seventh child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens was born August 12, 1799 at the homestead of his father at Nail's Creek. He died January 6, 1862 and is buried at the Eusebia Cemetery.

He married Jane M. W. Cowan about 1822, who was born Dec. 3, 1800 and died Dec. 15, 1861, and is buried beside her husband. She was reared at Boyd's Creek, Sevier County.

Samuel Pickens is said to have been a good citizen of the community in which he lived. He was Judge of Sevier County, 1851-1852. Oliver P. Temple in his history of East Tennessee and the Civil War speaks of him on Page 403 as Colonel (Samuel) Pickens, the senator in the legislature from Sevier and other counties.

On page 404, Mr. Temple said: "The work of arresting Union men went on through November and December, 1861 and in the early months of 1862. Among the prominent men thus arrested was Samuel Pickens, an old and respected citizen of Sevier County, then a senator in the legislature. His crime was being a Union man and the father of W. C. Pickens, the leader in the attempt to burn Strawberry Plains Bridge. Without even the form of a trial, unless by the secret and exparte action of Ledbetter's or Carroll's court, he was sent to Tuscaloosa, where he died. There was no evidence against him and he was guilty of no offense. He was a quiet, peaceable and an excellent citizen." Major McTeer wrote that "Judge Samuel Pickens, a man of prominence, well up in years, was sent to Tuscaloosa and in a short time his remains were shipped back for burial."

An article by J. A. Sharp about Nancy Academy, (founded 1806), Sevierville, Tennessee, was published in the Sevier County Republican May 8, 1951. A quote in this article from the Knoxville Register August 23, 1848, states that the trustees of the Academy, Robert H. Hodsden, James McNelly and Samuel C. Pickens advertised for bidders "for the building of a house in the town of Sevierville, 40 ft. long, by 26 ft. wide, 2 stories high for the use of the Academy." He deeded land to the Ellijoy Baptist Church, April 1, 1852 and was a trustee of that church.

Samuel Pickens owned much land in the 10th District of Sevier County at various times. The home was a large house on a Creek near Ellijoy Baptist Church where Samuel farmed and his children were born and reared.

He married Susan McCammon, February 11, 1847. She was born about 1830. She died about 1886 and is buried according to the remembrance of a grand-child at Baker's Creek in Blount County. She was the daughter of Samuel McCammon who lived near Lowe's Ferry in Blount County and was a brother to Thomas McCammon who married Sarah Pickens. A sister Margaret, the only other child in the family, was born July 24, 1828 and died February 16, 1906. She married Boyd McMurry, according to some Blount County records. I have seen from Blount County Marriage Licenses that Samuel McCammon married Rachel Inman Nov. 24, 1826.

Col. William C. Pickens got his title from Civil War days, when he was an officer in the Union Army.

In the early days of the Civil War much bitterness prevailed in the region of our immediate eastern Tennessee section. Those who favored the Union cause objected to some intervention of rebel government and some wise and unwise retaliation resulted. One of these seemingly unwise decisions appears to have been to burn bridges. Oliver P. Temple in his history concerning the Civil War speaks of one bridge and the connection of Col. William C. Pickens with it. "The next bridge on the line was the one on the Holston, at Strawberry Plains, fifteen miles east of Knoxville. William C. Pickens of Sevier County, was the leader selected to destroy this bridge. He was a bold, dashing, reckless, good-natured fellow, who delighted in just such adventures as this." The bridge was guarded and when a match was struck by Pickens a gun was fired and "Pickens fell wounded in the thigh." A man who rushed to the rescue, mistook Pickens for the guard and knifed the wrong person. Consequently Pickens was badly wounded. The box of matches carried by him to burn the bridge was lost in the struggle and as no more matches were available the enterprise of bridge burning was abandoned. "Though Pickens was wounded in two or more places, he was too plucky to give up. He was mounted behind a companion" and went to a place where he received medical attention. The next day "he was placed on a sled, concealed with corn fodder, and hauled back into the mountains, where he remained with occasional changes of place of concealment, until the following January, when he and his associates were piloted across the mountains into Kentucky. Here he and others raised the Third Tennessee Cavalry, and he became its first colonel."

Goodspeed's History for East Tennessee says that William C. Pickens was Clerk and Master in Blount County from 1864-1867. Also that he was Sheriff in Sevier County from 1851-1852. He lived in Sevier County the greater part of his life but lived for a while in Maryville. From Mr. Parham's record he owned a tan yard there at one time.

1. RUDY PICKENS was born in Tennessee and since his arrival in Washington State has made his home there. His home is at Mt. Vernon. I have had several letters from this family with news and pictures of them. I shall quote about Rudy Pickens. "He served in the U. S. War in 1898. Since the time of his marriage in 1900 he has been employed or worked for the State and County almost all of the time since that date. He was employed at the State Penitentiary, the State Reformatory, four years as Sheriff and fourteen and one-half years as Superintendent of the County Farm and Hospital. Since 1936 he has been looking after his own houses which he rents and taking life a little easier." The family are all members of the Baptist church. They sent clippings and pictures of the flooding Skagit River, which around February 11, 1951 inundated whole towns and villages and caused some damage and greatly threatened Mt. Vernon, Washington.

Rudy Pickens married Ella Dora Giles May 29, 1900. They celebrated their golden wedding on Sunday May 28, 1950. From a clipping, "Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pickens were greeted by a host of friends and relatives on the event of their golden wedding reception at their home on Sunday, May 28, from two to four o'clock and from seven to nine o'clock. Mrs. Pickens greeted the guests in a dinner gown of dusty pink taffeta. She wore an orchid corsage, the gift of Mr. Pickens. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Cowen Pickens, Mrs. Mark Pickens and Mrs. E. A. Peterson, daughters-in-law and daughter of the honored couple. The table was covered with a lace ecru cloth and centered with a three tiered white wedding cake decorated with gold. Miss Mio Pickens, a grand-daughter had charge of the guest book.

Miss Ida Halpin, who was maid of honor fifty years ago at the wedding which took place at the Giles home in Rosario, was able to attend the reception. Her brother, who served as best man, was ill and unable to attend. Surprising the family Sunday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Pickens of Richmond, California, who came up by plane for the occasion. The daughter, Mrs. E. A. Peterson of Ventura, California had arrived a week ago by plane. The other son lives at Mt. Vernon.

He died at a Knoxville hospital August 1, 1929 and is buried at Alder Branch near Sevierville, Tennessee. At the time of his death an article appeared in a Knoxville newspaper from which I quote. "Davis' genius and fearlessness as a law enforcement officer was a household word in the South 30 years ago. More than any other one man he helped work the overthrow of the notorious White Caps, who terrorized the region of the Smoky foothills for years . . . After schooling at Carson-Newman College and Knoxville Business College and several years of teaching, he became deputy sheriff, the role in which he so distinguished himself by operations against the White Caps. Later he was elected sheriff of Sevier County.

"After peace returned to his county, Davis' man-hunting propensities carried him to other parts. He served as railroad detective in St. Louis during the World's Fair; did detective work in Florida, and later was police chief at Jellico and Etowah. He ran for sheriff of Knox County in 1920 and was defeated by only 164 votes.

"Two of Davis' achievements toward overthrow of the White Caps are best remembered. He toiled in the State Legislature for enactment of legal machinery necessary for the clean-up and got the Sevier court put on the Knoxville circuit. And he ran to earth two White Cap leaders after months of dogged pursuit through the Southern mountains and over Southwestern plains and deserts." He married Linnie A. Adams July 6, 1887.

i. ELIZABETH LOU DAVIS, ninth child of James and Mary Jane Pickens Davis, was born in Sevier County. She married Mack Hammer Feb. 2, 1897 and lived in the Boyd's Creek Community. She died May 18, 1900.

ELEANOR PICKENS HENDERSON

I. ELEANOR PICKENS, ninth child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born at the home of her parents at Nail's Creek, Nov. 28, 1804. She died Sept. 6, 1874 and is buried at Red Hill, near Cleveland, Tennessee. Her marriage is recorded in Blount County, Tennessee and found in a list of Mr. Parham's Blount County marriages as "Ellen Pickens and Francis J. Henderson, March 11, 1823. Hugh Bogle, J. P. Francis Henderson was born presumably in Blount County, Jan. 12, 1800. He died near Cleveland, Tennessee Jan. 16, 1845 and is buried at Red Hill.

It appears from various transfers and inferences that Francis and Eloner Pickens Henderson first lived a few miles below Maryville. They had been married eight years at the time of the will of John Pickens when he willed his daughter Eloner a cow. They were probably living in Blount County at that time.

They moved to Bradley County, Tennessee and for their record from there I have relied upon letters and information from descendents of the couple. At the home of T. C. McCammon, Maryville, Tennessee I saw a letter from Bradley County, Tennessee, written by Robert P. Henderson to Thomas McCammon of Blount County. The letter was dated Nov. 8, 1864. In it he wanted to know if W. C. Pickens still lived in Knoxville or if he had been killed (in the Civil War). Also wanted transportation for two Henderson women. He stated: "we have some good land rented from Joseph Pickens. John and I are at Joseph Pickens now trying to sow our wheat. Joseph Pickens is now in Government work." Evidently the kin here knew who this Joseph Pickens was. He is not in our immediate line.

Mrs. W. H. Henderson, Dodd Lane, Cleveland, Tennessee has sent this information concerning the descendents. She writes: "Francis and Eloner Henderson made their home in the Red Hill community, about seven miles southeast of Cleveland, about one mile to the left of the Dalton Pike."

"In the early days Red Hill was a Methodist camp meeting site, with a large open shed. There was also a log schoolhouse. Later a two story frame house replaced the log one. Small dormitories were built so that students could come and batch or keep house and go to school. Grade and High School work was taught and teachers and other adult students came to this school. At present this school building has been connected with a community center and children are sent by bus to the consolidated schools at Waterville and Flint Springs."

She speaks of the Civil War days when the Hendersons "lost their horses, cows and food to bands of soldiers." Also says the Hendersons were farmers and carpenters and that Francis and Eloner were Presbyterians. Also mentions that as far as is known Letitia Henderson is the only member of the family to visit relatives in Tennessee and that was when she was quite a young lady.

Of the eight children only one married. She says the story has come down through the years that Eloner Pickens Henderson asked all her children to promise not to marry. All of them promised except Joseph and it is the descendents of this son who make the rest of this record. Eloner Henderson lost her husband 22 years after their marriage, while her death occurred 51 years after her marriage. Her youngest child was born after her husband's death. Probably the years alone and the duty of raising her eight children seemed a task from which she would spare her children.

The children of Francis and Eloner Pickens Henderson are:

I	Elizabeth Jane	b April	7, 1826
II	John T.	b March	12, 1828

Later he became Town Marshall in St. Elmo before the township was annexed to Chattanooga. As a young man he farmed, logged and timbered and sawmilled in the southern part of Bradley County and northern Georgia, with his brother Bass. He went to Ohio when he was about 25 and spent a summer. It was thought he might follow in the steps of his' uncles and remain a bachelor. But Miss Sally Taylor of Joppa, Grainger County, Tennessee came to visit relatives near Red Hill and married William Henderson. She died March 2, 1919. She was born July 14, 1896 and is buried at Fort Hill. There were no children.

ALEXANDER HARRISON PICKENS

J. ALEXANDER HARRISON PICKENS, tenth child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens was born Oct. 10, 1807, at the homestead of his father on Nail's Creek, Blount County, Tennessee. He died Aug. 24, 1844 at his home on Nail's Creek and is buried in the Eusebia Cemetery.

He married Cynthia Cowan Pickens about the year 1829. She was born Jan. 16, 1811 in Tennessee and reared at Boyd's Creek, Sevier County, Tennessee. Her ancestry has not been completed but she was related to both the Cowans in Blount and those of Sevier County and those in Knox County are probably in the same line. She died at her home in Knox County, Feb. 4, 1889 and is buried beside her husband.

Little is known of Alexander Pickens. His life was cut short in his early manhood. In the will of his father, Alexander was willed, "One part of the land where he now lives with my part of the mill." The inference is that he may have owned a part of the mill and that he was a partner in operating it, maybe with his brothers, but since the mill is not mentioned in the will except in regard to Alexander, he and his father may have been the only partners, and the bequest of his father made him sole owner.

I have been unable to find any record of the disposal of this property. I have been told that a small part of the John Pickens land was in Knox County. I had always thought that the Alexander Pickens children were born in Blount County, but found in my father's army record that he was born in Knox County. By a process of reasoning I am convinced that the place of birth of the Alexander Pickens children was at the location willed by old John and simply a part of the Blount County farm in the edge of Knox County. I have thus assumed Knox County to be the birth place of all the children.

I cannot say of a surety where Alexander and family lived up to 1844. There is a record at the Blount County Court House where Alexander Pickens bought land on Nail's Creek, Blount County, Tennessee, Feb. 14, 1944. The land was in the 13th District and the purchase was made from Samuel and James Kennedy of Knox County, Tennessee. The acreage was 135 and one-half acres and the price was 210 dollars. James McClurg had property on one side of the farm and witnesses were James McClurg and Archibald A. Blackburn. The deed was registered Feb. 26, 1844.

Alexander Pickens gave a trust deed on this property Feb. 24, 1844. It was made to Hiram Bogle and was registered Feb. 26, 1844. The land is described here as being at the foot of Bays Mountain and crossing the creek to James McClurg's line. The land was unincumbered and, "this deed is made for the following uses and trusts and for no other purposes, that is to say, I am indebted to one Robert Pickens in the sum of three hundred and twenty dollars by note, under seal due the 1st day of Feb. 1844 and am desirous to secure and make certain the payment of the same. Now if I should pay the said debt in ten months from this date, then this deed is to be void. But if I should not, then the said Hiram Bogle, as trustee, after giving twenty days notice in writing at the Court House door of said county, at the election ground of the 13th Civil District, and three other public places in the neighborhood, shall expose to public sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash and appropriate the funds; first to the payment of the necessary expenses and costs, and secondly to the satisfaction of said debt of three hundred and twenty dollars, and thirdly, to pay the balance, if any there be, to me." The deed was witnessed by John Bogle and Archibald A. Blackburn.

Alexander died in less than seven months after the purchase of the farm. No sale was made on the date set forth in the trust deed. It was not until Nov. 5, 1849, a little more than five years after the death of Alexander, that the land still unincumbered was sold at auction. The highest and last bidder was Thomas Pickens with the bid of four hundred and twenty-five dollars. Witnesses were Samuel K. Finley, Jacob Long and Hiram Bogle.

Since her brother-in-law became the owner of the farm Cynthia Cowan Pickens and her family probably remained as renters on their former farm until the time they left for Knox County after the Civil War had ended. Certain it is that they remained in the Eusebia section for more than five years after the death of Alexander. The widow was left with six children between the ages of one and fourteen. The eldest child was a daughter who died on the farm a month after her father and is buried with her parents.

Cynthia Cowan Pickens faced the tasks and sorrows of her widowhood with great faith and courage as evidenced not only by the praise of her children but from the commendation of friends and acquaintances as well. She made a Christian home for her children and reared them to the best of her ability. On Oct. 19, 1845, according to an old record of Eusebia church, Cynthia Cowan Pickens joined Eusebia church by examination. She had probably been a member of another denomination. On June 1, 1846 she presented for christening her five remaining children, William Cowan, John, Samuel, Alexander Harrison and Letitia Isabella. Eusebia church was a great bulwark to her and she always loved it, though later removed from its nearness. Through the trying years of the Civil War she lived in the Eusebia section. Two sons enlisted, Samuel and William, with the latter not to return.

About 1868 she left this beloved section to live in Knox County, Tennessee. After a short period of living on rented land, Samuel and Harrison purchased land in the 13th District, separated from Blount County by Stock Creek and on the Knoxville and Maryville Highway. Here she lived with her sons, visiting Samuel and Letitia after their marriages, but making her home with Harrison at whose home she died. In the years of her location here she endeared herself to the neighbors and those with whom she came in contact. She was loved almost as much by her daughters-in-law as by her children and her memory is greatly revered by those who knew her and by others of us who know her only from stories of her life.

The children of Alexander and Cynthia Cowan Pickens are:

I	Margaret Jane	b July	15, 1830
II	William Cowan	b March	16, 1832
III	John	b May	15, 1834
IV	Samuel	b December	19, 1836
V	Alexander Harrison	b May	25, 1840
VI	Letitia Issabella	b January	15, 1843

II. WILLIAM COWAN PICKENS, second child of Alexander and Cynthia Cowan Pickens, was born in Knox County, Tennessee, on the farm of the old John Pickens homestead. He joined the Union army probably on Sept. 10, 1863, as that is the date that his brother Samuel enlisted. He was in Company H. of the 3rd Tennessee Cavalry. He served with honor through the period of his enlistment to the close of the war when he was placed aboard the steamship Sultana to be taken to Camp Chase to be discharged. On the 27th of April, 1865 he was drowned in the explosion of this boat, which has been explained elsewhere. At the time of the explosion he was asleep on deck with his brother Samuel. Nothing further was ever heard of him. He could not swim, and many who could, had little chance to save themselves.

He was a nice-looking man of rather slight build and fairly tall. He is said to have been a Christian gentleman and certainly he was a patriotic citizen and soldier.

I have been lucky in having at hand several receipts from him and his family and am quoting from them quite freely, since the descendents of this family, mostly in Oregon, have had no chance to know first hand information of their ancestors here, and feel that any facts I could include might aid a little in the story of their immediate ancestry.

I possess these papers simply because my father was connected in various business transactions as executor for his brother's family. He had not destroyed either his own receipts or those he possessed from the William Pickens family. I hung on to them and they have been most valuable in confirming dates and furnishing interesting items for the record. If I could have had access to similar receipts in many homes, the task of finding family history might have been simplified and I would have been glad to include such interesting bits of information as might have been revealed.

In the microfilm of 1850 at the Library at Knoxville, William Pickens is listed as the farmer of the family of his widowed mother. He was eighteen and they lived in Blount County, in the 12 District (now 13th).

I have a receipt given to W. C. Pickens for the year 1859. It is for taxes and the amount is for seventy-five cents. The clerk is James D. Lawson and the district is the 10th, though it is hard to discern the county. It is most certainly Sevier County as William did not own property at this time and as far as I have been able to tell, did not ever live in the 11th district of Blount County where his family later lived. My inference as to Sevier County is approved by the present County Court Clerk of Blount County who says that the 10th District of Blount County is in the southern part of the county far away from the usual habitation of the Pickens and Tipton people. He says also that Lawson is a Sevier County name. Partly on this receipt, I am assuming that the children of W. C. Pickens and wife were born in Sevier County, where the parents and numerous relatives of the wife of William Pickens lived. The little receipt is written in long hand on a tiny scrap of seemingly handmade paper, one inch by seven in size.

There is the record that Samuel M. Thompson had made oath in the Circuit Court of Blount County that he had lost a note for a small amount, made to him by William C. Pickens about April 15, 1863. Thomas D. Tipton's name was also on the note. He was probably a brother-in-law to William Pickens.

Then there is the last notation on hand concerning William Pickens. It is one sent by my father and reads. "Mr. J. D. Davis: this is to certify that W. C. Pickens estate is due to James Stafford $47 which will be paid when his back pay and bounty are collected." This statement was seven months after the death of William Pickens.

William Pickens married Mary (Polly) Tipton about 1850. She was born about 1833, died Dec. 17, 1881, at her home in the 11th District of Blount County and is buried at Mount Olive Church Yard in Knox County. She was the daughter of Benjamin and Nancy Brooks Tipton who lived in Sevier County, about two miles from Trundles Cross Roads or about two miles from Whalen's Mill and near Post Oak Church, and back toward the mountains from Knob Creek, where they owned much land.

This information was given to me by Benton Pickens, son of William, in an interview not long before his death. I found the record from Ellijoy Cemetery of Benjamin I. Tipton, b-Dec. 10, 1802 and d-April 11, 1871, and of his wife Nancy who was b-1804 and d-March 25, 1891. I take these to be the parents of Mary Tipton Pickens.

The children of Ben and Nancy Brooks Tipton as given to me by cousin Benton were:

1 Cindy—married a Cusick.
2 Betsy—married a Cusick.
3 Lucinda—married a Thompson and went West.
4 Margaret—married (maybe) a Thompson and went West.
5 Mary—married William Pickens.
6 Victoria—married a Johnson.
7 Caswell (Cad)—married a Wade.
8 Thomas—went West.

Aunt Polly Tipton Pickens was left, as many others, with a heavy load to carry at the close of the Civil War. There were six children between the ages of six and fifteen years. The exact date as to when the family came to Blount County to live is unknown. Cousin Benton told me they were raised in the 11th district home that was theirs in later years, but I am certain with much search and study that the children got their start in Sevier County. Several tax receipts show payment of taxes in the 11th district of Blount County between the years of 1870-1880. I don't know the date of the first purchase of property here but the first tax receipt on hand was for the year 1870. Small notes are found for the years 1876-1878. One of them was a mechanics lien of twenty-four dollars for work to be done on the homestead, and was dated July 12, 1876. Nancy Tipton, J. C. Ellis and Samuel Cusick were names to whom other notes for very small amounts were made.

In those days, friends and relatives were the bankers. A man's word was his bond and reputable persons borrowed at will as was necessary. The small amounts of money needed then in comparison with the demands of our deflated dollar is of startling interest. A receipt was given to Mary Pickens from Dr. R. W. Goddard for six dollars and was dated Jan. 17, 1863. This, of course, was during the Civil War period. Another receipt was given to Mrs. Mary Pickens from the Rockford Mfg. Co. Jan 29, 1874.

Mrs. Haynes, an old resident here and sister of Mrs. James Pickens, deceased, of Oregon, said she was sure William Pickens did not live in Blount County. She said Mrs. Pickens and family first lived in a big log house and that she is sure they built the large frame house nearby and which is still standing. It is of the ell type and is of firm construction. The place is on Roddy's Branch, near Rockford, Tenn.

I found a record of purchase on Sept. 1, 1879 of at least a large part of the Mary Tipton Pickens place. Aunt Polly bought it from H. M. Wilson (administrator of the estate of R. I. Wilson, deceased) of Knox County, Tennessee. Fifteen hundred dollars cash was paid for it and it was bounded in part by Andrew Porter and Addison Hall.

On this farm Mary Pickens completed the rearing of her children and at this home in which she had lived for several years, she died. Not much is known of her life except that she had to be courageous, frugal, enterprising and a good manager to come through the difficulties of rearing her family. The home was a Christian one and the members of the family were Baptist.

There is a record at the Blount County Court House in the Register's office as quote, "Benjamin J. Pickens, Alexander Pickens, Nancy J. Householder, James H. Pickens, M. J. Householder and Samuel Pickens, all residing in the state of Oregon, appoint Samuel Pickens of Knox County, Tennessee executor and lawful attorney for us for the estate of Mary Pickens." The date was Feb. 12, 1883.

The property was sold at auction June 28, 1887. The purchaser was R. A. Sharp, a neighbor. The price was $1760. There were 160 acres (more or less) and the farm is mentioned as the Frank Lanter farm. He was probably the earliest or a very early owner of the farm.

The children of William and Mary Tipton Pickens are:

a Alexander	b About	1851
b Nancy Elizabeth	b August	2, 1852

a. ALEXANDER PICKENS, oldest child of William and Mary Tipton Pickens, came to Blount County with his mother and lived here until he was about thirty years of age when he went to Oregon, then California, where later contact with him was lost by all relatives.

He paid poll taxes in Blount County, Jan. 5, 1874, which gives a clue to his age. By those who knew the family he was known to be the oldest child in the family. With records lost it has been impossible to discover exact dates for all of this family. Where the approximate dates are given, they are as correct as could be determined.

There is a story about Alexander Pickens which is too good to keep. I was at first credulous of the tale, but it has been fully verified by relatives and friends. It seems that Alexander was to be married to a young lady of Blount County. He and his friend Will Shaver set out on horses to obtain the license at Maryville. At the Post Office, there was a letter informing the said Alexander that his bride-to-be had eloped with another fellow.

However great the personal chagrin or disappointment, that was not the only problem. The "infare dinner" was to be given at the home of Alexander the following evening. In case any do not know about an infare dinner, it was the custom for the groom's family to welcome the bride with a dinner the next day or at some time very soon after the wedding. This meal was called the "infare dinner." Friends and relatives had been invited to the Pickens home and between the two men a scheme devolved to meet this situation. The night was spent at the Shaver home where Mrs. Shaver lent her aid to the plan.

The next night the dinner ready, guests eagerly awaited the bride and groom. Their coming was announced and they started to alight. Alexander's grandmother Pickens, peering out the window, exclaimed about how tall the bride was and that she never saw anyone so awkward getting off a horse (side-saddle). On they came, when to the consternation and glee of all, the bride turned out to be Will Shaver dressed in womens' apparel. Thus the occasion became one of merriment which could hardly hold any element of disappointment and appears to be a mighty clever solution to an awkward situation.

Alexander Pickens married Minervia Jane Williams the week of March 20, 1881, according to a Knoxville newspaper of that date. She was born Jan. 14, 1856 and died Aug. 5, 1897. She was the daughter of Ephraim and Mary Hall Williams of Stock Creek community. She is buried at Wesley Ann Methodist Church near Rockford. The marriage was annulled about 1882 and Alexander Pickens went West. From a letter to his Uncle Samuel Pickens April 22, 1882, he planned to leave Tennessee in a few days and asked his Uncle to look after some personal property as well as his interest in his mother's estate, and gave his Uncle the power of attorney.

Alexander and Minervia Williams Pickens had one child:

Soon after their marriage Etta Pickens Haddox and family went to Washington State to live. Thomas Haddox still resides there and sent the record of their family. Etta Pickens Haddox was a pretty, tiny and very attractive and competent person and her relatives were glad of the few opportunities afforded to see her upon return visits to our section. He was born Oct. 18, 1849 and died Feb. 20, 1925 in Oregon. He was the son of Joe Householder, and his mother was a Hines. They lived in the region of Knob Creek in Sevier County.

Nancy Elizabeth Pickens was reared at the home on Roddy's Branch in Blount County, Tennessee. As a young lady she attended Sunday School at Mt. Olive Baptist Church. Her daughter Maude Householder Ellison, recalls from stories of her mother, that she was crowned queen at an exercise at Mt. Olive Church when she was sixteen years old. The daughter also recalls that her mother had black curly hair and that when she wes married at the age of seventeen years her hair was piled up on her head with curls all around and a white rose in her hair.

I have a letter in my possession which George Householder wrote to my father from Dusty, Oregon and dated in March 1901. He speaks of the critical illness of his brother-in-law, James Pickens, who died shortly afterward. The time is about a year after the death of his wife and he says he is living in Dusty, Oregon with his son, Joseph, who is married and has two children. He says Joseph is teaching Band music. Maude Householder Ellison recalls that she played in one of the bands with her brother. Mr. Householder also said that his child Vina was married, lived on a farm in Cook County, Oregon and had one child about six years old. His youngest child Maud was with him, and was about fifteen years old. He said he had been farming most of the time since going to Oregon, but had carried the mail some that winter. George Householder and family lived in Tennessee for some years. Most of their children were born here and two infants are buried in Tennessee. They went to Oregon around the year 1800. e. BENJAMIN J. PICKENS, fifth child of William and Mary Tipton Pickens, was born Dec. 29, 1857, in Tennessee. He died Sept. 23, 1943 at his home in the 13th District of Knox County, Tennessee. He is buried at the Stock Creek Cemetery. He married (1) Hester Badgett Feb. 16, 1887. She was born Aug. 12, 1860, died Aug. 25, 1890, and is buried at the Mt. Olive church yard with other Badgett relatives. She was the daughter of Augustin and Kathryn Sims Badgett and was born at the old Badgett home on Stock Creek in Blount County, Tennessee. Her father was also born there as it was the home of her grandfather. She was a sister of Newman Badgett of Maryville and Howard Badgett who lived and died near the old home.

Benjamin Pickens was reared mostly in Blount County, Tennessee. He was in the 11th District of this county, according to tax receipts, 1879-1880. Not very long after this he went to Oregon for some years, returning before his marriage and remaining in Tennessee for the rest of his life. For a great many years he had lived at Hall's Station in Knox County, not far from the Stock Creek Community.

He was a farmer, quiet, kindly, honest and devoted to his only daughter and her family. He was of rather slight build, with dark hair and blue eyes. He married (2) Frances Vineyard who was born Aug. 8, 1854 and died Feb. 23, 1932. She is buried beside her husband. Naval Nursing Corps. She was one of the top three in her class at Gunter Air Base. She expects to become an air transport nurse in Alaska." f. SAMUEL PICKENS, sixth child of William and Mary Tipton Pickens, was born in Tennessee, Dec. 1, 1861. He died Aug. 18, 1885 and is buried in the Hunsaker Cemetery, Turner City, Oregon. He married Margaret E. Brown Sept. 1, 1879, from Blount County, Tenn. She was born July 30, 1861 and was the second daughter of George and Mary C. Brown. She died July 31, 1883 and is buried beside her husband. Samuel Pickens and wife left Tennessee soon after their marriage and both died in a short while after locating in Oregon. They were affiliated with the Baptist church. The child of Samuel and Margaret Brown Pickens is:

1 Mary (Molly) Tennesseeb November 4, 1881

1. MOLLY PICKENS was born near Albany, Oregon. She lost her mother when two years old and her father at the age of four. She was reared away from her Pickens kin and has little knowledge of them, even those of the State of Oregon. After a hunt of some ten years I was rewarded by a letter from her, and since that time have had several letters and snapshots. She made a four-hundred-mile trip to get the dates of her parents from the tombstones. Her home is at Prineville, Oregon.

She writes of herself, "After my father passed away I made my home with my grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown. I lived with them until I was about 17 years old. They had a family of ten children, five boys and five girls. I grew up with the Aunts and Uncles who always seemed so very near to me—in fact like brothers and sisters. My youngest Uncle was one year older than I.

"I had wonderful grandparents with beautiful Christian characters and their teachings were a wonderful guidance. I can say they did their best for me. I attended grade school at Salem and attended Mineral Springs College one year, 1897, taking a preparatory course for teaching, but I did not finish.

"I was married at Lebanon City, Oregon. My husband was a farmer. He was born near Lebanon. My husband and son Claud were in partnership on our ranches here, and after his death, my son and I became partners in the business. We have two ranches, forty miles apart. One was our old home. We bought the place where we live now, in 1941. It contains 1090 acres. The home ranch has around 1400 acres. We raise cattle. This eastern Oregon country is mostly a cattle country with grazing land and meadows."

Mollie Pickens married James J. Coffelt Oct. 7, 1902 at Lebanon, Oregon. He was born April 22, 1881 and died Nov. 8, 1944. Their children are:

She graduated from high school in 1924 and attended Ashland Normal School and taught for some time; she married Abe Hackleman September 1, 1928, and they are members of the Baptist church. Margaret has served as clerk of the church and Pres. of the B.Y.P.U. The children of Abe and Margaret Coffelt Hackleman are:

(1) Betty Louise	b June	9, 1930
(2) Lavonne Margaret	b February	26, 1932

(1). Betty Louise Hackleman finished high school in June 1950 at Crook County High School. She was queen of the 1950 Crooked River Roundup. I have a clipping of her wedding on Dec. 27, 1950. III. JOHN ALEXANDER PICKENS, third child of Alexander and Cynthia Cowan Pickens, was born May 15, 1834 at the home of his parents on Nail's Creek. He died at Varnell Station, Georgia May 15, 1905. My father had stopped off on his way from an encampment, to see his brother and found him near death. He remained until after his death and burial. He married his first cousin Letitia Isabella Minnis Aug. 6, 1857. She was born June 5, 1834 and was the daughter of Samuel and Mary Pickens Minnis of Blount County, Tennessee. She died Feb. 4, 1901 and she and her husband are buried with others of the Minnis and Pickens relatives at the Harkness cemetery near Calhoun, Georgia.

John Pickens left Tennessee some time in the Civil War period, probably before his marriage, as I have found no record of the marriage license in Blount County. The Minnis family also left for Georgia and they may have gone about the same time. For some years John Pickens and family made their home at the Minnis place but later bought an adjoining farm of eighty acres of land near Dalton, Georgia or Varnell Station. This property is in Whitfield County. Five of their nine children grew to adulthood and were reared on the farm.

John Pickens is said by relatives who knew him to have been a kind, likable man who loved children. He had high ideals of character according to gleanings of his life. He was tall, brown-eyed and had a good-sized frame. From his photo he was very much like his brother Harrison. His wife was of shorter build and said to have been a splendid woman. The family were all Presbyterian and faithful to their church, and good neighbors.

In the days that the Pickens family were in Georgia, that state seemed far away, and visits were scarcely made at all, so that our contact with them was mostly through letters which were altogether too few. The children of John and Letitia Minnis Pickens are:

a Mary Helen	b May	9, 1856
b Alexander C.	b July	16, 1858
c Samuel William	b November	5, 1859
d Cynthia Jane	b January	19, 1861
e John Thomas	b September	23, 1863
f Susan Letitia	b March	9, 1866
g William Harrison	b July	13, 1868
h James	b July	19, 1874
i Eugenia Margaret	b December	27, 1875
a Mary Helen	d May	1, 1867
c Samuel William	d February	9, 1860
h James	d July	22, 1876
i Eugenia Margaret	d July	19, 1876

b. ALEXANDER C. PICKENS, second child of John and Letitia Minnis Pickens, lived all his life as a farmer at the Varnell Station home. He is said to have been especially good to neighbors in sickness. He remained single and died May 19, 1913 and is buried at the Harkness Cemetery.

d. CYNTHIA JANE PICKENS, fourth child of John and Letitia Minnis Pickens, was reared at the home in Georgia. She remained here until after the death of her brother when she went with her sister to Rome, Georgia. She was afflicted with a shortage of hearing and speaking but assisted her sister in household duties and did a lot of beautiful handwork. She remained single and died July 21, 1939 and is buried at Myrtle Hill Cemetery, Rome, Georgia. She was greatly missed by her sister Letitia for they had never been separated.

e. JOHN THOMAS PICKENS, fifth child of John and Letitia Minnis Pickens, was reared at the home at Varnell Station but most of his later life was spent away from that region. As a young man, probably about 1885, he spent a year in Knox County, Tennessee with relatives. Returning to Georgia he went to Mississippi; he was living in Bryceland, La., when his daughter was born in 1910. He died at Pittsburg, Texas, July 21, 1939 and is buried at Sulphur Springs, Texas.

Tom married Kitty Bonds Jan. 29, 1902; she was born March 6, 1878 in Ripley, Tennessee. She died Nov. 25, 1915 in Sulphur Springs, Texas and is buried there. Tom married a second time, Mrs. Elizabeth Jordan Lewis Aug. 22, 1922. She was born in 1870 in DeKalb, Texas. I heard from her at Pittsburg, Texas, after the death of her husband. According to Letitia Pickens, she has died in the last few years. She sent some snapshots of the family and in one of them Tom is sitting on a car and behind him is a sign reading "Pickens Cafe." She also spoke very highly of the type of man her husband was. She and Tom had no children. The children of Tom and Kitty Pickens are:

1. John	b November	13, 1902
2 A boy who died early
3 A girl who died early
4 Bessie Joy	b April	5, 1910

1 John is dead according to reports.

4. BESSIE JOY PICKENS was born in Bryceland, La. and died, as reported by her Aunt Letitia in an automobile accident in 1947. She married John Welsh Feb. 6, 1939 and when I heard from her in 1943 she and her husband were living at Gainesville, Texas. She had no children, but there were two step-sons. She spoke highly of her father and seemed interested in his kin.

f. SUSAN LETITIA PICKENS, sixth child of John and Letitia Minnis Pickens, was born March 9, 1866 at the home of her parents at Varnell Station, Georgia. She grew up here, remaining until after the death of her brother Alexander when she and her sister Cynthia went to live at Rome, Georgia. Here Letitia found employment and became a supervisor of a hosiery mill where she was employed for many years. After the death of her sister Cynthia, whom she sorely missed (for they had never been separated), she lived alone for eleven years. She appeared to be witty and industrious as long as she was able, asking little of life and developing a deep spiritual supply of high courage and great faith. She fell, breaking her hip, three weeks before her death June 19, 1950. She is buried beside her sister in the cemetery at Myrtle Hill. She is the one, who through the years kept the kin here informed about her family and it was from her that I got their family history and also much valuable older Minnis history.

g. WILLIAM HARRISON PICKENS, seventh child of John and Letitia Minnis Pickens was born July 13, 1868 in Georgia. He died Oct. 28, 1931 and is buried at the Harkness cemetery near Cohutta, Georgia. He married Lucy Tatum about 1905. The home was at Rockyface, Ga., where the widow and most of the children still live. An incomplete list of the children is:

2 John
3 Nora
4 Jean
5 Burl Mae
6 Jud
7 Clint

IV. SAMUEL PICKENS, fourth child of Alexander and Cynthia Cowan Pickens, was born Dec. 19, 1836 in Knox County, Tennessee, on the farm of his grandfather John Pickens at Nail's Creek. He died Oct. 21, 1913 at his home on the Maryville Pike, Knox County and is buried in the Mount Olive cemetery.

He married Rosalia Caroline Berry May 19, 1881 at the home of the bride in Knox County with Rev J. P. Smith, officiating. Witnesses were Rachel Berry and Julia Franklin. Caroline Berry Pickens was born Jan. 18, 1852, died at Maryville, Tennessee March 12, 1920 and is buried beside her husband.

She was reared in the section of Mt. Olive. As the oldest of six children she was a great help to her mother who became a widow at the close of the Civil War, for Michael D. Berry, a Union soldier of Co. C. 6th Tenn. Infantry who enlisted Nov. 4, 1862, died with a sudden illness after being mustered out in 1865 at Nashville, Tennessee, and never reached home.

Caroline Berry Pickens was of slight stature with blue-grey eyes and pretty gray hair. She applied herself to the work of the home with the unselfish devotion prevalent in mothers of that day. She loved to cook and I often hear something about "Aunt Caroline's cookies" or some other dish of plain cookery that was well-liked. She not only packed an appetizing school lunch for her daughter but fed also various teachers who found a place to live during school terms at our home.

She was interested in the community, especially in any who needed help. She was a life-long member and attendant of the Mt. Olive Baptist church, teaching a class of small girls for a while. I have on my desk a Testament with this inscription, "Awarded to Caroline Berry as a Prize at Mt. Olive Sunday School May 31, 1868."

Some two years before her death she moved to Maryville, Tennessee. The last twenty months of her life were spent as an invalid and in her suffering she served well, for those who visited her were benefitted by her patience and endurance.

Samuel Pickens with his brother Harrison, mother and sister, came from the Eusebia neighborhood of Blount County to Knox County, Tennessee shortly after the close of the Civil War in 1865. I have a tax receipt to Samuel Pickens of the 13th District of Knox County for the year 1868. At first the brothers lived on rented land but on March 17, 1874 they purchased one hundred and fifty-six and three-fourths acres of land from Richard and Sarah Kirby of Blount County. The price was $3,000 in cash and the property was located on Stock Creek in Knox County, Tennessee. It was bounded by B. F. Badgett. The record of the deed is at the Court House at Knoxville; also the following transactions.

A warranty deed was given Dec. 9, 1878 by M. L. Tipton and others by which Samuel and A. H. Pickens purchased property of the Tipton heirs. This land joined the forementioned land, contained about 50 acres and cost $475 cash. Tipton heirs who signed in Knox County were Martha and Reuben Thurman. The other heirs had moved to Texas and there is a record of depositions made by them in that State.

Upon the marriage of Samuel, he and his bride moved farther up Stock Creek to a log house where they lived for about eight years, when a frame house was constructed on rising ground which commanded a good view of the Knoxville and Maryville Highway. Jan. 14, 1887 a division was made of the farm and the brothers, while continuing to do many things together, owned their separate farms.

Here Samuel Pickens lived until his death, enjoying the operation of his farm. He was a lover of good stock and in his more agile years kept spirited horses. He bought some books on the treatment of animal diseases, and stocked with a few simple remedies, treated the minor ailments of his animals. He was much surprised and a little embarrassed when the neighbors began to bring their animals for treatment. He explained that all he knew was from experience and from what he read but they continued to come and he advised as best he could.

He liked to do carpenter work for himself and enjoyed mending and making simple things in his workshop. He was asked to install stock scales on the Anderson farm, according to Jim Anderson who is responsible for the statement. The scales installed at a time beyond the memory of either my husband or myself, are still in use on the Anderson farm which is now ours.

Samuel Pickens enlisted in the Civil War as a Union soldier of Co. A. 3rd Tennessee Cavalry Sept. 10, 1863 and was honorably discharged June 10, 1865. He was offered a commission but remained a private. He was captured Sept. 24, 1864 and was a prisoner at Cahaba prison, Alabama for 6 months, where he cooked the food, mostly mush, for the other prisoners.

From this camp he was sent to board the ill-fated Sultana. Excerpts of a letter which he sent home from Memphis, Tennessee, April 28th, 1865, the day after the disaster, tells of his experience. "It is with regret that I write the following sad news. We were on our way to Camp Chase, got this far on the evening of the 25th and left here on the morning of the 27th, at half past two o'clock. We had proceeded up the river two miles when the boilers exploded, the boat caught fire and burned up.

"There were 1975 soldiers on board of whom about 1200 drowned. I must confess to the best of my knowledge brother William is among the lost. I have not heard from his since the explosion took place and I have no hope of ever hearing of him anymore.

"When the accident took place we were about the middle of the river and at that point it was two and one-half miles wide. I was blown overboard thirty feet into the river and got hold of some pieces of the boat so that I kept from drowning. I floated down the river about ten miles and was in the river about three hours. I was picked up in a boat two miles below Memphis, too near chilled to death to stand alone."

He omitted to tell that before he secured the planks, he got on a live horse but when this animal refused to leave the boat he swapped it for a dead one and said it was the best swap he ever made. Considering how he loved good horses this was considered quite a joke and laughingly retold at the Sultana Reunions.

An interesting permit in his possessions, concerned the privilege of voting immediately after the Civil War Period, and it reads: Thomas Sanoman, Clerk of the County Court of said County (Blount), do hereby Certify that proof has been made before me that Samuel Pickens, Union soldier falls within the provisions of Section I, of an Act entitled "An Act To Limit the Elective Franchise, passed June 5, 1865; and he is therefore a qualified voter of said County. Given under my hand at Office, the 1st day of Aug. A. D. 1865." (Thos. Sanoman, Clerk of County Court.)

Although Samuel Pickens was not a public man in the strictest sense of the word, he did hold offices in the various organizations of men to which he belonged. He was a member and some sort of an officer, most of the time, in the Sultana Survivors Association during the forty or more years of its organization, before his death.

He became a member of the Ed Maynard Post No. 14 of the G.A.R. at Knoxville, Tennessee, March 27, 1888. This information is from a transfer card of permit to join the newly organized James H. Franklin Post No. 50 of the G.A.R. which erected its own building in 1895 at the edge of the Mt. Olive Church property. From the record of a memorial service in his honor Jan. 18, 1914, he was the first Commander of this Franklin Post and held office continuously until his death.

He became a member of the Rockford Lodge of Masons Oct. 22, 1882. A receipt of Dec. 20, 1882 shows that he passed to a fellow craft on that date. According to a list of officers of this lodge he was a Master of the Lodge in 1889, 1899 and 1903.

In personal appearance Samuel Pickens was rather heavy set about five and one-half feet tall, with dark brown eyes and black hair.

He was interested in his neighborhood and in Mt. Olive Baptist Church which he joined in 1893. He was a faithful member and taught a class for a period of time. A gift from a Sunday School class member of a China mustache cup is a treasured memento of this period.

The children of Samuel and Caroline Berry Pickens are:

a Bertha	b May	28, 1882
b Samuel Houston	b September	17, 1887
c Nellie Cowan	b January	14, 1890
a Bertha	d June	18, 1882

c. NELLIE COWAN PICKENS was born and reared at the home of her parents in Knox County, and married Herbert Floyd (Bert) Anderson Oct. 26, 1921 at Maryville, Tenn. He was born Feb. 27, 1887 and is the son of Calvin and Mildred M. McReynolds Anderson. He was born and reared, and still lives in the home of his birth. He has continued to make a success of the acres owned by his father before him and is a farmer and stock raiser and also owns a Filling Station on the property.

And now for a personal note about myself. I need little introduction to you to whom I have been a pest about family history for some years. I finished Prep School at Maryville College and graduated from that Institution in 1913 with a B.A. degree and also a diploma in Expression. I was president of the Y.W.C.A. and of the Y., a branch of the W.C.T.U. and taught grade and high school work for a few years in Blount, Monroe and Knox Counties and one year in Knox County, Illinois.

I have taught and worked in church all my adult life. The most unique service along this line, which I doubt has been duplicated anywhere else, (and perhaps wisely so) is that in the Rockford Presbyterian Church I started a class of beginners about two and one-half years of age and taught them continuously in all the departments of the Sunday School through the Young People's department. We made the various changes together as I was loathe to leave them and they seemed to want me to keep on as their teacher, so that from babyhood to adulthood that group had no other teacher.

I have long had a hankering for feature article writing, and did write a weekly column of sorts, for seven years in the Maryville Times, under the heading of "Fireside Philosophy . . . by Thoughtful Ann." This inherent desire to express myself on paper, together with an intense love of ancestry, probably had much to do with the attempt at writing our Pickens history.

Whether the portion of years spent on this work is justified in my stewardship of life, depends upon the way it is received. It has been very worthwhile to me, but if its value lies mostly in the benefit to myself, it would hardly be called an altruistic effort.

I belong to the Chilhowee Club in Maryville, and since the abandonment of the Rockford Presbyterian church in 1945, our allegiance has been transferred to the New Providence Presbyterian Church in Maryville. Our children are:

1	Helen Louise	b August	8, 1922
2	Mildred Carolyn	b January	16, 1927

1. HELEN ANDERSON was born at Rockford. She graduated from Maryville High School in 1940 and from Maryville College with a B.A. degree in 1944. She majored in English, was a member of Writer's Workshop, Bainonian, the College Band, the Y.W.C.A. of which she served as president, and was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Following graduation she served as assistant director of the Community Center of Ferndale, Michigan.

She married John Allen Kerr on March 17, 1945 at the New Providence Presbyterian Church in Maryville. He was born July 25, 1918 at Greenback, Tennessee and is the son of Mrs. Lou McCollum Kerr and the late John L. Kerr who died March 3, 1949. He is the grandson of the Rev. David M. Kerr who, in his lifetime, was a Presbyterian minister of this section. John graduated from Maryville College with a B.A. degree in 1941. He served four years in World War II, three of which he was assigned to the Medical Division of the Air Corps. He is a Captain in the Reserve, and is employed in the planning department of the Aluminum Company of America at Alcoa.

The home is in Rock Gardens, near Maryville. Both are active in the religious and civic life of the community. John is secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been active in the Little Theatre, and is an elder, a member of the choir and a Sunday School teacher in New Providence Presbyterian Church. Helen has been treasurer of the Junior Chilhowee Club, Circle Chairman, and is connected in various ways in the work of the Presbyterian Church. Their children are:

V. ALEXANDER HARRISON PICKENS, fifth child of Alexander and Cynthia Cowan Pickens was born May 25, 1840, in a house on the farm of his grandfather John Pickens at Nail's Creek, Knox County, Tennessee. He died April 10, 1900 at his home on Stock Creek, Knox County, Tennessee and is buried at Mt. Olive Cemetery.

He married Oct. 15, 1880, Eliza Ann Hinton, daughter of Francis and Elmira J. Edington Hinton. The ceremony was at the home and performed by Rev. Brown. The family home was at Third Creek, Knox County, Tennessee. She was born Jan. 29, 1851. Record is to be found in the Register's Office at the Knox County Court House of the purchase of land by Francis F. Hinton from Absolum Looney on Jan. 1, 1874. There were 120 acres and the land is situated in the 19th District of Knox County, Tennessee. (The record is found in W.D.-M-3-Page 93 and the date filed is Jan. 1, 1874). In the 1850 Census Record at the library at Knoxville, Tennessee, this record is given of Francis Hinton and family: Francis 25, Elmira J. 20 and William M. two months.

Eliza Hinton Pickens was a good helpmate for her husband and with the several children made a big happy family. But at thirty-nine years of age she was left a widow with seven children, the youngest only 14 months old. She faced a difficult road but possessed the faith, courage and capabilities for the years ahead. She was most industrious and with the help of her children the difficulties were met as they came.

She was a good planner, letting nothing go to waste, utilizing time, effort and the materials at hand with exceptionally good judgment. She was honest, and a son recently remarked, "I remember very well mother looking up from her Bible and over her glasses and saying to her boys that if they would always be honest with their fellowmen they would get along alright."

Eliza Hinton was rather tall, with firm face, blue eyes, dark hair and was very happy and friendly. She was a faithful member of Mt. Olive Baptist Church from early womanhood until her death May 21, 1934. She is buried beside her husband in the Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Alexander Harrison Pickens (Harrison) lived in the Eusebia section until after the Civil War when, with his mother, brother and sister, he came to Knox County, Tennessee. During the Civil War he farmed and took care of his mother and sister. I have in my possession a receipt which is of interest. It is to Harrison Pickens for medical attention on the dates of July 26, 1867, July 28, 1867 and January 18, 1868. The Dr. was Dr. J. L. Russell and it would seem thatt Harrison Pickens was in Knox County at this time as Dr. Russell was a doctor of this region.

Harrison Pickens lived on rented land for a while after coming to Knox County. He shared in the purchase of farm land in 1874 and 1878. Harrison lived in the big log house on his part of the farm until around 1890 when a frame house was constructed near the old home. He loved his farm and was successful in operating it.

He was tall and slender, six feet or more, and had brown eyes and dark hair, and wore a long beard. He was quiet-natured, friendly, honest and industrious. He was Justice of the Peace for a time. He belonged to the Rockford Presbyterian Church. He was ill for some months before his death which came in the prime of his life.

After the death of her first husband she returned home and for some years taught in the primary grades in Knox County.

They lived in Knoxville for some years where a home was maintained for the two sons, Raymond and Leon Cunningham, children of a former marriage. From his obituary we have this about him, "Before horse-drawn vehicles were forced out of service by the motor age, Mr. Cunningham was associated with John H. Blankenship, a former sheriff of Knox County, in the operation of a livery stable in Knoxville.

"When Mr. Blankenship was elected Sheriff, Mr. Cunningham was appointed a deputy. He also was at one time Sheriff's deputy in Blount County.

"In recent years he operated a dairy and market garden several miles south of the city on the Maryville Highway.

"Mr. Cunningham was interested in church and civic affairs and had been a deacon of Mt. Olive Church for a long time."

After leaving Knoxville the Cunningham couple lived at the old Harrison Pickens home until the death of Mr. Cunningham June 8, 1937. He is buried at Mt. Olive Cemetery.

VI. LETITIA ISSABELLA PICKENS, sixth child of Alexander and Cynthia Cowan Pickens was born Jan. 15, 1843 at the home of her parents on the old John Pickens farm at Nail's Creek. She died May 10, 1916 at her home on the Chapman Highway near Knoxville, Tenn., and is buried in nearby Woodlawn Cemetery.

She married Joseph Ford Dec. 9, 1870. He was born March 15, 1848. His parents were Boze and Nancy Masterson Ford. They lived on a farm in Knox County near Meridian Baptist Church and were charter members of that church. The 1850 census of Knox County gives the record of the family as, Boze 37, Nancy 35, Joseph 2 and Isaiah 4 months of age.

Joseph Ford lived on farms in Knox and Sevier Counties, and bought land on Chapman Highway near Knoxville about 1900 where he lived until his death. He was a Woodman of the World. He joined Mt. Olive Baptist Church by letter, when his two oldest children united with that church. Later he joined the South Knoxville Baptist Church where he remained a faithful member until his death Dec. 21, 1912. He was a very tall, friendly and kindly man. He had blue eyes and wore long white whiskers. He is buried by the side of his wife in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Letitia Pickens Ford was less than two years old when her father died. She was raised by her mother in the Eusebia Community until she came with the family to Knox County, Tennessee shortly after the Civil War. A receipt in my possession shows that she had a broken arm previous to 1874. The receipt is to Mrs. Cynthia Pickens from Dr. J. M. Kennedy, Knoxville, Tennessee is, "To night visit and Surgical attention for fracture of daughter's arm."

Another receipt dated Jan. 18, 1868 for medical attention to Letitia Pickens shows payment to Dr. J. L. Russell for services rendered. It would seem from this receipt that she was living in Knox County since Dr. Russell practiced medicine in this region and the date corresponds with other proof of their residence here at this time.

Letitia Pickens Ford was christened when three years old at the Eusebia Presbyterian church. She remained from early girlhood a faithful member of this church until her youngest child joined Mt. Olive Baptist Church. Later she united with South Knoxville Baptist Church where she remained a faithful member and supporter until her death.

She was tall, slender, had black hair and brown eyes. She was a good seamstress and cook, had a pleasing personality, made friends easily, had a good memory for stories and past events and was well liked; a letter of interest, written to her in 1865 by a cousin is reprinted here, in full.

July 16, 1865

To Miss Letitia Pickens:
Dear Cousin:

Your letter came to hand in due time. It was only five days on the way. It was mailed on the 7th and I received it on the 12th. I began to think that you had forgotten me but I was very agreeably disappointed by receiving your kind letter. I had written to you and Harrison so often and could never hear from you that I began to think that you never got them. I was happy to hear that your brother Sam had returned home to his dear mother one time more but sorry to hear the sad tidings of the death of your brother William. Our friends are passing away every day. I hope when you get this that Harrison will be well again. The friends are all well as far as I know. James S. Evans was here last night. He and the boys are gone to singing this morning. It rained all day yesterday and last night and I could not go.

I am going to weave a piece of dinnin for hand towels; if you will come over I will give you one. That is a great inducement to come, is it not?

You can tell Harrison that George Dunn is married to Miss Cydona Caton; I suppose that he has seen her; she is Mary Dunn's sister. I think she lived with Mary when he was out here.

Uncle Nat says that he is going to start back home the 1st of October. Jack says he is not going with them. You can guess what kind of a game he is going to play.

Tell Sam that I should like very much to get a few lines from him since he has got home as it has been a long time since I had a letter from him.

I was to see I. J. Farmer the other day; he is getting along well.

Mother sends her love to you all. I would be pleased if you would send me word in your next letter that you are coming to see us this Fall. Please send me a lock of your hair and your mother's too, for I am going to make a hair flower and I should like to have some of your hair to put in it.

Please write as soon as you get this and do not forget to tell all the news and tell the rest to do the same. Give my love to all who may inquire after me, if there should be any and receive aportion due yourself.

(There is an added note dated July 19th in which she adds that) Uncle Nat is very sick. Ma went to see him last night but has not gotten home yet. Shall I look for you and your brothers this Fall? Do write and say yes.

She traced the outline of her hand on the paper and in it put these words; "With fond affection through my hand I send to you." The letter is signed,

From your affectionate cousin,
Elizabeth M. Collins

(The inference to me is that there is a definite connection between the Pickens and Collins people and that Harrison Pickens had been on a visit to the Collins home and that it was probably in Virginia or North Carolina. The fact that it took five days to deliver the letter, even by post, is proof that they did not live immediately in this section.)

They ate, slept and studied in one room.

She taught school in Knox County for some years. One of the first was a subscription school where in return for board in my home, I was permitted to attend as a five year-old. Judging from stories of my childhood activities, board was probably high at that.

d. LEVATOR PICKENS FORD, fourth child of Joseph and Letitia Ford, was born Aug. 6, 1878 on the Masterson farm in Knox County. He died Aug. 17, 1939 at Albuquerque, N. M.

He married Rutelia Pearl Berry in Knox County, Tennessee July 12, 1906. She was born near Mt. Olive, Knox County, Nov. 9, 1881, the daughter of the late W. L. Berry and his wife Jane McMillan Berry who still resides at Mt. Olive though eighty-seven years old (1950).

Pearl was educated in the schools of Knox County and taught in the schools of the county. She and her family were consistent members and workers of Baptist Churches wherever they lived. Pearl Berry Ford died April 22, 1940 at Albuquerque, New Mexico and is buried in that city by the side of her husband in Sunset Memorial Park.

Levator Ford attended the public schools and Chilhowee Institute. He volunteered for service in the Spanish-American war and was in the 3rd Reg. CO. I, U. S. Volunteer Engineers.

A letter sent from him to his family while he was stationed at Camp Matan-Zas, Cuba was published in a Knoxville newspaper and contains some interesting material. He said in part. "We had a warm time today raising 'Old Glory' in the Spanish Fort and seeing the Spaniards march out and give their guns to us . . . Some of the Spaniards stood and looked at our flag crawl the pole until it reached the top, then burst into tears and came around and shook hands with some of our boys. They said we were the bravest men ever born, for 350 men marched in front of 21,000 enemies and raised our flag. They could have swept us off the face of the globe."

After Levator's marriage the family lived in Knoxville, Tennessee where he was a policeman. At the time of his death an article appeared in a Knoxville newspaper from which I give excerpts. "Ford became a member of the police department under the administration of former Chief John Nichols. There were few automobiles here at that time. The first motorcycle ordered by the city was used on emergency calls. Ford was assigned to ride it because he was the youngest officer of the department and an expert motorcycle rider."

Later Levator was associated with former chief Nichols in the operation of a livery stable on State Street in Knoxville.

He left Tennessee about 1915 on account of his wife's health. He was employed by the railroad in Albuquerque for some years and later purchased a farm in that region.

ROBERT PICKENS

K. ROBERT PICKENS, eleventh child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born at the home of his parents at Nail's Creek, Blount County, Tennessee, Feb. 1, 1810. He died Nov. 19, 1896 and is buried at Eusebia Cemetery.

He married Elizabeth Rowe Houston Dec. 27, 1846. She was born Nov. 2, 1827 and died Sept. 22, 1906 and is buried beside her husband. She was the daughter of Robert and Dorothy Creswell Houston and was probably born while the family lived on Nail's Creek, near the later home of her son, John Pickens.

Elizabeth Houston Pickens was a pleasant, capable and well-liked person. She was justly proud and had a ready smile and pleasant voice. I am greatly indebted to Judge Houston, her nephew, for character sketches of this family and where there are quotations, they will be from his record. He says of her, "Elizabeth, like her mother, Dorothy Houston, was a most excellent house-keeper; a noted cook and her greatest pleasure was to have guests in her home and provide them and her family with a sumptuous meal. She took a motherly interest in her neighbors, especially in case of sickness."

Robert Pickens lived on at the old Pickens homestead of his birth for eleven years after the death of his father and for four years after his marriage. The 1850 census in Microfilm at the Lawson McGhee Library at Knoxville, gives this of the family: Robert Pickens 40, Elizabeth 25, Isabella 3, and Robert Houston one-half year. Thomas Pickens and his five year old daughter, Harriet, were also members of the household.

Robert Pickens succeeded his father as guardian of his nephew, John Pickens Henderson. He is mentioned as such on March 24, 1834 and on Aug. 25, 1842 received $358 from the former guardian John Pickens, "that belongs to John P. Henderson." On March 24, 1843 he made bond in regard to the same guardianship and his securities were Samuel Minnis and Andrew Kirkpatrick. In this year he was receipted by his nephew and the guardianship ended as the nephew had become of age.

Robert Pickens sold property to his brother Thomas Pickens, Oct. 17, 1850. This property was in three tracts in District 13 Blount County and sold for $750. A partial description follows: The first tract "being the tract conveyed by the State to John Pickens Sr. and containing by estimation 287 acres and bounded as follows: From a stake on south side of creek by William McClurg's line — to a Post oak at the foot of Bay's Mountain, at the head of a small spring, by Lusy Davice corner — to Nail's Creek — to a stake at Samuel McMurry's."

The second tract, that "granted by the State to me Feb. 4, 1836" consisting of 150 acres.

The third tract was the one "conveyed by Peter Cline to me", consisting of 53 acres and partly bounded as: On top of Bay's Mountain to Susan Houser, to a line of John Pickens, to the foot of Bay's Mountain. (This land had been purchased from Peter Cline by Robert Pickens, Sept. 21, 1830 and was signed by Alexander Pickens and Benjamin Blackburn.) In the sale of the three tracts Wm. Bicknell signed and it was registered Dec. 30, 1854. (P. 106 Book Y Blount County records.)

An interesting transaction concerning Robert Pickens took place Sept. 18, 1847 and is as follows: "Know all men by these presents that I, Robert Pickens bind myself and my heirs or assigns in the penal sum of two thousand dollars. The condition of the above obligation is such that whereas I, said Robert Pickens, did on the 4th day of January, 1847, purchase of the said Andrew Kirkpatrick three negro slaves of the following description, one black man named William, aged 50 years, one mulatto boy named Rufus, aged about 18 years and one mulatto girl, Louisa, 14 years for which the said Robert Pickens paid unto said Kirkpatrick $1240; now if the said Andrew Kirkpatrick pays or causes to be paid unto the said Robert Pickens, his heirs and assigns, $1240 with legal interest from the date of purchase, I, said Robert Pickens bind myself, heirs and representatives to convey all right in me vested by said purchase unto the said Andrew Kirkpatrick, his heirs or representatives. Given under my hand and seal". Signed Robert Pickens and John Hafley. This appeared to be a sort of bond and was recorded Dec. 6, 1847. (Book V P 39 Blount County records).

About this time he purchased the farm and homestead of William Evins Creswell, grandfather of his wife, Elizabeth. The farm is situated on Nail's Creek, Blount County, some two miles farther north from the old Pickens homestead. It is on the cross-road from Eusebia on the Maryville-Sevierville Highway to the Chapman Highway where it joins at Burnetts Station. Here Robert and his wife reared their children. It is said that the present house though changed a little contains within its walls the original structure of hand-made brick that had been the home of the Creswells before them, and that the weather-boarding was placed over these walls, which through the years have been strong and sturdy.

Robert Pickens was a good farmer. It was said of him "that he was a man of more than average intelligence. He was a successful farmer and stock trader. He raised abundant crops and always had a large number of horses, mules, cattle, hogs and sheep. By reason of his stock trading and his pleasing personality he became widely and favorably known in Sevier, Knox and Blount Counties and had many friends. He was energetic and thrifty and a good provider."

The family meant much to the neighborhood and have always been staunch supporters of the Eusebia Church. Robert Pickens, according to an old record of the church, joined Eusebia Church Aug. 29, 1854, by examination.

This Fall 1950, he has just been re-elected to another eight-year term. Needless to say he has served and is serving in this capacity with great distinction. His friendly spirit, genial manner and unpretentiousness have endeared him to all, who also admire him for his determination and personal achievements which have brought this special state obligation and honor to him.

She taught Sunday school classes for a number of years in the church near her home. She was courteous and hospitable and very entertaining in her home and among people.

Samuel Pickens acquired a part of his father's farm in his young manhood and began the operation of it. A part of the farm was in Blount and a part in Sevier County. He built a home and barn on the upper end of the land near the Knoxville and Sevierville Highway, now the Chapman Highway. In addition to the raising of grain and hay on this farm he was engaged in stock trading, buying and selling, mostly mules and cattle. He had a wide acquaintance in Blount, Knox and Sevier Counties.

He and his brother Oliver Pickens, before the days of embalming, had a storage place for caskets near Burnetts Station and for years carried on a profitable business in this line.

Samuel Pickens had blue eyes, fair complexion and a slender, erect body. He was jolly, a good mixer, and well-liked. He and his wife liked young people and aided girls of the community with parental affection and care. They were entertaining and hospitable in their home.

They were members of Eusebia Church. Mr. Pickens took a leading part in the incorporation of Eusebia Cemetery under the State Law in 1907. This cemetery is the old burying ground of the church and he aided in raising a fund of some $1,000, the interest of which is used for its upkeep.

Since they were near the Valley Grove Baptist Church and felt a need and a desire to help their closer neighbors they gave of their time and effort to this church. Bessie Keener, a niece of Mrs. Pickens, was born Dec. 8, 1896 and reared by this couple. She married V. L. Garrison June 14, 1934. He was born Nov. 27, 1890. V. HARRIET E. PICKENS, fifth child of Robert and Elizabeth Houston Pickens, was born at the family home Oct. 9, 1857. She died March 3, 1858 and is buried at the Eusebia Cemetery. She was evidently named for a sister of her mother, Harriet Emily Houston who had died Sept. 1, 1865 about a year before the birth of Harriet E. Pickens.

VI. THOMAS H. PICKENS, DR., sixth child of Robert and Elizabeth Houston Pickens was born at the family home in the 11th District of Blount County, April 17, 1864 and died Oct. 26, 1897. He is buried in the Eusebia Cemetery. "He was a carpenter in his younger days and in a partnership composed of William H. McNelly, Andrew Delozier and himself constructed many substantial residences and barns in Eastern Blount County."

He attended Maryville College and later graduated at the Medical College in Knoxville, Tennessee. Soon afterwards he began the practice of Medicine with offices at Shooks, Knox County, Tennessee, a few miles from the home of his father. He had previously acquired from Dr. McPherson his practice in that locality. Dissatisfaction with the contract arose to such an extent that McPherson went to the office of Dr. Pickens and shot him on the porch in front of his office. McPherson was convicted of the murder and sent to the State Penitentiary.

Dr Pickens had many friends. He liked his chosen work and apparently had a successful future ahead. He was about 5 ft. 10 inches in height with blue eyes, ruddy complexion and a robust body. He was a single man. His untimely death was greatly mourned by relatives and friends.

He owned a large farm on the Knoxville Road just below Sevierville, Tennessee. This farm was the family home for some years. Later they moved to Knoxville, where Mr. Cannon was engaged in business. He married Mary Helen Harrison June 12, 1951. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Mark Harrison of Atlanta, Georgia, and the wedding ceremony was in the Second Ponce de Leon Baptist Church in Atlanta.

VIII. OLIVER C. PICKENS, eighth child of Robert and Elizabeth Houston Pickens, was born May 5, 1870 at the home of his parents on the Nail's Creek road in the 11th District of Blount County, Tennessee. He died March 5, 1948 at his home which was also his birth-place. He is buried at the Eusebia Cemetery.

He married Miranda Cornelia McCroskey Sept. 28, 1893. She was born Sept. 28, 1870. She is the daughter of the late John S. and Miranda Jane Cunningham McCroskey of Sevier County.

Cornelia McCroskey Pickens has always been a greatly admired person. Her radiant personality, her friendliness, her intense interest in the affairs of friends, relatives, and neighbors have endeared her to the many people her life has touched. She has long been a member of the Eusebia Presbyterian Church, a faithful attendant upon its services whenever able to attend, aiding in its support and enterprises by words of cheer to the workers as well as by financial support.

She was diligent in the duties of her home and on Sept. 28, 1943 celebrated with her husband the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. It was a happy occasion when scores of people called at the home to express good wishes and to show homage to this couple who, so happily married, had greatly endeared themselves to young and old. In feeble health Mrs. Pickens is now being cared for in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Keeble at Maryville, Tenn.

Oliver Pickens spent his entire life in the home of his birth. Upon the death of his parents he procured a section of the farm. Here he continued to raise crops and keep up a good supply of cattle and hogs.

He engaged in the sale of funeral equipment with his brother Samuel Pickens, which business has already been mentioned. I remember that cousin Ollie told of an incident at one funeral. Before leaving the house the grandchildren brought gifts of china, etc., which had been given to them by their grandmother but which were now to be buried with her. This act appears to be a remnant of the Indian custom of burial, but I did not know that it was ever used with our native people. He had much to do with Eusebia Cemetery and aided in the naming and location of graves.

Oliver Pickens was a lifelong worker in the Eusebia Church. He was a deacon for many years and at the time of his death was an elder of the church. He was faithful in attendance and aided in any and all enterprises of the church. He was secretary of the Building Committee when the new church was built in 1935, and perhaps more than any other bore the brunt of the construction of the new church.

He was of medium height, blue eyes and fair complexion. He had a well-modulated voice with a quality easily noticed and not forgotten. He was pleasant and likable. He was a good neighbor and interested in the welfare of his community. He was honest and industrious and in his long residence in the community maintained with his parents and later, his wife, a home noted for its friendliness and hospitality. As the last living grandson of old John Pickens, among the many lines in our group, he symbolized to us who knew him, the best of all our ancestors and is greatly missed.

THOMAS PICKENS

L. THOMAS PICKENS, twelfth child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, was born at the homestead of his parents on Nail's Creek, Blount County, Tennessee, Sept. 26, 1812. He died at the home of his birth Aug. 18, 1883. He is buried at the Eusebia Cemetery.

He married Harriet McBath Feb. 8, 1844, daughter of Andrew McBath. This notice was in the Knoxville Register of Feb. 14, 1844. "Married: on the 8th inst. by the Rev. M. Pope, Mr. Thomas Pickens and Miss Harriet McBath, daughter of Mr. Andrew McBath — all of Blount County."

Harriet McBath Pickens died about a year after her marriage on Feb. 4, 1845 and the notation in the old Pickens Bible about her is that she was 25 years and 55 days of age. That would make her birth in 1820. She is buried beside her husband. Thomas Pickens married a second time Elizabeth Dykes, Feb. 16, 1868.

Thomas Pickens by the will of his father was given all the land on the north side of the place with the improvements. There was a provision that he was to have "the full possession, use and benefit of the property and land, but not to be at liberty to dispose of it till he is of age." He kept the property as long as he lived. He was a successful farmer and stockman and his name is found in frequent transactions in the buying and selling of property in the section, which are on record at the trustee's office at the Blount County Court House. Some of the property bought was from Andrew Kirkpatrick, Joseph Brown and M. Bogle in 1847: to A. J. Taylor, 1865, John Finley, 1866 and to W. D. McGinley in 1868. He bought the farm of his brother Alexander Pickens' heirs, Nov. 5, 1849 and bought most of the inherited land of his brother Robert Pickens in 1850. He is listed with other Pickens men who bought 5000 acres of land Sept. 2, 1845. This transaction is a county grant of Sevier County, Tennessee and is to be found 680 of Book 26 of land grants at the State Library at Nashville, Tennessee.

Thomas Pickens was bequeathed the old John Pickens Bible and the cupboard at his mother's death. The Bible was treasured in turn by his daughter and was put in my care by Thomas McMurry, her eldest son, and it has verified quite a number of dates.

In his more feeble years, Thomas Pickens is said to have ridden, frequently and at will over the surrounding country. He carried a rifle and two big black dogs and one little one followed him.

Thomas and Harriet McBath Pickens had one child:

I Harriet Jane b January 30, 1845

I. HARRIET PICKENS was born at the homestead of her parents and in the old John Pickens home. She was only five days old when her mother died. She was reared by her father and other relatives who lived nearby. She was a likable young woman and throughout her life was an example of fortitude, Christian faith, family love and piety and neighborly interest. She was a member and supporter of the Eusebia Presbyterian church and aided other churches near her place of abode. She died Nov. 20, 1920 at her home at Knoxville, Tennessee. She is buried at Greenwood Cemetery.

She married Joseph Campbell McMurry Sept. 28, 1865. He was born July 9, 1841 and died May 12, 1895. He is buried at Eusebia. He was a Federal soldier of the war of 1860-1865. He was a son of William McMurry and his wife Margaret Malcolm McMurry, who was a daughter of William Malcom.

Joseph McMurry purchased a farm on Nail's Creek, joining the old Pickens farm. Here he and his wife reared their large family of children. They were all supporters of the Eusebia church. After the death of Mr. McMurry the family moved to Maryville, where they lived until 1904, when they moved to Knoxville, Tenn.

She remained single, lived at home all her life and aided not only in the care of her mother in her infirmities but was a "second mother" in assisting in the problems of the widowed mother and in her advice and interest in the various enterprises and needs of all the family. ALLIED FAMILIES

Because of the general interest of the material and of the special interest to the families most closely connected to the allied histories, I have included what I had on hand or could easily obtain about the families connected in one or more ways with the people of the Pickens history.

ANDERSON—McREYNOLDS LINEAGE

William Anderson was the pioneer of a large group of Andersons in Blount County. He was from Virginia and his father is said to have also been named William. He came to Blount County in the early years of its organization and settled first at the head of Crooked Creek two miles west of Block House. From Mr. Parham's record "he prospered and built a brick house near the top of a hill within three miles of Maryville. It was east of the home of Mrs. James Fezell and was on Pistol Creek in the eighth District."

Also from his record—"the minutes of Blount County Court Vol. 6 P 123 show that Oct. 7, 1844 a year's support was laid off for Miriam, the widow of William Anderson. The administrator was a son, Calvin D. Anderson." From this we infer that William Anderson had died shortly before this time.

William Anderson married Margaret Miriam Hannah, probably a relative of our Letitia Hannah Pickens. In our possession are deeds of conveyance from heirs of William Anderson Feb. 20, 1854 and signed by Margaret Miriam Hannah Anderson.

The children of William and Margaret M. Hannah Anderson are: 1 Calvin b 1806—sheriff of Blount County — single: 2 Andrew Lyle b Jan. 2, 1809, d March 11, 1882, m (1) Martha Scruggs and (2) Betsy Creswell—c—Erskine, Mrs. Margaret Russell; 3 Robert m (1) Nancy Harris Nov. 15, 1838 and (2) Malinda (Blankenship) Keene Jan. 24, 1861; (4) James Ross whose record will be given below; (5) Matthew (twin) m (1) Sarah A. Hicks Feb. 27, 1851; (2) Sarah A. Chapman Feb. 8, 1863 and (3) a Miss Thompson; 6 Isaac G. (twin) m Mary E. M. Ross Feb 7, 1854; 7 William H. m Jane Houston Oct. 11, 1836; 8 Eliza m William Boyd Nov. 12, 1833; 9 Margaret m William M. Rorex March 31, 1936. (From Parham record).

James R. C. Anderson (Ross), son of William and Miriam Hannah Anderson was born Nov. 28, 1828 and died at Rockford, Tenn. Aug. 17, 1893 and is buried in Magnolia Cemetery, Maryville.

He married Rebecca E. Wright Jan. 20, 1846 in Blount County. She was born April 16, 1828 and died Feb. 17, 1890 and is buried beside her husband. She was the daughter of Nelson Wright, who from the Parham record, lived two or three miles below Maryville. Nelson Wright had a son "Dev" Wright who married Nancy Jane Walker, whose daughter Nellie Wright married Squire Will Russell of Rockford and whose descendents have lived and some still live in Blount County. Another son Will, called Billy Wright married (1) a Henderson and (2) a Thompson. They had a son Will Wright and a daughter Mary (Molly) who married John Kennedy whose descendents live in this section.

Nancy m John McClain. Dorcus m Wright Kirby.

From a history of Rockbridge County, Va., I find that Nelson Wright married Polly Houston, who had a brother John who married Jane McNeely and sisters, Rebecca who married Jefferson Young and Hettie who married John Nichols.

Nelson Wright b. January 20, 1790—d. July 8, 1862

Polly Houston Wright was a daughter of William Houston born 1767 and his wife Mary Black Houston. This ties up with the Houston record given in the book. William Houston was a son of Samuel Houston (1728-1797) who married Elizabeth McCroskey, March 20, 1753. (They are the grandparents of Judge Houston and Elizabeth Houston Pickens, children of Robert Houston Jr.). Samuel Houston was a son of John Houston, (1689-1755) who married Margaret Cunningham 1717 and is said to have come to America from Ireland in 1735 with a widowed mother whose husband had also been named John.

In the Rockbridge County history we find this: "John Houston the pioneer, figured in an exploit during his voyage from Ireland to Philadelphia. He and his fellow passengers became convinced that the captain and crew meant to rob them. So the passengers put the suspects in irons and navigated the vessel themselves."

The children of Ross and Rebecca Wright Anderson were: Mary who married John McColloch with descendents in this section and William Calvin born Aug. 15, 1848, died Jan. 14, 1889 and is buried at Magnolia. He married Mildred Miranda McReynolds.

Ross and Rebecca Wright Anderson first lived in the region of Forest Hill church near Maryville. Jan. 6, 1873 they with their son Calvin and wife bought land at Rockford, Tennessee from Mrs. Phoebe J. Porter, widow of Dr. W. S. Porter. The record of deeds shows that part of the farm goes back to the granted land deed of Joshua Hannah who on June 14, 1807 owned 170 and three-fourths acres and also to John Roddy who owned granted land purchased at 12 and one-half cents an acre, in Jan. and July 1825.

There is also an interesting story about this home as it is reliably reported that Dr. Isaac Anderson, founder and President of Maryville College died in the house on the farm, which, situated on the river, was lived in by the Andersons until the flood of 1875 when the house was moved to higher ground, part of it incorporated in the present house which is now our home.

In a history of Dr. Isaac Anderson, by Dr. Samuel T. Wilson, President of the College, we find that Dr. Anderson's home at Maryville burned March 17, 1856 and that following this "Dr. Anderson moved with this kind family, who had been living with him (Rev. John M. Caldwell and wife — the former wife of Samuel Anderson, his son), and their children to Rockford, in whose home he died Jan. 28, 1857, and from whose home his body was taken across the gunnel bridge at Rockford to its resting place at Maryville." Mr. Parham said that Dr. Porter lived in Maryville and that his house was made available to Dr. Anderson and family. Part of the Ross and Calvin Anderson farm dated back to an old Thomas Caldwell whose descendent, David Caldwell and family lived at this time in another home on the farm and until April 2, 1867 when the property was sold. They were probably closely related to Rev. John M. Caldwell who lived with Dr. Anderson and who, about the time they moved here was pastor of the Eusebia and Rockford Presbyterian churches, the latter of which was organized by Dr. Isaac Anderson in 1853 who became also its first pastor.

Calvin Anderson, son of Ross and Rebecca Wright Anderson, and his wife Mildred M. McReynolds Anderson lived at Rockford from the date of purchase of their property. Calvin died at an early age and his wife reared the six children who were: Minnie, James C., John, Della, William Alonzo (Lon), and Hebert F. (Bert). The latter two now own the farms of the original purchase to which they have added other land.

Mildred Miranda McReynolds, wife of Calvin Anderson, was born Aug. 24, 1851 in Blount County and died at Rockford, March 7, 1934. She is buried beside her husband. She married Calvin Anderson Jan 1, 1870. The Anderson home was one of religious atmosphere. They gave their full allegiance to the Rockford church which they joined when coming here, twenty years after the formation of the church.

A record from Miss Grace McReynolds, Maryville, Tennessee gives a long line of McReynolds lineage. Joseph McReynolds was born at Tyrone or Dunganon, Ireland in 1715. He married Sarah Dixon in Ireland 1738. Both died in Sequatchie Valley, Tennessee.

Their children were Roland, James, Robert, Samuel, Joseph Jr., John, William and two daughters, one of whom married John Reed and has descendents in Delaware and Maryland.

The Joseph Jr., McReynolds of the above children was born in Virginia 1762. He died in Blount County 1866 and married for his second wife Rachel Rainey who also was born in Virginia and died in Blount County, Tennessee.

Joseph Jr., and Rachel Rainey McReynolds had a son John McReynolds who came to Blount County from Sequatchie Valley and married his first cousin, Jane McReynolds, Nov. 27, 1799 in a fort near Maryville. She died 1824 and was the daughter of another Joseph McReynolds. Her mother was probably a Woods. From some old records she had a sister Betsy McReynolds who married Alexander Jr., who had sons John and Holbert, and a sister Sarah who married Martin Rorex.

The children of John and Jane McReynolds of Blount County were:

2 Guilford
3 Ferdinand
4 Robert
5 Mary (Polly)
6 Elizabeth (Betsy)
7 Martha (Patsy)

1. Stephen McReynolds married Eleanor Tedford who died July 16, 1858, aged 48 years and 28 days, and is buried in Magnolia. Their children were Nancy, who died in infancy, Mary Jane, who married Addison Houston, and lived in Blount County and Joseph T. McReynolds, who was a Major in the Union army in the Civil War and was killed in the battle of Murfreesboro Dec. 30, 1862. Stephen McReynolds is said by a relative to have been the first Judge of Blount County.

2. Guilford McReynolds (record below)
3. Ferdinand McReynolds went to Georgia
4. Robert McReynolds married Sarah Weir and had children Stephen and John Calvin.
5. Mary McReynolds married Archibald Gresham and moved to Illinois.
6. Elizabeth McReynolds married Marshall Tipton and moved West.
7. Martha McReynolds married Isaac Wells and lived at Wellsville, a few miles below Maryville. Descendents are in that region.

2. Guilford McReynolds was born May 12, 1815 in Blount County, died Jan. 30, 1894 and is buried at Magnolia. He married Parmelia G. Gamble who was born Sept. 1, 1821, died Jan. 6, 1884 and is buried beside her husband. She was the daughter of Aaron and Agnes Lilburn Gamble who was born in 1786. Aaron Gamble was born March 1, 1780 and died Nov. 12, 1849. He lived in Blount County but the place of his burial is not known. He did fine cabinet work and some good pieces of furniture from his hand are still in the families of descendents. His lineage is not complete but from an old Bible he was the son of Andrew Gamble. There were and are still many Gambles in Blount County. From a history prepared by Major A. Marion Gamble of Blount County, Tennessee the oldest Gamble was a John Gamble who came from County Chester, Ireland to Pennsylvania. He had a large family of whom there was a Josias Gamble (1760-1823) who married Ann Gamwell (1755-1801) Oct. 8, 1772. Their history with a long line of descendents has been worked out. Also there is some history of the descendents of Moses Gamble, brother of Josias Gamble. From known kinship of the Gamble families it appears that Andrew Gamble, father of Aaron Gamble, was a brother of Josias and Moses Gamble.

The children of Guilford and Parmelia Gamble McReynolds were:

1 Ferdinand Magellan (Ferd) died out West
2 Aaron Gamble died as Captain in Union Army in Civil War.
3 William Alfred died as a private in the same Union Army.
4 Robert Philander (twin) Judge of Blount County m—Dilla McConnell
5 John Alexander (twin) lived in Blount County m—Laura Porter
6 Stephen Milford (Tobe) lived in Blount County m—Nannie McConnell now living in Maryville and 90 years old June 7, 1951
7 Nancy Jane who married (1) William Broady (2) Lamar Wallace and (3) Isaac Anderson McCulley
10 Sidney Ann m—Campbell Boyd
11 Mildred Miranda m—Calvin Anderson (record given)
12 Martha Isabella m—Dr. Monroe Mundy

All of the above children are dead and all lived in Blount County unless otherwise specified.

BERRY LINEAGE

This record was obtained mostly from the history of Drury Berry (deceased) of Knoxville, Tennessee. Joseph Berry, the pioneer to this section married Mary Lawson White, related to the first settlers of Knoxville.

He had a son Josiah Berry who died in Knox County Oct. 26, 1806 and who married Nancy Wells, born March 17, 1777. She was the daughter of Jesse Wells who was born in 1749 in Amelia County, Virginia, died Sept. 21, 1843 and is buried at a private burying ground on the "Peter Blow" farm near Knoxville. The name of his wife was Elizabeth — and he was a Revolutionary soldier whose record has been established.

Josiah and Nancy Wells Berry had children named James, Mary, Margaret, Hugh Lawson, Elizabeth Wells, George Caldwell, Nancy McCondle, Susannah Waggoner and Jo Davis Berry. Nancy Wells Berry married (2) Michael Davis Dec. 17, 1807.

Hugh Lawson Berry, fourth child of Josiah and Nancy Berry was born Jan. 15, 1800, died Dec. 31, 1887. He married Anna Parker Feb. 15, 1827, who was born Oct. 24, 1805 and died March 16, 1879. She was the daughter of John and Susanne Parker. Hugh Lawson Berry and wife came to Knox County early in their married life and settled on a farm at Mt. Olive where their children were reared and are buried. Their children were Michael Davis, John Parker, Josiah, Mary Ann, Jesse Wells, Nathaniel Muncy, Susanna Goddord, Nancy Wells, George Caldwell, Barbara Eleanor, Davis Parker, Rachel, Margaret E., Harriet M., and William Lawson Berry. Several of the children married and stayed in the region of Knoxville. The youngest son William Berry lived all his life on the old Berry place and several of his children still live on part of it. Ralph L. Berry (recently deceased) of the Berry funeral home is one of them. Drury, a brother of Ralph Berry is the one who collected the Berry history.

Michael D. Berry, oldest son of Hugh Lawson and Anna Parker Berry, was born Feb. 29, 1828 and died June 24, 1865 at the close of the Civil War and is buried at Nashville. He married Mary Harmon May 30, 1850, who was born Sept. 22, 1829 and died June 12, 1893 and is buried at Mt. Olive. She was the daughter of John Harmon born Aug. 17, 1806 and died Nov. 18, 1896. He lived near and is buried at Neubert Springs, Knox County. His mother was a Childress and his wife was a Hoosong.

The children of Michael D. and Mary Harmon Berry are: Rosalia Caroline, Martha, Louisa, Emily, Lauretta and John Berry. All are deceased. The oldest child Rosalia Caroline Berry married Samuel Pickens.

BOYD LINEAGE

The Boyd record was obtained from Major McTeer's record, Eusebia notes and Mr. Parham. It is of interest not only to descendents of the Cunningham and Jane Pickens line but by inference, also, to those related to Cowan descendents and others.

CRESWELL—EVANS LINEAGE

Andrew Creswell was the great-grandfather of Elizabeth Houston Pickens, wife of Robert Pickens. From old Eusebia Church and Cemetery records and from other sources quite a bit of information concerning him and his family is available. On Sept. 23, 1928, Rev. J. B. Creswell, a great-grandson of Andrew Creswell delivered an address about his ancestor at the Boyd's Creek church, which furnishes part of this record.

Andrew Creswell was born Jan. 12, 1757 in South Carolina, died in Sevier County July 16, 1838. He married Dorothy Evins (Evans) March 22, 1780, who was born Dec. 11, 1756 and died in Sevier County at about the age of 100 years. Andrew Creswell came to the Boyd's Creek section of Sevier County with his father William Henry Creswell about 1787. A sister Polly who married a Huffaker and a brother Henry also came along with him.

Andrew Creswell was a brave soldier of the Revolution having served a period of thirteen years or more in various wars of the early period. He was of great aid to the early settlers of the Boyd's Creek section and Ramsey's Annals relate stories of his bravery. He and his wife were charter members of the Eusebia Presbyterian Church and he was an elder and worker in this church for many years.

The children of Andrew and Dorothy Evans Creswell are: 1 Nancy b Feb. 5, 1781; 2 Henry b Oct. 18, 1782; 3 William Evins b June 10, 1784; 4 Rebecca b May 3, 1786; 5 Elizabeth b May 24, 1790; 6 Samuel E. b April 14, 1792; 7 Margaret V. b March 24, 1794; and 8 Dorothy b March 22, 1798.

2. Henry Creswell of the above children went to Alabama.

3. William Evins Creswell married Elizabeth McMurry, daughter of Samuel McMurry, and purchased the farm later owned by Robert Pickens. William E. Creswell died May 8, 1852. The children of William Evins and Elizabeth McMurry Creswell are:

(1) Nancy
(2) Dorothy
(3) Samuel
(4) Minerva
(5) Sarah
(6) Andrew
(7) Dorcas
(8) William Anderson
(9) Elizabeth Hannah

(2). Dorothy Creswell married Robert Houston and her record is found in the pages of Houston history. Her daughter, Elizabeth Rowe Houston is the one who married Robert Pickens of the preceding Pickens record.

(3). Samuel Creswell married Kathryn Williams. Names of their children are: Caroline, who married Guilford Davis; Elizabeth, single; William Campbell and Richard who married and reared families. All went to Texas to live.

(6). Andrew Creswell married Ann Gamble, daughter of A. B. Gamble of Little River, and located on Nail's Creek near its source in Blount County. Names of the children are: Elizabeth, Mary, Margaret, Minerva, Alexander Breckenridge, Nancy, William Glasgow, John B. and Marion Gamble Creswell. The John B. Creswell of the list is the Rev. J. B. Creswell who for many years preached in this area and for many years was pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Bearden, Tennessee. He wrote valuable history of the pioneers of the Eusebia section, a Gamble genealogy and other valuable articles of information.

(8). William Anderson Creswell married Phoebe Bicknell of Madisonville, and moved to Texas, where they reared a family.

4. Rebecca Creswell married Joseph McMurry. From the Creswell paper they went to Putnamville, Putnam County, Indiana. A letter was written by this couple to a sister Margaret Creswell before her marriage to Mr. Snoddy. In the letter she mentions that she has heard of the death of her father. The letter was dated June 24, 1836.

6. Samuel E. Creswell married Polly Fagala and settled on the old homestead at Fagala Gap, Sevier County.

7. Margaret V. married Glasgow Snoddy and located on the place later owned by D. R. Pitner.

Rev. Creswell had in his possession the old will of Samuel Evans, father of Dorothy Evins who married Andrew Creswell the Revolutionary soldier. The will was made Feb. 7, 1804 and the administrators were Andrew Creswell and Robert Evans. From the Parham papers the children are listed as:

1 Samuel Andrew
2 Joseph
3 Andrew
4 Elizabeth M.
5 Peggy Vance
6 James
7 David
8 Robert
10 Dolly Creswell b December 11, 1756

The statement is made by Rev. Creswell that four brothers-in-law of Andrew Creswell were in the battle of King's Mountain. I found an interesting note about an Andrew Evans in a list of Revolutionary soldiers. I think he is the Andrew above and one of the four soldiers mentioned. Andrew Evans was in Rhea County when he received a pension on Sept. 24, 1832. He was born April 4, 1763 in Frederick County, Virginia. He was living in Washington County, Virginia when he substituted for his father, Samuel Evans, who was drafted in that county, in April 1799. In Sept. 1780 he substituted for his brother Joseph Evans who was drafted in Washington County. He was in the battle of King's Mountain. He had moved to Washington County, Virginia before the war and afterward he moved to Knox County, Tennessee, then to Grainger County, then Sevier County, and then to Rhea County where he died. In the old Eusebia church record there is notice of the marriage of Andrew Evans to Dorothy McMurry Aug. 18, 1827. There is also notice of the marriage of William D. Evans and Elizabeth McMurry Nov. 29, 1827. An Andrew Evans is mentioned as being a member of the first County Court of Sevier County, Nov. 8, 1794.

There were several Evans men listed as Revolutionary soldiers. Several Evans people were also on the old record as members of the Eusebia Church. Several land grants were given to people of the Evans name for land in and around Sevier County.

COWAN HISTORY

The parents of the Cowan sisters who married Pickens men have not been definitely determined. Until proved incorrect I am pretty certain that the father was named Chrisopher Columbus Cowan and that the mother was a Boyd before her marriage. We do know that the family lived on Boyd's Creek, Sevier County, Tennessee. No old records have been found in a home about them and the older records at the Sevier County Court House burned. David Cowan, who also lived at Boyd's Creek in the early days, was probably a brother to our old ancestor. William Cowan of Blount County had descendents who are also known to be akin to our branch so there is a close relationship between all of them.

We do know the names of the Cowan children and something about most of them. Their names are:

1	Margaret (Peggy)	b October	14, 1798
2	Jane M. W.	b December	5, 1800
3	Mary (Polly)	b About	1804
4	Cynthia	b January	16, 1811
5	Martha Boyd	b November	5, 1813
6	Viney	b
7	Hugh E.	b About	1821
8	William Montgomery	b	1824

1. Margaret Cowan married John (Jack) McMurry who was born Jan. 16, 1797 and died May 8, 1867. Margaret died March 27, 1864. Both are buried at Eusebia. They had several children one of whom was Tennessee McMurry who married Col. Jim Davis and had two children, Ellen who married (Tobe) Henry and Rachel who married Andrew Hitch with descendents in Blount County.

2. Jane Cowan married Samuel Pickens

3. Mary Cowan married Arch McMurry and had children, Serilda, James and Nancy. They lived near Ellijoy church in Sevier County.

4. Cynthia Cowan married Alexander Pickens.

5. Martha B. Cowan married Samuel McCammon.

6. Viney Cowan married Anderson Bowers and lived in Sevier County. They had several children, James Bowers being the one perhaps better known by his Pickens relatives.

7. Hugh E. Cowan married Julia Seaton, who was born May 28, 1825. I traced them to Jasper, Tennessee but they moved from there and the oldest resident contacted didn't know where they went.

8. William Montgomery Cowan married Barbara Seaton, a sister to his brother's wife, and born May 9, 1827. They moved to Kansas where William died Nov. 19, 1882. After considerable writing and following all sorts of clues, I was able to contact descendents of this family. They live at Chetopo, Kansas. There were ten children, one of whom Samuel Cowan, born April 1, 1867, was still living about six years ago.

DAVIS HISTORY

In Goodspeed's history of East Tennessee, there is a statement from James D. Davis who married Mary Jane Pickens. He says "that he is a son of William and Jane Cusick Davis and that his father was a native of Carter County, and the son of James Davis who came from North Carolina and was a pioneer of Carter and Blount Counties. He also says that his mother was a daughter of Samuel Cusick."

From the William Davis Bible to which I have had access, the following Davis record is taken.

William Davis was born Jan. 6, 1811 and died Feb. 11, 1891. He married Jane Cusick July 1, 1830. She was born Feb. 12, 1810 and died Oct. 29, 1855. There is a record of the marriage of William Davis and Nancy Lawson on Aug. 29, 1828. There is no record of her death but she probably lived only a few months after marriage.

The children of William and Jane Cusick Davis are listed as:

1 Nancy	b August	1, 1831—d May 14, 1871
2 Elizabeth	b August	25, 1832—m January 22, 1860
3 Samuel C.	b April	19, 1834—m September 19, 1854
4 James D.	b May	17, 1836
5 Martha	b February	23, 1838

6	Mary Anna	b December 25, 1839—d October 13, 1845
7	John R.	b April 23, 1842
8	Margaret J.	b May 25, 1844
9	Andrew	b June 1846—d April 10, 1847
10	William L.	b March 19, 1848
11.	Anderson M.	b November 2, 1851
12	Anthony Washington	b March 27, 1860

It is said by relatives that the William Davis who married Jane Cusick was a very religious man. He was a devout member of his church and faithful to all its obligations of time and effort. He would stop the work of himself and any workers with him on his farm and attend any service in progress. On one occasion, so the story goes, his saddle horse strayed away from home. A search was made which ended when the horse was found, patiently standing beside the hitching post at the church.

Judge S. O. Houston of Knoxville, Tenn., though now retired has been an eminent lawyer and was Judge of Knox County for several years. He is also a valuable citizen, a life-long church worker of the Presbyterian church and has been actively engaged in many enterprises of social, educational and religious development. He is the son of the child Robert in 15 of the above list and the rest of the Houston record will be from his personal files.

Robert Houston was born in Rockbridge County, Va., in 1760, coming to Tennessee about 1792 where he lived until his death in 1835. His farm home was located about eight miles southeast of Knoxville. "My grandfather John Hafley was married twice and there were a number of children by the first wife but only three by the second wife. My father and Uncle Charles joined the Union Army while the older boys joined the Confederate Army, thus losing contact with each other thereafter."

McCROSKEY LINEAGE

Miranda Cornelia McCroskey, wife of Oliver C. Pickens, was the daughter of John S. McCroskey, born Aug. 21, 1819, and died April 10, 1894 and his wife Myranda Jane Cunningham McCroskey born Sept. 15, 1826 and died April 15, 1899. She was the daughter of James Cunningham (1800-1826) anr Mary Huffaker Cunningham (1802-1857). The children of John S. and Myranda Jane Cunningham McCroskey are:

1	Robert J.	b April	1, 1847—married Eliza Wright
2	Mary Jane	b December	30, 1848—died in infancy
3	Dorothula	b December	31, 1849—died February 21, 1856

11	Cornelia	b September	28, 1870—m Oliver Pickens
12	Charles Cowan	b July	30, 1873—died September 4, 1875

This record was obtained from a Trent-Huffaker history with the addition of some dates from the Eusebia Cemetery record.

John S. McCroskey of the above, was the son of Robert McCroskey, born June 11, 1790 and died Feb. 12, 1846 and his wife Mary M. (Polly) Sharp, born July 28, 1798 and died Dec. 21, 1884.

Robert McCroskey was the son of John McCroskey (Revolutionary soldier), born Sept. 26, 1757 and died Aug. 1843, and his wife Anne Montgomery McCroskey, born Aug. 15, 1760 and died March 13, 1829.

The above John McCroskey was a Revolutionary soldier. Rev. John Creswell in his Eusebia history of 1924 had this to say about him. "He located near the head waters of Boyd's Creek. He was of Scotch-Irish Presbyterian stock and perhaps among the first in the organization of Eusebia Church. His name is on the war records at Washington linked up with the battle of King's Mountain, the decisive battle of the Revolution."

John McCroskey, the Revolutionary soldier was a son of Samuel McCroskey who was a son of John McCroskey who married Elizabeth Anne Montgomery the daughter of John Montgomery and his wife Esther Houston, who was the daughter of John Houston (1690-1754) and his wife Margaret Cunningham Houston.

The above information with some added dates was secured from a lineage chart prepared by Mr. W. O. Whittle, deceased, of Knoxville. At the golden wedding celebration of Oliver C. Pickens and wife, Sept. 28, 1943, Mr. Whittle brought a lineage chart as a gift. He also brought a lovely photograph of Anne Montgomery McCroskey, wife of the Revolutionary soldier.

MINNIS HISTORY

I found some quite important items of Minnis history. There is a printed record of the "Minnis Family of Ireland and America", compiled by Elizabeth Austin, Genealogist, and printed by the Press of the Republican-Record, Carrollton, Mo. 1912. I saw this book in the home of Miss Ethel Minnis at New Market, Tennessee and will quote from it.

"In the County Down in Northern Ireland John Minnis, the Colonist, was born." From the old Minnis record the date of birth was March 21, 1750. "He was of Scotch-Irish stock and his parents were Samuel and Mary Bittles Minnis of Ireland. Some time previous to the Revolutionary War John Minnis, then a young man, immigrated to the new world and settled within 15 miles of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania."

The records of the War Dept. Washington, D. C. show he was sergeant in Capt. John Clark's Company muster roll of Sept. 1777. The report of the State Librarian Revolutionary soldiers of Virginia, page 311, shows his bounty warrant was 4,267. He received a wound in the face and carried the mark till death. Tradition says, and it is well authenticated, that John Minnis was with the mob which threw the tea overboard in Boston Harbor, that he was in the battle of Bunker Hill, was at Valley Forge and Yorktown, that he served throughout the war and for some time was an orderly under Washington.

Subsequently to the close of the Revolutionary War, he returned to Ireland, where he married Nancy Susan McCammon of County Tyrone. (Minnis Bible gives the date as Feb. 22, 1787). She was the daughter of Samuel and Susannah (Anderson) McCammon, who were Scotch.

John Minnis was heir to a large estate in Ireland, the papers pertaining to which were in the custody of his eldest son Samuel. In a letter to me from Letitia Pickens (grand-daughter of Samuel and Mary Pickens Minnis), from Rome, Georgia, 1946, she stated that "my great-grandfather Minnis and his brother came from Ireland and he and his brother separated. His brother wrote to him that he was on the eve of moving but would write to him, but he never heard from him again. The two boys owned land in Ireland and the deeds were made to stand as long as wood grew and water ran." She also said that her great uncle Jimmie Minnis prepared three times to go to Ireland to see about the estate over there. The last time he was all ready to go, but when he put on his overcoat, he looked down at the buttons and said, "I will not get to go, I am anchored out." (The buttons were upside down with the anchor pointing down-ward). He died in a short while afterward."

In the home of Letitia Pickens, Rome, Georgia, I found the authentic Bible record of John and Nancy McCammon Minnis, which I quote:

"John Minnis b March 21, 1750 d April 15, 1821. Nancy McCammon Minnis, his wife, b 1762, d April 7, 1837." Their children are listed as:

1	Samuel	b January	9, 1770
2	Susan	b December	5, 1787
3	Thomas	b October	23, 1791
4	John	b February	8, 1794
5	Robert	b February	8, 1796
6	James	b December	29, 1797
7	William	b December	25, 1799
8	Agnes	b December	5, 1804

Some record of their children has been found in the Minnis book and elsewhere.

1. Samuel Minnis, the oldest child, married Mary Pickens and their record is in our Pickens book.

2. Susan Ewing Minnis, was born Dec. 5, 1787, and died Jan. 28, 1813, in Blount County.

3. Thomas Minnis was born Oct. 23, 1791, went to Howard County, Missouri and married Parmela Warren.

4. John Wain Minnis was born Feb. 8, 1794, married Nancy Warren Nov. 14, 1816 and moved to Missouri.

5. Robert Minnis was born Feb. 8, 1796, lived in Bradley County, Tennessee and his children were, James Crawford, Jane Eliza, John G., Mary Eliza and Nancy Sarah.

6. James Minnis was born Dec. 29, 1797. He went, when a young man, with his brother Samuel to Alabama. He was a tailor for a number of years. He married Ianthe Jane Gruggett of Edmondson County, Kentucky. They lived in Aberdeen, Mississippi.

7. William Minnis (Rev. William D. D.) was born Dec. 25, 1799 and died at New Market, Tennessee, May 5, 1863. He was pastor of the New Market Presbyterian church (1849-1859). He married Catherine Eliza Coonts, in Blount County, Tennessee, April 8, 1826, who was of English Ancestry Their children were: Sarah Ann, Mary Louise, Nancy Iantha, Catherine Eliza, Clementine, John Beaman, William Boaz and James Hunter. (Minnis Book).

Of the last named children, John Beaman Minnis spent a great part of his life at Knoxville, Tennessee. From his obituary in a Knoxville newspaper I gleaned these facts about him. The burial service was July 11, 1923 at his home on West Cumberland. He had died on Tuesday at Fort Sanders Hospital on his 85th birthday. The services were conducted by Dr. W. R. Dawson and Dr. E. A. Elmore. He was buried in Old Grey Cemetery.

He was born in Jefferson County, Tennessee, July 10, 1838 at New Market. He became Col. in the Civil War. Afterward he had a grocery store on Wall Avenue. Later he acquired property and erected the Minnis Building on Wall Avenue.

He married Miss Caroline Thornburgh who survives him. There were no children but they adopted and raised three children. Five years before, they had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at Lakeland, Florida, where they had another home.

Col. Minnis graduated from Maryville College in 1861. He was an elder in the Second Presbyterian church for more than twenty-five years. He was a trustee of Maryville College at the time of his death. At one time he was connected with the Post Office. He helped to establish other churches, was connected with the Y.M.C.A. etc. While in government service he received eight different commissions.

William Boaz Minnis, brother of Col. John B. Minnis was born Dec. 20, 1841, on a farm near Morristown, Tennessee. He was a merchant at New Market. He married Augusta Pierce of New Market, Tennessee and died about 1912. The children of William B. and Augusta Pierce Minnis are: William Edward, Lucy, Samuel Pierce, Mary, Helen Iantha, Ethel, and India Minnis. Of these, Lucy Mary and Helen are dead. William E. and Samuel operate stores in New Market and Morristown. Ethel and India and their brother Samuel Minnis live in the Minnis home at New Market, in which place I got their record and copied from the Minnis book.

8. Agnes Minnis was born Dec. 5, 1804. Her name was evidently, also Nancy, as both in the Blount County marriage licenses and in the Minnis book she is Nancy Minnis with the same date as Agnes in the old Minnis Bible record. I found a notation that long ago Agnes was often called Nancy. She married Joseph Henderson Jan. 8, 1828 in Blount County. In the Parham record this transaction is given. "Joseph Henderson and wife (Nancy Minnis) sold interest in 538 acres on 9 mile creek as heirs of John Minnis. We sell to Robert Minnis. We are one of seven shares. Land joins James Houston, Col. James Tedford and W. J. Miller. Dec. 2, 1837."

From the Minnis book there is further history of this family. They went from Tennessee to Indiana in 1838. Then to Missouri about 1840. Five years later they returned to Tennessee. Then they lived for a time in Georgia and in the autumn of 1850 again made Missouri their home. They lived in northwest Carrol. They were buried in Missouri. Their children are given as Susan A. b Nov. 28, 1828, married William Cunningham; John M. b Dec. 30, 1831, married Caroline Miller; William, b March 15, 1834, married Mattie Baird; Joseph and James B. Henderson.

McCAMMON HISTORY

From various sources I have collected some older McCammon history. From the Minnis book, three McCammon brothers accompanied their brother-in-law John Minnis and his wife Nancy Susan McCammon Minnis to America. These brothers are listed as John, Samuel and Thomas McCammon. Their parents were Samuel and Susannah (Anderson) McCammon of Tyrone, Ireland.

W. A. McCammon (now deceased) of Denver, Colorado, wrote a McCammon history in 1937. In it is a very complete record of John McCammon from whom he is descended. He also included quite a bit of general information concerning McCammons in various parts of America. He mentions Samuel McCammon and Thomas McCammon, brothers of his ancestor, John McCammon. A copy of his book is in the Lawson-McGhee room at the Library at Knoxville, Tennessee, and it should be of special interest to the McCammons of this and other areas.

From his record John McCammon was born in 1757 and died in Blount County April 23, 1838. He married Elizabeth Upton May 14, 1798. She was born in 1765 and died Jan. 22, 1827. Both she and her husband are buried at Eusebia cemetery. John McCammon designated "his brother Thomas McCammon as executor of his estate with son Samuel" when his will was probated in 1838. Andrew McCall and Thomas McCammon were witnesses.

The children of John and Elizabeth Upton McCammon are:

1	Mary	b February	21, 1799
2	Samuel	b January	24, 1801
3	Susan	b August	18, 1802
4	Elizabeth	b March	27, 1804
5	Lettie	b December	17, 1805
6	William	b September	10, 1809

1. Mary McCammon married James Coker.

2. Samuel McCammon m—Elizabeth Montgomery. He d Jan. 3, 1860, He wrote a diary (1846-1854).

3. Susan McCammon m—Daniel Sayne, d June 22, 1861 and is buried at Eusebia.

4. Elizabeth McCammon m—William Keith.

5. Lettie McCammon m—George Kirby.

6. William McCammon d—Oct 28, 1851 and is buried at Eusebia.

From the Parham record Samuel McCammon, brother of the John McCammon above, was on a commission to view a road east of Maryville in 1795. He was also on the grand jury in 1795 and a juror in 1799. He also bought land in Blount County Nov. 16, 1816.

He made a will April 16, 1840 in which he left his property to his two minor daughters, Margaret Ann and Susannah McCammon. Three tracts of land are described as being in District No. 1, Blount County, Tennessee. They were adjoining lands of Samuel Tulloch, Samuel M. Logan, John Caldwell, Samuel Thompson, James M. Tulloch, John Crye and Samuel Best. All the personal property was to be divided between the daughters after the debts were paid. William Williams was the executor and the witnesses were Samuel McCammon, Robert McTeer and James M. Tulloch.

From the W. A. McCammon record, Samuel McCammon died in 1841 and from scraps of information, the inference is that he was buried in the old Dunn burial place in Knox County, Tennessee. Margaret McCammon married Boyd McMurry of Knox County and Susannah McCammon married Col. William C. Pickens, Blount County. They sold their inheritance in District No. 1 on Nine Mile Creek in Blount County Feb. 4, 1862. The transaction was signed by Robert and Harrison Pickens, the purchaser was Allen Anderson and the acreage was 256 and one-half acres, (Page 297, Book AA-Trustees Office, Maryville, Tenn.)

Thomas McCammon, the other brother of John McCammon, was born June 12, 1768 and his record has already been given.

An interesting diary was kept by Samuel McCammon, son of the John McCammon of Mr. W. A. McCammon's lineage, and at least part of it is included in his record at the library. From it I quote: "Ate dinner at Aunt Sally's —went to the Smokies, Aug. 10, 1846. Lodged with Aunt Sally McCammon Oct. 16, 1846." April 29, he speaks of business with a John McCammon who lived across the river. "May 19, 1850, Caroline, self and Anderson went over the river to Salem to church and Anderson went home with R. Pickens to see his mother." June 17, 1854 he "spent the night with cousin Samuel." At one time he went over the river to Aunt McCammon's and "purchased of her a beef heifer."

THE PICKENS COAT OF ARMS

He Beareth Arms: Found in Burke's General Armory, Scotland.

Azure, six plates argent: crest, a demi-lion, rampant argent.

Translated into non-Heraldic terms: A blue (azure) shield with six silver plates arranged in 3, 2, 1, beginning at the top.

Metal is always named first in wreath, alternating with the color.

The plate or silver rounds denotes generosity. The demi-lion or one half of the lion means the same as the whole animal. The lion always held a high place in Heraldry as the emblem of deathless courage.

Guillien speaking of the lion says: "It is the likely image of a good soldier, who must be valiant of courage, strong of body, polite in council and a foe to fear." It is the emblem of St. Marks.

Colors are personal characteristics granted to the bearer only on merit.

Blue signifies loyalty; silver sincerity and peace.

While there he was a member of the student body committee. I have also a Military Occupational Specialty as an Assistant Psychologist. My job here is to supervise the educational program among the men, as well as administer it, of course. I also am responsible for the morale of the men here, I also handle all personnel affairs and matters pertaining to public relations between the Military element of this Island and civilian agents and agencies as well as inter-service relations. My duties never cease as you can well imagine, and I find each aspect of my work very interesting and eagerly anticipate each forthcoming change as a new challenge". In the midst of all these activities he is studying law through an extension course in his spare time. He plans to save money enough to get a Ph. D. in Psychology when he is released from service.

Jerome Cruze married Mar. 8, 1946. Children—Phillis LaVerne, born Feb. 12, 1947 and a son, born July 12, 1950.

As this Island is only three hours flight from the Island of Oahu, I get up once a month on business for 7 to 10 days during which time I am able to live at home with my family. I am all through at this station now however and expect to leave sometime this week to return to Hickam Field". He and his wife are anxious to get back home as neither of them has been home for three years.

Page 72. Further record of the Gallagher boys is contained in a November, 1951 account of them: Quote:

Three of the four Gallagher brothers who joined the Air Force together have received a "mass" promotion to the rank of corporal at Erding Air Force Base in Germany.

The boys have sent their mother, Mrs. G. C. Looney, 2823 Middlebrook Pike, a clipping from their service newspaper at the base which describes them as "Erding's Triple Threat."

The oldest brother, Albert 22, is assigned to airborne radar, the paper says. Jim, 21 and Paul, 20, are working with ground control approach. The youngest brother, Pfc. Raymond, 19, is stationed at Pope Air Force Base, N. C., but he hopes to joins his brothers in Germany.

When the Korean war broke out, all four went through basic training, living in the same barracks. The three at Erding had nine months of radar mechanics school at Keesler Field, Miss. All applied for overseas duty at the same time.

The boys saw alike, too, in the matter of matrimony—there have been three weddings in four months in the family: James married Miss Dorothy Steele June 7, Albert married Miss Nana Anderson June 9 and Raymond married Miss Elaine Morrison Oct. 4.

Page 37. The connection of Rev. E. M. Sharp with Pickens history has already been shown. He is now pastor of the First Methodist Church of Starkville, Mississippi. He sent something of his own history and other family connections. His information ties in with his lineage already given and also includes the names of Sharp and Henry, both very familiar names of this section. Quote:

ERON MALCOLM SHARP, born Jan. 12, 1904 at Walnut Grove, Mississippi, the son of Robert H. Sharp and his wife, Minnie Catherine Henry, both natives of Leake County, Mississippi. Attended Millsaps College, Jackson, Mississippi 1923-27 and graduated with A.B. Degree in 1927. Attended Duke University Divinity School, 1929-31, graduated with M.A. Degree in 1931. Has served charges in the North Mississippi Conference at Iuka, Rienzi, Olive Branch, Hernando, Aberdeen, New Albany, and is at present pastor of First Methodist Church, Starkville, Mississippi. Elected Secretary of the North Mississippi conference in 1938 which office he still holds.

MINNIE CATHERINE HENRY, daughter of Joseph Alexander Henry and his wife Elizabeth Phillips, was born in 1872 and died in 1915 at Edgewood, Texas. Married Robert H. Sharp in Leake County, Mississippi in 1897. Five children born to this union:

1. Cronje Sharp—born 1899—died 1900.

2. Eron M. Sharp—born January 12, 1904—

3. Aubrey Maxwell Sharp—born 1910—died 1911.

4. Frances Louise Sharp—born March 28, 1913—At present a student in Scarritt College for Christian Workers, Nashville, Tennessee, preparatory to becoming a full time Director of Religious Education.

5. Robert H. Sharp, Jr.—born October 25, 1915—died June 9, 1944. He was a fighter pilot in the Air Corps and lost his life in the English Channel on June 9, 1944, three days after the invasion of France. He had attained the rank of Captain.

JOSEPH ALEXANDER HENRY, born in 1839 — died in 1925, was son of Andrew Pickens Henry, and wife Hulda Huddleston Ray, who were married in Greene County, Alabama in 1833 and moved immediately to Neshoba County, Miss., where they settled among the Indians, before their removal to Oklahoma. The Henrys remain in Neshoba county to this day.

ANDREW PICKENS HENRY, born in 1811 in Tennessee was the son of Rev. John Madison Henry and his wife, Jane Pickens. John M. Henry was a pioneer Baptist preacher in Alabama, coming there with Andrew Jackson during the Creek War of 1812-14 and remained. Settled first in Jones Valley where the city of Birmingham now stands, organized a church there called Canaan and was pastor of Ruhama Baptist church which is still a strong church in Birmingham. Later he moved to Greene County, Alabama, and about 1840 to Neshoba county, Mississippi where he died in 1845. His wife Jane Pickens Henry died in Scott County, Mississippi in 1851. They were parents of 9 children. Andrew Pickens Henry was the eldest.

John Madison Henry, was the son of Samuel Henry and his wife whose name is not known. Samuel Henry lived in Anderson County, S. C., in 1790 and in 1803 moved to Livingston County, Kentucky where he died later.

The Sharp family is an old Scotch-Irish family which came to Pennsylvania around 1740. Edward Sharp removed to Mecklenburg County, N. C. where he died in 1790. Among his sons was one named James Sharp, who married Margaret Cunningham, daughter of Roger Cunningham and wife Mary Sturgeon. James and Margaret moved to Greene County, Georgia in 1812, later moving to Alabama in old age.

Marshall Sharp, one of the sons of James and Margaret Sharp, born in 1798 married Matilda McGough of Greene County, Georgia (her father John McGough born in Ireland in 1751, came to America as a child of 10, fought in revolution from Mecklenburg County, N. C. moved to Georgia) Marshall and Matilda Sharp moved to Montgomery County, Alabama in 1820 and to Tallapoosa County, Alabama in 1840. He died there in 1846 and his widow removed to Leake County, Mississippi with her family in 1858.

Marshall Lafayette Sharp, a son of Marshall and Matilda Sharp, born in 1836, died in Edgewood, Texas in 1896. Was a soldier in Civil War in Alabama Regiment attached to Stonewall Jackson's Army of the Valley of Virginia and fought with Jackson throughout the war till Jackson's death and was then assigned to Longstreet's Corps. He married Mattie Jane Ware in 1865 and settled in Leake County, Mississippi. Removed to Edgewood, Texas in 1891. They had seven children.

Robert H. Sharp, Sr., was the fifth child of Lafayette and Mattie Sharp. Born in 1874 and died in 1949 at Carthage, Mississippi. Married Minnie Catherine Henry and they are parents of E. M. Sharp.

Page 21. Additional information has been received from Mr. A. W. Starratt, Chevy Chase, Maryland, concerning his ancestry which ties in with that already given on page 21 of William Pickens. Quote:

"The father of William G. Pickens was Abram (or Abraham) Pickens and his mother was Elizabeth. When they moved from Abbeville, S. C. to Maury County, Tennessee in 1806, the family also included several girls; the census of 1790 shows for Abraham Pickens, one daughter, and the census of 1800 shows five daughters. Abram Pickens died in Maury County, Tenn., in February, 1815; to care for his widow, Elizabeth, the Court, on Wednesday, Feb. 22, 1815, appointed three men to apportion one year's provisions out of the personal estate of the deceased. (Will Book A VI Page 235). These three made a report to the Court dated March 14, 1815, entered in Minutes 2A, 1813-1816, on May 17, 1815. The reports of the administrator of the estate of Abram Pickens, Wm. Neill, including the inventory of the estate taken Feb. 22, 1815, and the list of property sold on March 14, 1815, were not entered in the Court's records until April 23, 1824 (Volume C). At the time of Abram's death there were two minor sons, John O. Pickens and Thomas Pickens, who are mentioned in reports filed with the Court on Feb. 15, 1827 (Wills D, Vol. 1, 1826-29, Page 247). Other heirs and devisees, named in Jan., 1827, (N457) are Margaret Henderson, Jane Scott, Elizabeth McCall, Hannah Pickens and Wm. C. Pickens. The census of 1820 gave Elizabeth as head of the family, with the following children in the home: 1 male under 16; 1 male between 16 and 18; one male between 16 and 26; two females between 16 and 26.

We have been unsuccessful in efforts to ascertain the names of the parents of Abram Pickens, although my brother-in-law searched in the Abbeville County records, and I searched, in 1947, with the aid of Mr. A. S. Salley, in Columbia, S. C., and, at another time, in Charleston. Land in his name was obtained by grant and we have not found names of his connections."

It appears from the history of this family that there might be a very close relationship between them and a John Pickens and the Scotts of Virginia.

A John Pickens of the early days of Augusta County, married Jane Scott, daughter of Samuel Scott. They first lived near Staunton, Virginia. In 1741-42 they were at Cub Run in the present county of Rockingham, Virginia. Robert Scott is mentioned as an executor of the estate of Samuel Scott in 1753.

Page 1306 of the Annals of Southwest Virginia, "John Scott and Anne, his wife lived on land on the Middle Fork of Holston River." In Virginia history there is a notation of the mortgage of 400 acres of land from John Scott to John Pickens, December 1, 1756. The land was adjoining Cub Run with Colonel Woods on one side and James Busetern on the other. William Pickens was a signer in the transaction.

The following record from Mr. Starratt gives additional information of descendents of Rev. James Madison Pickens. Quote:

"The oldest son was James Madison Pickens who lives here next door to his sister, my wife. He married Mary Drown and they have one daughter, Marjorie Pickens Milner.

"The oldest daughter was Sallie Bruce Pickens who married John A. Snider. They lived in Birmingham, Ala., and had two sons, John Bruce Snider and Ralph Madison Snider. The former now lives in Birmingham. His first wife was Nannie Simmons Snider and they had one daughter, Bettie Bruce. After the death of his first wife he married Bessie..... Ralph Madison Snider married Margaret..... and they had twin daughters, Margaret and Lenore, both of whom are married. Ralph lost his life in an accident and his widow has remarried.

"Another son, William Hickman Pickens, married Lottie Greenbaum and they had two children, Charlotte Sarah and William Hickman, Jr. Charlotte Sarah Pickens married Joe Tracy and they had two children, Terry and Linda; she was married a second time, to George Moore, and they have one daughter, Georgianna. William Hickman Pickens, Jr., married Sammie Bratton and they have one son, William Hickman Pickens, III.

"Another daughter, Carrie Bland Pickens, married Andrew W. Starratt and they have three children, Ruth Pickens, Andrew W. Jr., and Emily Bruce. Ruth Pickens Starratt married Edward F. Daly and they have one son, Edward F. Daly, Jr. Andrew W. Starratt, Jr., married Glendora Neely and they have one son, Andrew W. Starratt, III. Emily Bruce Starratt married Wells Warren Spence and they have three sons, Warren Andrew Spence, Roger Wells Spence, and William Wells Spence."

Now the work of writing the John Pickens Family history is ending. The material was selected with a view of meeting the needs of the various groups included in the book.

Some may not be at all interested in the more formal records of statistics but these will be appreciated by anyone in search of records and are of value in any family to keep as a reference book to use as needed.

The information given in the tabulation of families, personalizes the individuals and vitalizes the names. From a standpoint of places of residence, occupation, personal endeavor, fields of service in the various phases of life's endeavor, it is a completed story of the Pickens families from early beginnings to the present time.

I hope no one becomes discouraged with the bulk of the information before having given enough thought to it for an understanding of the material. The key to the lineage has been consistently followed. Familiarize yourselves first with your own particular line of descent and the connection with the others will be easy to follow. I trust that all who procure or have access to a copy of this record will find it a valuable and treasured history.

II SAMUEL McCAMMON/Martha Boyd Cowan, page 66, 11 children. As we seek to update this book a few items of interest, not previously reported, come to our attention. One is the letter below, written by Samuel to Martha three days before his death. It gives some insight into the feelings about the Civil War and is a window on the economic scene.

Every effort has been made to do a careful transcription of this and other letters. However, punctuation was uncertain, spelling not standard and capitalization seemed not to follow rules as we use them. We do trust that the messages are faithful to the original content.

Letter to Martha B. McCammon from Samuel McCammon
Nashville, March 29, 1865.

Mrs. Martha B. McCammon, my dear wife. I address you to let you know how I got along. We arrived here the night of the 27th, all safe. I am now more comfortable. Monday my cough was increased owing as I believe to my exposure in coming to Knoxville in that cold wind. I will write today to O. P. Pulaskia. I have no account of the Prisoners of the 3rd. All that I converse agree that they have doubt about them having got through the lines but can not tell at what point they are now. I hope in a very few days to learn more about their whereabouts. Tuesday morning I met Sethe Lea at the Capital, he looks bad but in health enough to recover. He told me that he lacked 12 days of two years in prison, most of which time he was in Castle Thunder at Richmond. He was sent to Saulsberry, North Carolina, but went back to Richmond, was paroled and sent through the lines. I am told by him that he saw a man from Saulsberry, North Carolina prison who said he knew Frank Kirby, that he certainly was dead. This is sad news for me to relate, but nevertheless I feel it my duty to let his friends know what account I have got and I fear it is true. Well, I think I will get a boarding house today, we done nothing about it yesterday. It was cold and unpleasant day. It being in the night when we arrived at the St. Cloud where it cost $4.00 per day. This won't do. I think I can board at a good private home at $2.00 per day. This is the best that can be done. I wish you to answer my letter as soon as you can. Tell me how Samuel stood his exposure in coming with me to Knoxville and how Wm. C. is and all the rest. Give my respects to all my friends. I will write soon again. Nashville is being fitted up for the legislature. We had fine weather in coming out here. There is not much knowing how long we will be here, but I'm in hopes that we will not be so long here as Sam supposed. My opinion is that we should do what ever will put our state laws in force at present and not too much! I will close for the present. fare you well.

*Children of Samuel and Martha Boyd Cowan McCammon:

b THOMAS McCAMMON, see page 66

c SARAH JANE McCAMMON/French, page 67, was the third child of Samuel and Martha McCammon and the first to leave an heir. She had five children as recorded on page 67, but we have scant data on any except the fifth one, Belle. Jane wrote letters to her sister Mary Naomi after Mary had moved to Kansas. Mary and her family preserved these letters and through the interest and effort of Jane Little Todd we have these to share with you. Every effort was made to locate letters Mary Naomi wrote, but we are having difficulty in locating Jane's descendants. There were five children: Samuel, William, Oliver, Clemmie and Belle.

Kingston, November 14, 1880

Dear Brother and Sister

After begging pardon for not writing to you sooner I will tell you I received your letters and was real glad to get them and hear that you were all well. This leaves us all well. Caleb has gone to Belles for Clemmie, she had been up there for three months. Oliver was home to vote. This was his first vote for president and he says he did not lose a vote, every one of his candidates were successful. Mc was at Knoxville at the republican rally Friday before the election. He saw his uncle Thomas Mc and Marshall F. They reported the kinsfolk well. He said he thought his Uncle Pink was there but he did not see him. There was such a crowd it was impossible to find anyone unless you just run upon them. I suppose William had been in at the democratic rally and was not there. The boys said they did not see him, by the way, Col. Young told us that E. H. F. (E. H. Flenniken) said he was going to vote a republican ticket. How is Kansas on politics? If it is Democractic you will feel like a fish out of water won't you? Tell me in your next letter what kind of home you have and if you have any good neighbors and all about every thing, so I can imagine how you look at home in the "far West". I study about you a great deal and give a good deal to be able to see you and talk with you, and ask as many questions as I want to. You know how I always would do that with you, more than any of the rest of the connections. I believe you said in your letter that you could buy coal for 5 cts. per bushel. We have to pay from 14 to 16 here for it this winter and it is hard to get sometimes even at that. Have you sold your hogs? In Knox.some of the farmers in this Co. have lost fine lots of hogs from cholera. I hope you will not meet with such bad luck with yours. Have you plenty of apples this year? and have you a good orchard, if you have not, let me entreat you to select a few varieties that will do well in that country and plant them out, for I think it is terrible to have no fruit. Have you good schools? in reach of you and are the children going to school. How is uncle Montgomery Cowan and family? Tell them if I ever think I can spare money enough to make a visit to Kansas ....If we had not had our mill burned this summer I think I could but it takes a year or two to catch up after such a loss, however I hope I will be able to come to see you sometime. Belle wrote me the other day that she did not know whether Mr. Kittrell would come to Kansas this winter or not. He and another man were about to go mule buying. I must tell you before I quit about my trip home after I left you. The boat run on a rock and did not get to L. and next morning Oliver come on the 4:00 o'clock train and about forty negro preachers going to K to a conference. They hired all the hacks in Loudon and started to Kingston. Before we got up the hotel keeper said he sent him word we wanted a hack, but we did not get, so got a skiff and Oliver, wife and me come to K in it in five hours. Write me a great long letter soon.

Your affectionate sister

S. J. French

To Jacob French from Caleb French, probably included in a letter from Sarah Jane to Mary Naomi, November, 1880. Transcribed by E. Shue

"It never rains without it pours" Do not think because I have not written you that I have forgotten you for I think of you every day and hope you have health and happiness and friends in your new home. This has been the most peculiar and disagreeable year I ever experienced. Came in with ice and snow and the mercury down below "Keno" and then warm through February and part of March and then cold and stormy until ___April then hot and cool by turns until 1st of July then dry and hot as blazes for 3 months the mercury standing at 102 to 103 for weeks at a time. I have had a moderately successful year with my saw mill, I have sawed over a million feet and sold nearly all of it. I have shipped 950, 000 feet to Ristine in May alone and have a contract with them for 1, 500, 000 ft. the coming season. have some of it sawed and will push it with the full capacity of my mill so soon as there is a rise in the river that I can get logs. It is raining now with a prospect of a tide. Hay, oats and wheat are moderately plentiful but prices are high, corn in some places is very short in some fairly good, prices high, write me a long letter and tell me all about everything and don't you forget it.

Kingston, August 20, 1893

My dear sister

It has been a long time since I heard from you and a long time since I wrote you, but in all the time I have never ceased to love and think of you and yours.

My life for the last five years has been one of trouble as you are aware Caleb got his leg broke at his mill and after four weeks in which he suffered terribly trying to save his leg, he had to have it taken off to save his life for four or five months after that he lay in a helpless condition and a part of the time almost dead he finally got up and got an artificial limb but never could get about well with it and felt so discouraged. His health was never so good a year ago last Feb. our youngest daughter Clemmie died. She had been married nearly four years to Welcher Hope of Loudon Co. Caleb had not been well and her death seemed to prostrate him. He said he felt just as though his heart was broke and I sometimes think it was he went down steadily and in a few weeks began to have smothering spells the Dr's said he had heart trouble and treated him for that after awhile he commenced swelling when he first noticed it he told me that would be the last of him he said he had often thought he had heart disease after he had his leg taken off. He seemed anxious to get well but said he was not afraid to die and at the last passed off peacefully and I think is better off than any of us. While I am left all alone in a sense all the children are married but it won't be long till I hope to meet my loved ones that have gone before.

I have just returned from a visit to our brothers and sisters I had not been there since you moved west. I went from Knoxville down on the Knoxville Southern road to Greenback in a mile of Clemmies when I got there I found Pinkney and Ann there they had just got there and intended going home in the evening but Clem and Mattie insisted on them staying all night and then sent for Sam and his wife to come down so we had a little family reunion. they was all tolerably good health except Mattie She had had a sick spell just before I went but was up able to go around. Sam come down with his hack and took us all up to his house. Mattie went back with Clemmie said she felt so bad she would rather be at home Pinkney come down to Sams and took me up to his house, and from there to Tommys he lives just above the old Houston place, the place where Browns used to live they are all in about as good health as common. and seem very well satisfied though they are on a very poor place he has a right good crop on it this year. Tommy is breaking mighty fast. McCall has a right good place but they have a very old house and you know Mattie bought half of the place and I think Jo don't want to built on it undivided and it is not suitable for division. Mattie of course is not able to pay her half for building a house but her and Clemmie does want a house I hope they will come to some decision so they can have a comfortable home.

Sam is well fixed and good buildings, but he has nearly broke himself down building and working so hard. I went from Tommys to Williams's they are all well, the oldest children are married and Meg is up at Huffakers with her grandparents so there is only Mattie and Eliza of his first children there they have three by the last marriage. They all seem to get along very well. William has been running a dairy for several years. They were milking sixteen cows when I was there and his wife and the girls was doing the milking churning and housework. I told him to sell off some of them cows or it would kill his women folks there is too much hard work about it.

I was at Marsh French's twice while I was in Knox they are all well, Marsh says he can't stand much hard work since he had that spell of pneumonia.

Addie Flenniken went to see Sarah Andes. You perhaps heard they has their house burned in the spring they lost nearly everything except their beds with the clothes that were on them and what was in the parlor they have built a house in the same place, and was living in it but only. Three rooms were finished. Sarah has not changed as much as I expected to find her. I had not seen her for 21 years and seems right cheerful She has a baby 13 or 14 months old.

I also went to see Joshia's widow and boys they are getting along very well. Frank graduated at Maryville this summer. Cynthia's health is better than when I saw her last.

I spent nearly two months in Knoxville and Fountain City with Will F. who lives there and Oliver and Addie in Knoxville. Mc is in Kingston. Belle is living in Athens. Mr. K. sold his farm and moved there last winter to send the children to school.

I have been reading a good deal about the strikes at Weir City and the trouble that is likely to arise from the employment of negro miners and I have wondered whether it would affect you or your family. I hope not.

Now I do want you to write me a long letter and tell me of yourself and family, after I come home I told Mc I had visited every brother and sister of his Pa's and mine except you and Jacob and if it was not such an undertaking by myself I would go to Kansas before I quit. My health is tolerably good except rheumatism I can't stand the hard work I could a few years ago. I do hope we will meet sometime in life. If not that we will meet in better and brighter world let me hear from you right soon. with much love to you all.

Your loving sister Jane French

1 SAMUEL McCAMMON FRENCH (Mack or S. M.) married Margaret Ella DeArmond born November 13, 1865, died 1906. She was from Kingston, Tennessee and was enrolled for a time at the Rittenhouse Academy. Their children were:

(a) CLARENCE FRENCH (a daughter), married Alvin Hurd and were the parents of one son:

(1) ALVIN HURD (He may live in Florida.)

(b) OLIVER D. FRENCH, married Clara Buchanan, had two sons and one daughter, no further record available.

(1) CHARLES HORNSBY, JR. No further record.

(d) ELIZABETH FRENCH married Mace Kavanaugh, one son and one daughter, no further record.

(e) JAMES FRENCH. No further information.

This record of Samuel's family was taken from DeArmond Families of America and Related Families, by Roscoe C. De Armond, Published by Family Record Society, Mercantile Bldg., 1954, page 61. This is a very large history of a very ancient family.

2 WILLIAM M. FRENCH, his record has been given, page 67

3 OLIVER M. FRENCH had one daughter, Dorothy French, who married the Reverend Walter C. Whittaker, Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church in Knoxville, Tennessee. There were no children. (This was contributed by Miss Elise Morrell of St. John's Church in Knoxville, October 8, 1978. Miss Morrell was acquainted with Dorothy and Walter Whittaker.)

4 CLEMMIE FRENCH married Welcher Hope. She died 1892, leaving no heir. (A letter from Jane to Naomi written in 1893 confirms this information. See letters given above.)

5 BELLE FRENCH/Kittrell had a large family (see page 68). Of her seven children only two had families, Robert and Sara Louise. (This Sara spells her name Sara and feels that it is the traditional spelling. Her niece Sara Fay also uses the shorter spelling, in her case for Fay as well as for Sara.) The Bible record of Sarah Pickens' birth uses the longer spelling. Sarah Jane McCammon French signed her letters with initials or with Jane, however, when telling about a relative Sarah, she used the h on the end. So the spelling appears to be influenced by personal preference.

IV SUSANNAH McCAMMON/Rambo, data on pages 95-100. There were eight children.

Some interesting notes were received from Mrs. Edith Rambo Steel (Mrs. John A. Steel) when she sent data on Susannah's family. Susannah's husband Alexander Preston Rambo was the son of Peter and Mary Marshall Rambo. Peter fought in the war of 1812 and received a grant of 1200 acres of land in Sevier County as compensation. Peter's father was also Peter and tradition has it that he married an Indian woman. The Rambo's left France to escape persecution as Protestants; they went first to Sweden and then to Pennsylvania. They settled in Philadelphia in the 1600's.

The oldest son of Press and Susannah McCammon Rambo, Thomas A. Rambo, married Jane Johnson, as recorded on page 96. Their oldest son Samuel Russell Rambo married Cordelia Johnson. Cordelia was the daughter of Labon Johnson. Labon's father was washed ashore in New Jersey after a terrific storm off the coast, no other survivors. He was about two years old, could say a little, but in a language no one understood.

A Johnson family rescued him and gave him the name Joseph. Joseph Johnson married Anne Brown. Anne was the daughter of Hugh Brown.

He married [1] Louise Longley (note the corrected spelling of her names) on December 10, 1868. Louise was born November 14, 1846 and died August 16, 1881 in Dalton, Georgia. A listing of their children is found on page 112. There are some corrections and additions. Joseph's first child is Bertha not Bereta. Child three was Frank Houston Bogle, not Fred (that may have been a nickname). The fourth child is Lena Jane, not Lena G. The fifth is Joseph Edgar, number six is Lewis Jackson who died in infancy. Number seven is William Clifton, number eight is Walter Scott Bogle. (His middle name was not given previously.) Number nine is Grace.

Louise Aycock, granddaughter of Joseph Bogle, has added some interesting information about him.

"My grandfather's life reads like one of the Horatio Alger books, it shows what can be done if one has determination. When he returned from the war, finding destruction and desolation, he determined to become a lawyer, studied by firelight and passed the bar examination without a formal college education. He became a very able lawyer in Dalton, Georgia, was Ordinary of Whitfield County for over Thirty years, Postmaster for several years and contributed much to Dalton and Whitfield County."

The following is the military data:

"The records show that Joseph Bogle, Private, Company I, 40th Georgia Infantry, Confederate States Army, enlisted March 4, 1862 to serve three years; that he was captured near Atlanta, Georgia August 13, 1864 and that he was released at Point Lookout, Maryland, June 4, 1865, upon taking the oath of allegiance."

signed F. C. Ainsworth, The Adjutant General

JOHN PICKENS

See page 58 for information concerning John Pickens, the third child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens.

No new data has been added to John's story. However, a question has been raised by the discovery by Mr. R. G. Newman of Ducktown, Tennessee. Mr. Newman found a gravestone to a John Pickens in a cemetery at Calhoun, Tennessee. The interesting feature of this stone is the birthdate of the John Pickens buried there, December 25, 1788. This is the date of the birth of John Pickens, the son of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens, as given in the Pickens family Bible. The grave marker has this information:

Father - John Pickens, born December 25, 1788, died January 25, 1862

MARGARET PICKENS/JAMES FINLEY (FINDLEY)

Margaret left Tennessee very early and so was lost to her Tennesee family when Mrs. Anderson wrote The John Pickens Family. See page 58. In 1958 Mrs. Anderson had better luck. She states:

"All efforts to find Margaret Pickens Finley ended in frustration and defeat before The John Pickens Family was published in 1951.

"Seven years later a request from Mrs. James P. Claver was sent to the Harper Memorial Library at Maryville, Tennessee, seeking the record of James and Margaret Pickens Finley.

"I was contacted and quickly obtained the letter. In return for my answer to Mrs. Claver, I received a wonderful response and record of the family on May 9, 1958. After that time I was in contact with her until her illness and death April 24, 1970. She sent many cards and letters and much information. I also corresponded with other members of the Finley family and have enjoyed, through the years, a very close friendship and kinship with this family.

"Mrs. Lloyd J. Martin, whose husband is a descendant of James and Margaret Finley, in 1968 gathered data and printed a booklet of several families entitled Findley Family History - Our Grandfathers. We are indebted to her for allowing the material on the Finley family to be the basis for the update in this 1980 copy of The John Pickens Family."

He was a member of the Board of Supervisors of the city of Albia, Iowa and served for several terms. He was known as a very fair and kindly man.

The following is copied from Alverta Brown Martin's book The Findley Family History, page 21.

"The following sketch on the life of James Finley, Jr. was written by Bessie Edith (Gregg) Adkison, who resides in Lovilia, Iowa. She is the daughter of Franklin and Maryetta (Finley) Gregg. James was her grandfather.

"James and Lucinda Streeter Finley were married December 26, 1849. In the spring of 1850 James went to California to dig gold and returned in the fall of 1851. Lucinda stayed with her mother. Then when he returned from California, they went to housekeeping in a little log house on what the grandchildren knew as the Jim Henderson place where John was born. They moved west of Lovilia for a year or two, where Rhoda was born. When she was a year old, they built the house where Albert Finley now lives, one-half mile east of Lovilia, and moved there the summer of 1856 where Maryette was born October 8, 1856. The summer of 1857 Grampa sold the place to Winkleman and it was paid for in gold. They went by covered wagon to Kansas where they stayed three weeks. They then came back to Iowa. Grampa bought his mother-in-law's place, the Gramma Streeter place which the grandchildren knew as Gramps and Gramma's home for many years. The old log house was moved out and a new one built about 1859. Then about 1875 or 1876, they rebuilt the house and were living in it when Grampa passed away June 13, 1911.

"In the spring of 1863, Grampa went to Idaho and was gone a year and a half. Gramma and her five children stayed on the farm. Lettie was the baby.

"After Grampa's death, Gramma stayed on the place awhile with her son, Jack. Then she went to stay with her oldest son, John, where she passed away February 13, 1916. After Gramma's death, the home place was sold and the big house and barn both burned down. The place is now owned by their grandson, Floyd Chamberlain, and his daughter and her family live on it. About the only thing that is left on the place that the grandchildren remember as children is part of the big grove west of the house, and big oak trees where Grampa always parked his wagons."

The Governor remarked, "The people of Tennessee have lost a wonderful man, and a great public servant." Chief Justice A. B. Neal of the Tennessee Supreme Court said, "The State of Tennessee never had a more honorable or more useful public servant, especially in the office of Attorney General." An editorial in a Knoxville newspaper says, in part, "Few men held the confidence of lawyers, judges and public officials throughout East Tennessee as did Roy H. Beeler. That confidence was placed because of two characteristics; his word was as good as United States currency and when he gave a legal opinion it held a rating just about as high. He was brilliant and he was honest. He was those things in a quiet sure-footed way. But he never trampled on the weak. He never made a point of his smartness."

A plaque in his memory has been placed in the main entrance of the State Library. His picture is in the reception room of the Attorney General's office in the Supreme Court Building.

THOMAS AND HARRIET McBATH PICKENS

Thomas Pickens was the 12th child of John and Letitia Hannah Pickens. A few numerical findings of interest are noted. Thomas was born 28 years after Sarah, the oldest child. Sarah was already the mother of two when her youngest brother arrived. Thomas was the father of only one child. His wife Harriet died five days after the birth of their only daughter, also named Harriet. However, this one child survived the loss of her mother and herself became the mother of ten. Being the last descendant of John and Letitia did not diminish the contributions made by these ten. Like the descendants of the older siblings, the children and grandchildren of Harriet Pickens McMurry have distinguished themselves in many professions. The firstborn, Thomas McMurry collected much of the early Pickens history which was incorporated into the John Pickens Family by Nellie Pickens Anderson.

Data concerning the family of Thomas and Harriet McBath Pickens is found on pages 223 through 228. The updated material begins with data to be added to page 225.

APPENDIX

BERRY LINEAGE: Mr. G. Edward Berry of Knoxville, Tennessee sent the following information, March 4, 1979:

The first paragraph of the "Berry Lineage" on page 233 is incorrect that Joseph Berry married Mary Lawson White and was the first Berry settler in Tennessee. Josiah's father, now definitely proven, was Hugh Barry/Berry who died 1781 in Mecklenburg County, Virginia. This is proven by Will of Hugh Berry/Barry, Meckleburg, Virginia, Will Book 1, page 416, and by a Power of Attorney by Nancy Berry (Davis), Josiah's widow, and other Berry heirs of Knoxville, concerning their interests in the estate of Hugh Berry of Mecklenburg. This document is in the possession of Hugh N. Berry of Knoxville. Mrs. Anderson was one of the first to suspect the error in names.

That the Berrys are descendants of James White, founder of Knoxville, has been handed down many generations. The first written suggestion was in a 1923 obituary of a Berry descendant. The Whites and the Berrys were neighbors before coming to Tennessee. James White was a close friend and assisted Margaret Berry (Hugh of Meckleburg's widow) to administer Martha Berry's will in Knox County in 1805. Mr. Berry says that, where there is so much smoke as has been created by "handed down through generations" facts, there must be some fire. It just isn't proven.

McCALL, McAULEY, McCALLA

This family contributed greatly to its community and was much loved and respected. There is a relationship with the McCammon family, although this is not intended to treat of this relationship.

Several persons have contributed to the data below. Mr. Lamar McCall of Loudon, Tennessee gave the historical notes. Miss E. Reta McCall and Mrs. Nancy Winkle Snead remember them as relative and neighbor.

John (McAuley, McCalla) McCall came to America from Ireland as John McAuley, served in the Revolutionary War as John McCalla and died as John McCall in 1832 at the supposed age of 86. He is buried in the McCall family cemetery (a family plot off Dick Ford Land, near Chapman Highway in South Knox County.) He was married to Margaret McBeth who is buried in the Big Springs Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Blount County. Margaret was visiting her daughter in the Big Springs Community when she died. It was too far and rough to take her body back to Knox County for burial. Four children are known to have been born to this couple: Will, Andy, Nancy (Dickson) and Margaret (McBeth).

1 WILLIAM McCALL married Rachel Reagan, October 17, 1816. (Knox County Marriage Records) This couple went to Iowa and are said to have descendants still living there.

2 ANDREW McCALL married Polly McMurray, their six children are:

(a) WILLIAM HENRY McCALL married Rachel Sheddan. William died in 1889. He was a farmer. Rachel was a skillful tailor. She was born in 1830 and died in 1926. Both are buried in McCall's Cemetery. There were eight children:

John McCall (c 1746-1832) was among the first settlers of Knox County. Some of the land he entered remains in his family. (1980)

When John entered the land there was need to be self-sufficient, for there were no established shopping areas and neighbors were a distance away. Roads were few and badly maintained. John's family succeeded in establishing itself in this wilderness. His second son, Andrew, lived much as his father had. Andrew's son, William Henry McCall, continued in the tradition of the pioneer. Public improvements were made, but slowly, and the McCall farm was still isolated. When Thomas McCall became the manager of the farm, many neighbors were seeking modern machinery and new methods of planting. Soon they were to add wire fences, electricity, gasoline-driven machinery and other conveniences. Not Mr. Tom. He continued to maintain the ten rail, snake fence and the horse-drawn plow. He and his sisters, Clemmie, Demmie and Lizzie continued to farm in the tradition of their pioneer ancestors and were nearly self-sufficient within their own farm. They raised wheat and corn so as to provide for bread, bred and fattened live-stock for meat, cultivated a large garden for vegetables, maintained an orchard for fruit, kept sheep which were sheared for wool to be knitted into stockings and sweaters. Most all clothing was made at home, Miss Demmie and Mrs. McNutt being the chief seamstresses. Their methods and techniques of farming were primitive, but the results were rewarding. Financially they were independent and physically their needs were well supplied.

Although living far from roads and the communities that were building up, the McCalls did not isolate themselves from people. They were well informed as to current events and issues of the day. They belonged to the Presbyterian Church, but the nearest Presbyterian Church was some distance from their home, so they worshiped and worked in the Zion Lutheran Church. They gave fine support to this church. Mr. Tom taught a Men's Bible Class, Miss Demmie and Miss Clemmie taught various classes, sometimes the younger children, sometimes adult women. Miss Clemmie was, for a time, the church organist. They were prompt and regular in attendance.

This family also made a home for orphans and other children from time to time. One family of three was taken in when very young and remained with them until their adult years. In later life, a great-grandniece came to live with them. She was two and one-half years of age when her mother died and she came to live with the McCalls. She remained with them and cared for them in their old age and death.

In time of sickness they were the first neighbors to give aid. "Aunt Rachel" is said to have called her son from plowing to bring the horse so that she might ride to the bed of a neighbor suddenly taken ill. This would be a visit for practical physical aid, not one of emotional support alone. She would bathe and care for the sick one, prepare a meal if necessary and when chores were done she would return to her own household.

Theirs was a home for parties, too, young people were often invited to come for games and refreshments. They believed in fun and relaxation as well as in duty and hard labor. For all the activities engaged in these people were very humble in manner. With children they were attentive and accepting. A visit to their home always brought a treat of something good to eat, and a look at the grandfather clock, otherwise known only in verse. The thing best remembered was the frequent chuckling in their conversation. However strenuous their labors, life seemed to provide many amusing episodes.
